8,000 WOMEN JAM OPENING OF THIRD CONGRESS

Throng Overflows at First Session.

SESSION DETAILS.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY

More than 8,000 women attended the three sessions of the first day of the Third Annual Woman Congress at the Palmer house yesterday. The congress is sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and is nonpartisan in character.

A varied program which took eight months of preparation, covering such topics of national interest as social welfare, education, world peace, and problems of government, was presented by speakers in the grand ballroom of the hotel, while overflow crowds were gathered in the foyer and in the adjoining exhibition hall.

Greatest Crowd in Years.

No such crowd as this has stormed the doors of the hotel in years. It was almost too much to handle in the morning rush and many were disappointed at not being able to see the speakers, but there was only seating room for 2,000. The attendance at the noonday session, which had as its main feature an address by Lady Nancy Astor, radioed from the house of parliament in London, was estimated at 6,000.

After this session, some left, but the majority of those who had gained seats in the ballroom held on to them grimly for the afternoon session, where they heard Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, and other noted speakers. The places of those who had left were quickly taken. Seats had been provided in the outside halls for the overflow, and amplifiers carried the program to these rooms.

Hear Cordell Hull Tonight.

Club women representing twenty states, Canada, and Washington, D. C., have reserved tickets of admission to these meetings, which will continue today with three more sessions, ending with a dinner at which the guests will be addressed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, speaking by radio from Washington, and personally by other noted speakers. A program of music has been provided for interludes in the speaking.

During yesterday the women heard Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, dean of Stoneleigh college, Rye, N. H., former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, outline the problems in which women have shown the greatest interest; Mrs. Benjamin F. Langworthy, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. William J. Chalmers, and other speakers.

Broad View of Government.

In the evening the women were given a broad view of problems of government. The speakers were Miss Charl Williams, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Mrs. George B. Simmons, Missouri farm woman who has been dealing the New Dealers some hard blows; United States Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, and Justice George W. Maxey of the Supreme court of Pennsylvania.

Miss Williams, former Democratic committeewoman from Tennessee, pleaded for an open mind and tolerance in approaching the national political situation. Mrs. Simmons gave her views on the New Deal efforts to regiment the farmers, declaring that the conflict today was between individual liberty, the home and family, and some brand of socialism.

Main Issue Is Defined.

Justice Maxey made a scholarly presentation of the issues as he sees them. The battle for the constitution, he said, has just begun, and he defined the main issue as that between individual and economic liberalism and burocratic government.

Senator Barkley discussed the policy and philosophy of the present administration.

"All of us here tonight," Miss Williams told the congress, "have dedicated our political faith and hope to the principle that a democracy is th

Plane Crashes in Sea; Report Thirty Aboard

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 14 [Friday].—The British admiralty announced early today that the aircraft carrier Furious is proceeding at full speed from the Canary islands to rescue an air liner which crashed into the Atlantic.

There were 30 passengers in the plane, it is reported, when it crashed into the sea off Ponta Delgada, the Azores.

[The Madrid newspaper Ahora reported receiving a dispatch from the Canary islands which said the plane had been "found."]

Plane Unidentified.

Mystery surrounds the identity of the air liner. It was first given as a German plane, but German authorities denied operating any service in that area.

The Furious was stationed at Teneriffe, Canary islands, when it picked up an SOS from the plane just before the crash.

Report Finding Trace of Airliner.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The possibility that a trace of the airliner Ville de Buenos Aires, missing with six men aboard on a trans-Atlantic flight since Monday, has been found, was announced authoritatively today.

Oscar Regua, commercial manager for Air France, the international air line which operated the big seaplane, said:

"One of the cutters seeking the Ville de Buenos Aires reported by radio that it had found oil floating on the water 'more or less where the plane was last reported, about 600 miles northeast of Natal.'"

GLENCOE VOTES EASTERN TIME AFTER MARCH 1

SEC. SWANSON SERIOUSLY ILL WITH PLEURISY

(Picture on Back Page.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, who is confined in the Naval hospital suffering from a fractured rib received in a fall in the bathroom of his home last week, has developed pleurisy. A bulletin issued at the hospital said his condition was "serious but not hopeless" and that he had rallied slightly.

Mrs. Swanson summoned the 73 year old secretary's brother, H. C. Swanson, from Danville, Va., to the bedside. Secretary Swanson had shown consistent improvement since his injury Feb. 5 until this morning.

Attending physicians said pleurisy was not an unusual development in the fracture suffered by Swanson.

Electric Lights to Be Put in Mohammed's Tomb

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The tomb of Mohammed is going to have electric lights, says Electrical World. The magazine asserts the Nizam of Hyderabad has appropriated 50,000 rupees from his silver jubilee fund for lighting the tomb of the prophet at Medina. The mosque, near the hut where Mohammed died, was first built shortly after his death in 632.

12 Snowbound Movie Players Ill with Flu

Tahoe City, Cal., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Twelve motion picture players, snowbound with a company of 150 making a comedy near here, were ill tonight of influenza.

The 12 included Mary Astor, feature actress, and Elliott Nugent, a director of Columbia Pictures company. Dr. J. H. Bernard, who went by boat to the location 15 miles north of here, said Nugent was "quite ill."

He advised them to remain in bed until they recover. Dr. Bernard did not give the names of the others ill, but said Melvin Douglas, who is playing opposite Miss Astor in the comedy, was well.

Storm Maroons Company.

The company virtually was marooned by a snow storm which blocked high Sierra roads and disrupted telephone communications, but was reported to have supplies sufficient for several days.

Elsewhere in California influenza disrupted business and school activities. School authorities in San Francisco said class absences averaged 9,000 daily and at San Quentin prison 250 cases of influenza were reported.

As the three day storm spent its strength today one man was killed in a landslide on Mount Lowe which followed a heavy rain and last night's miniature tornado.

Movie Colony Cut Off.

Floods caused by the rain and melting snow cut off the Malibu beach homes of Hollywood's movie colony from the rest of the southern area. Driveways were under three feet of water and trafic was disrupted.

Rising waters of Los Gatos creek on the San Francisco peninsula trapped Charles Brandon, a gardener, in his cave home in a 75 foot cliff. Two youths who escaped the Auburn jail were trapped by 10 feet of snow in a Sierra Nevada mine.

The British steamer Trelissick sent a message she was in distress in stormy seas 240 miles off the Oregon coast, and a coast guard cutter was sent to her assistance.

Zeigler to Pay Only First 4 Firemen Getting to Blaze

Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The Zeigler fire department is being operated on a pay as you go basis. The city council has selected 12 men to fight fires, only four of whom will be paid for their services. The first four arriving at a fire will receive $3 each for their work.

GAS EXPLOSION INJURES 15 AND WRECKS PLANT

A terrific blast yesterday afternoon tore away more than half of the four story hydrogen gas manufacturing plant of Swift & Co. in the stockyards, killing three men and causing severe injuries to 15 others. One man was missing last night and it is believed his body is buried in the wreckage of the building.

The known dead were Walter Erickson, 48 years old, 1753 North Sawyer avenue; Daniel McLean, 57 years old, 2916 Ellis avenue, and Michael Butrimas, 38 years old, 2448 West 42d street. Butrimas died shortly before midnight in the Evangelical Deaconess hospital.

The man missing is William Blake, 243 Swan street, a foreman in the plant. Workers using acetylene torches, winches, and a steam shovel were striving last night to clear away the débris and extricate his body and that of McLean, which was in sight, but pinned under huge beams weighing tons.

Three Others Seriously Injured.

Three others of the injured were in hospitals and their condition was regarded as serious. They are: George Ackerman, 41 years old, 6717 Dorchester avenue; Jacob Lemke, 45 years old, 3644 South Hamilton avenue, and Frank Tekavic, 35 years old, 2004 West 23d place. Ackerman is in the Evangelical Deaconess hospital and the other two are in the Wesley Memorial hospital.

Henry Schnitzer, 43 years old, 1752 West Garfield boulevard, a real estate salesman, was cut by flying glass hurled by the explosion and was taken to the South Town hospital before being allowed to go to his home. The remaining eleven who were hurt were treated in the Swift & Co. emergency hospital.

The blast was heard for a distance of three miles. The gas manufacturing plant is west of the main buildings of the packing company and immediately in the rear of the saloon of Maurice Sullivan, 4145 South Ashland avenue. The explosion tore out the front and rear doors of the Sullivan place and carried tables and chairs out into Ashland avenue. Schnitzer was seated in this place.

Blast Causes $125,000 Damage.

Windows in other buildings along Ashland avenue and in the plants of Wilson & Co. and Darling & Co., nearby, were shattered. It was estimated that the loss to the Swift plant would be in excess of $100,000 and that the other structures were damaged to the extent of $25,000.

The exact cause of the explosion was not determined. The favorite theory was that hydrogen, which is odorless, had escaped from pipes leading from the manufacturing units to storage tanks on the roof. The gas, in contact with the open air, is highly explosive and a spark from a wire or from a heelplate striking on the floor would be sufficient to set it off, it was said.

Ackerman, who was superintendent of the plant, said at the hospital that he and Henry McGowan, a workman, had heard a sizzling noise on the fourth floor, apparently due to the escaping gas, and had gone up to investigate it. Just as they reached the vicinity the explosion occurred. By good fortune they were in the eastern part and were not carried down with the débris from the western half—the portion completely wrecked.

Walls Crush Erickson.

Erickson was not an employé of Swift & Co. He was working on a construction job at the Wilson plant and had stepped near the gas plant to pick up a plank when the walls crashed down on him.

Much damage was done to telephone and light wires along Ashland avenue and crews were busy with repairs last night. More than 100 police were on duty at the scene last night.

Swift & Co. manufactures hydrogen for use in soaps and other products.

The blast was the second one that caused death in Chicago within a 24 hour period. The other occurred late Wednesday night in a sewer tunnel under construction at 38th street and California avenue. Three men were killed.

Whose Baby? the Doctor's? or the Girl's?

Miss Margaret Mann's claim that she is the mother of a 3 year old boy and her demand that she be given possession of him will come to a showdown in court this morning.

Miss Mann is 24 years old. Her home is at 1102 Church street, Evanston. She says she has ample proof that the child is Reginald Arthur Mann. He was born to her, she says, in St. Vincent's orphanage in Chicago on May 19, 1932.

Physician Claims Child.

That does not agree with the story told by Dr. Gordon Mordoff, a physician of 1721 Highland avenue, Wilmette, who has the child. Dr. Mordoff contends that the boy was born to his wife, Madge, in Minneapolis, and that he is the father. The child's name, says Dr. Mordoff, is Gordon Mordoff III. Mrs. Mordoff died last Monday.

On Wednesday Miss Mann got a warant for the arrest of Dr. Mordoff, charging him with kidnaping the boy. The Wilmette police took the child from Dr. Mordoff, placed him in the hands of the young woman who claims to be his mother, and held the doctor until he furnished bonds of $1,000.

Court Grants Writ.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Mordoff obtained from Judge Rudolph Desort of the Superior court a writ of attachment declaring little Gordon-Reginald a ward of the court and ordering that he be brought before the bench at 9 a. m. today.

The writ was served on Miss Mann at the home of her brother, Raymond J. Mann, 960 Division street, Highland Park. Deputy Sherif Earl Bartman took charge of the boy and returned him to Dr. Mordoff for safekeeping.

This did not greatly perturb Miss Mann, an attractive redhead with blue eyes, who is obviously sincere in her belief and seemingly without any ulterior motive in seeking the child.

Girl Vows Devotion to Boy.

"God will see that right is done," she said. "I will have my baby back. It is unpleasant to call attention to the past, but I accept all the penalties just so I get little Reggy back. I hope that no one will believe I ever deserted him for a single minute. I never did that. Every hour of my life since he was born I have devoted all my energies, all my thought, to him."

She called attention to the fact that the records at St. Vincent's show that the boy Reginald Arthur was born to her in 1932.

"He was not strong," the young woman continued, "and he and I stayed in the hospital two months. Then I took him to my mother's home. When he was about six weeks old I saw an advertisment inserted in a newspaper by Mrs. Mordoff and stating that she would take a baby to board. I let her have Reginald and for a year I paid her $5 a week board.

Child Brought for Visits.

"She was crazy about the little fellow and at the end of the year she told me she would keep him free. 'It has made my home life so much more pleasant,' she told me. Part of our agreement was that I would not come to her home. But twice a week, as regularly as the days passed, Mrs. Mordoff brought him to my mother's home so that I could see him.

"That continued until about Thanksgiving, when Mrs. Mordoff became ill and went to a hospital. Only once, up till then, had I been to the doctor's house. That was about Christmas time in 1933. Little Reggy—we called him Sonny Boy, the doctor's wife and I—had pneumonia. There was a nurse, Miss Edna Ode, there,

PARIS DISBANDS ROYALIST UNITS TO END VIOLENCE

Leader of Socialists Beaten on Street.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Barbarism imported into French political life from Fascist countries touched a high point today in a savage attack on Leon Blum, Socialist party leader, by a gang of young royalists. Mme. Monnet, wife of Georges Monnet, a leftist member of the chamber of deputies, was also beaten when she attempted to escape from the auto in which Blum was riding.

Culminating a long series of political crimes of violence, the incident aroused nation-wide reaction against the "castor oil" spirit. This reaction took tangible form tonight when the cabinet of Albert Sarraut, after an emergency meeting, ordered the suppression of three militant royalist organizations—the Action Française, Camelots du Roi [King's Henchmen] and the Royalist Students' association. These are the first political groups to be dissolved under the recently enacted law against extremist leagues.

Raid Royalist Offices.

Simultaneously police descended on royalist headquarters and confiscated a number of documents. Authorities are studying these documents to determine if they contain evidence justifying the arrest of royalist leaders on some charge or other. Warants charging incitement to assassination already have been issued against Charles Maurras, co-editor with Leon Daudet of the royalist newspaper, Action Française, and the business manager of that paper. These men will not be taken into custody, however, unless graver charges are brought against them.

The attack on Blum occurred as he was riding home from the chamber with Monnet and his wife. The automobile had to slow down in front of the war ministry on account of a crowd massed in the street for the funeral of Jacques Bainville, the royalist historian. The Socialist leader was recognized and a gang of about 50 young royalists dashed at the car, smashing its windows with canes and blackjacks.

Struck by Blackjacks.

Blum was struck by blackjacks and badly cut about the head by flying glass. A small artery in his neck was severed. Mme. Monnet jumped out of the car and was struck. A handful of police, lashing into the mob with clubs, fought their way to the auto and rescued Blum.

The Socialist leader was rushed to the first doorway on the street, but the concierge at the sight of his blood covered face, with characteristic French prudence, slammed the door on him, so he had to be hustled farther down the street, pursued by the mob all the time. After treatment at a hospital he was able to walk home.

Paris at a late hour was nervous because of reports of a projected Socialist street demonstration. The headquarters of Action Française were being protected by heavy police guards.

Dramatic Session in Chamber.

The cabinet meeting followed a dramatic session of the chamber of deputies in which all but a handful of extreme right wing deputies joined in denouncing the new spirit of violence and brutality which is beginning to characterize French political life. There was general agreement that vigorous measures must be taken immediately to keep France from following the road of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy.

Premier Sarraut was wildly applauded when in the course of a vigorous speech he said:

"The government will not tolerate a handful of malefactors imposing by violence its will on the vast majority of law abiding citizens."

Urges Check on Violence.

Edouard Herriot, former premier, made one of his emotional speeches, invoking the personal danger to all republican politicians unless the mounting wave of violence is checked. This made a great impression on the deputies, who since the Stavisky riots of Feb. 6, 1934, have been more and more uneasy about their personal safety.

All this blood and thunder oratory must be taken with a pinch of salt in view of the universal love of politicians, especially the French, of dramatizing their own persons posing as heroes. Actually, it does not appear that the French republic is facing any immediate crisis, and part of the real significance of the affair seems to be in the strong public reaction against the new "dynamism" in politics.

French Are Aroused.

The attack on Blum particularly aroused the average Frenchman because to him it was so reminiscent of the Italian Black Shirts with their castor oil and the Nazis with their bloodless persecution of Jews. This kind of thing is more revolting to the French than the animal ferocity of a revolutionary mob.

The same mixture of pettiness and cruelty are evident in all the recent instances of political violence. There is the case of Eugene Frot, former minister of interior, who is rightly or wrongly blamed for the Place de la Concorde massacre. Comrades of the Stavisky riot victims often have sworn to shoot him down, but no one has ever tried it. They just throw a bucket of blood on him, punch him in the nose and run, or spit in his face and tear up his robe when he appears at the palais de justice to plead a case. The same thing applies to other members of the Edouard Daladier cabinet who have been victims of similar attacks.

Another typical incident was the mutilation of the statue of Aristide Briand by young nationalists who disapproved of his policies.

Whip Up Students' Anger.

In the same spirit are the recent student disturbances in the Latin quarter which have led to an ugly situation—the closing down of the law faculty of the University of Paris is demanded by professors now, following the resignation of Dean Allix, who made the mistake of calling in the police to break up a student demonstration and by accident got hit in the face himself by an overzealous police officer during the proceeding.

All this is because the royalist chiefs have whipped up the anger of the students against Prof. Gaston Jeze, adviser to the Ethiopian delegation before the league of nations. The ostensible motive for the demonstrations against Jeze is that he betrayed France by helping Ethiopia. However, the enthusiastic ferocity with which the students have carried out the persecution of Jeze is in the avowed hope of making him resign his chair largely because of his notorious severity at examination time.

COLLEGE OUSTS DR. ROBERTS WHO AIDED SINCLAIR

Redlands, Cal., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Climaxing the controversy that followed his campaigning for Upton Sinclair when the former Socialist was a gubernatorial candidate, Dr. W. H. Roberts, professor of philosophy at Redlands university, was released yesterday by college authorities. Incompatibility was given as the reason for his dismissal.

Dr. Roberts was born in Burma to missionary parents, was graduated from the University of Rochester, and acquired his master's degree at Columbia. He became a doctor of philosophy at Northwestern and also studied at University of Chicago, Newton Theological seminary, Stanford university, and the University of California.

Patron Shot by Bartender in Dispute Over 55 Cents

LEIBOWITZ SEES HAUPTMANN IN PRISON; PLEASED

Asserts Slayer Broke and "Cried Like Baby."

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Bruno Richard Hauptmann broke down and "cried like a baby" this afternoon in a hysterical death house interview with Samuel Leibowitz, noted criminal lawyer, reported to have received a $10,000 retainer from socially prominent Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean. Neither Leibowitz nor Bruno's wife, Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, who was present at the dramatic meeting, would reveal if Hauptmann had confessed.

That Leibowitz's purpose in talking to Hauptmann on the first anniversary of his conviction in Flemington was to seek to obtain the "true story" was frankly reiterated by the grim visaged New York attorney. Only a week ago he conferred with Gov. Harold G. Hoffman on the subject. Last Sunday, he admitted today, he visited Mrs. McLean for a similar purpose. Meanwhile the matronly heiress and owner of the famous Hope diamond also held a long conference with the New Jersey governor at her estate near Washington, D. C.

Calls Interview "Satisfactory."

When Mrs. Hauptmann, smiling, and Leibowitz, solemn and tense, stepped back into the reception room of the state prison the lawyer held up his hands for silence.

"This is all I am to say," he began in a grave voice. "I've just had a very satisfactory interview with Bruno in the presence of Mrs. Hauptmann and he broke down and cried like a child. It was very gratifying. I'm coming to see him again on Sunday."

Swiftly Leibowitz whispered a word to Hauptmann's wife and walked out of the prison. As the iron doors swung open, a reporter shouted, "Mr. Leibowitz, did Hauptmann confess?"

"I have no comment," Leibowitz retorted.

"Did he alter his story in any way?"

"I have told you the interview was gratifying," Leibowitz replied.

Wife Refuses to Talk.

Mrs. Hauptmann, asked the same question, smiled wanly and refused to answer.

Leibowitz, who yesterday issued a prepared statement to the effect that he would take Hauptmann's case only on condition that the convicted murderer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., would "tell the truth," implied as he left the jail that he still hadn't made up his mind. He wouldn't reply, when asked the definite question, if he now considered himself Bruno's lawyer. Instead, he made a long announcement regarding Mrs. McLean's connection with his retention.

Although Leibowitz did not refer to the $104,000 Lindbergh ransom hoax perpetrated on the Washington society woman by Gaston B. Means, federal sleuth of the Harding administration, it was believed that this fraud contributed to Mrs. McLean's desire to see the crime entirely solved.

DROPS SUICIDE CHARGE.

Judge George B. Weiss in the Women's court dismissed a disorderly conduct charge yesterday against Mrs. Grace Grimes, 27 years old, 1630 Warren avenue, who attempted to commit suicide in her home Wednesday.

LION DIES IN GRIEF FOR HEN

Leo, the Lion, and the Little Red Hen.

Roars All Night

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—A lion in Frank Buck's private zoo at Massapequa, died today of a broken heart at being separated from a little red hen which had been his constant companion for three months, T. A. Loveland, manager of the zoo, swears.

An agent for the S. P. C. A. visited the zoo yesterday and ordered the separation. Loveland said Leo roared mournfully all night long and this morning he breathed his last.

Inspector G. W. Howard of the S. P. C. A., who ordered the separation, said tonight he had not been advised of Leo's demise. He pointed out the lion was rather old, anyway.

WHOSE BABY? THE DOCTOR'S? OR THE GIRL'S?

Face Showdown Today at Court Hearing.

Says Doctor Was Told "Truth."

"Mrs. Mordoff told the doctor then that I was the mother of the boy. He refused to listen and he threatened to choke the nurse when she continued to urge that Sonny Boy go to the hospital."

According to Miss Mann, it was possible Mrs. Mordoff had in the beginning represented to her husband that the boy was their child.

"Last summer," she said, "when Mrs. Mordoff sued for separate maintenance she asked me to join in a declaration that the baby was hers. I refused absolutely to do that. I did keep silent. And I observed Mrs. Mordoff's wishes about not going to her home after she became ill. Last Tuesday I learned of her death. Her brother, John P. Quinn of 8836 Euclid avenue, who knew I was the mother, called me and told me she had passed away.

Tells of Clash with Doctor.

"But when I went to see Dr. Mordoff he insisted he had never seen me before and didn't know what I was talking about. But he knew me and I don't see how he could have forgotten his wife telling him in front of witnesses more than two years ago that Sonny Boy is mine. I have a written statement from a police sergeant who heard her make the statement, and Mr. Quinn will testify that I am the mother."

The statements of Miss Mann made no impression on the claimant to fatherhood.

"Certainly the boy is mine," declared Dr. Mordoff. "My wife brought him back from Minneapolis when he was only five weeks old. He looks like me and he has a birthmark on the left side of his cheek. This mark is identical with one on the left cheek of my son, Gordon Mordoff Jr., who is now 20 years old."

The doctor was asked why he had given the name Gordon to two sons.

"That is a matter of family pride," he said. "When my elder son was born I destined him for the medical profession. Since 1760 some member of the family has been a medical man. But he refused to be a doctor and when my younger son was born I called him Gordon III, so that when he became a physician he will have the prestige of my name behind him."

Mrs. Mordoff's suit for separate maintenance was still pending at the time of her death. She had been awarded custody of the two Gordons and of an adopted daughter, Margaret Mary, 16 years old. Judge Desort took jurisdiction of the parentage dispute when Attorney Harry X. Cole, representing the doctor in his marital disagreement, pointed out that Gordon III. was legally a ward of the court.

MRS. WILLETT'S ATTORNEY WINS $11,750 FEE SUIT

A jury before Judge John Preihs of Pana, sitting in Superior court here, yesterday awarded Attorney Henry L. Balaban a judgment of $11,750 against Mrs. Grace Williamson Willett, divorced wife of Howard L. Willett, head of the trucking concern bearing his name. The sum represented the full amount sought by the attorney in his suit to collect fees for legal services to Mrs. Willett from October to December, 1933.

The verdict upheld a default judgment of $11,750 which Attorney Balaban won against Mrs. Willett last June. The default judgment was set aside before the beginning of the jury trial when Mrs. Willett informed the court that she had acted as her own lawyer in the first suit and had been unable to protect her interests because of her lack of knowledge of legal procedure. Yesterday she was the last witness for herself. The jury deliberated less than an hour before bringing in its verdict.

Mrs. Willett also is defendant in a $50,000 suit filed by Attorney Bennison F. Bartel who seeks to collect fees for legal services from January, 1932, to January, 1934.

CHINA CLIPPER OFF TO PACIFIC ISLANDS AFTER 6 WEEK DELAY

Alameda, Cal., Feb. 13.—(AP)—The China Clipper seaplane took off for Honolulu late today in resumption of air mail and express service on the 8,000 mile route to Manila.

Capt. Edwin C. Musick was at the controls. Trans-Pacific service was interrupted during the holiday season while the China and Philippine Clippers underwent reconditioning.

Besides the crew of seven, the plane carried two passengers, Lewis McCarty, design engineer of the Baltimore factory which built the plane, and Raymond P. Quick of Washington, D. C., department of commerce engineering inspector.

SHOT THREE TIMES IN FIGHT.

Robert Burrell, 25 years old, colored, 9029 Green Bay avenue, was shot three times in the chest last night after a quarrel in an alley behind 9002 Green Bay avenue. Police sought Edon Stone, 30 years old, colored, of 3348 East 91st street.

BEQUEST TO SPUR SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH AT N.U.

Deering's 7 Million Gift Cheers Dr. Scott.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, sat yesterday in the pleasant position of a man who has just been given $7,000,000 and is planning what to do with it. Dr. Scott also told, in a general way, how he and the university trustees expect to handle the money in these days of threatened printing press money, that they may be assured of going to their strongbox in the future and find that it still contains dollars, not cigar coupons.

The $7,000,000 came to Northwestern as an unrestricted bequest in the will of Roger Deering, member of a family from which the university has had numerous benefactions in the past. Mr. Deering died on Feb. 2 in Albuquerque, N. M. Dr. Scott had announced previously that the bequest will be added to the university endowment and used for educational purposes, and not for building.

Social Science Expansion Seen.

The projected use of the added income can be summed up in two words—social sciences. First, however, Dr. Scott said something which should bring cheer to the whole personnel of Northwestern.

"You know we had to cut our budget a million dollars a year in 1932," he said. "Now we can restore some of those reductions."

Naturally, he pointed out, the Deering bequest has not been earmarked for rigidly specific uses, nor will it be so earmarked. But Northwestern and every other great university, he said, will find its greatest field of expansion in research and instruction in the social sciences. It is here, Dr. Scott said, that the demand of modern students for instruction is increasing most rapidly.

Advances Not Equal.

"The 86 years of Northwestern's life," said Dr. Scott, "just about span the period of our conquest of the controls of nature. This tremendous progress in the natural sciences has not been matched by similar progress in the social sciences, the controls of society.

"Too often, unfortunately, the tendency of the last half century has been to regard the social scientist as a long haired crank.

"Our great social problems today are in the city. They are largely caused by the city. The social scientist must join in the life of the metropolis if he is to understand and solve its problems."

Building Gifts Acceptable.

While none of the Deering bequest is to be used for buildings, it nevertheless means that the university will be able to accept gifts of funds to erect new buildings, Dr. Scott said. A month ago, he asserted, had the university received the offer of a new building the trustees probably would have had to refuse the offer for lack of assured income to operate the building.

Northwestern university has lived through other threats to a stable currency, Dr. Scott pointed out, in explaining why he feels that its endowment will be able to ride through inflationary storms. He said that today the assets of the university, with buildings figured at their present value, exceed the total of all the benefactions received since the school was founded in 1850.

The institution has always been a large holder of real estate, and its security portfolio has always included a substantial amount of stock equities to balance bonds and mortgages which would be impaired in value or destroyed by inflation, President Scott said.

OFFICIAL OF WALTON LEAGUE SEEKS FOOD FOR STARVING BIRDS

Walter Kennicott, an official of the Izaak Walton league of Chicago, said yesterday that birds are facing starvation because the recent heavy snows have cut off their food supplies. He urged householders to save crumbs and scraps of food for feeding birds, rabbits, and other small animals.

Mrs. Herbert J. McEuen, 313 North Menard avenue, reported yesterday that she saw a scarlet tanager late Wednesday near her home, and recognized its song. Several other Chicago residents reported seeing red tufted cardinals, and from Flossmoor came news that two bluejays were disporting themselves in the suburb's snow.

Naturalists said it is not unlikely that cardinals and bluejays should be seen at this time of the year, but declared the presence of a scarlet tanager is unusual.

Small bands of ducks, one of them in the Chicago river just east of the Michigan avenue bridge, surprised observers yesterday, but Floyd S. Young, director of the Lincoln park zoo, explained that the birds breed in the park and many of them winter here.

SURETY CONCERNS SUE TWO FORMER OFFICIALS OF CITY

Suits against Charles S. Peterson, former city treasurer under a Republican mayor, and Earl G. Bingham, chief cashier in the treasurer's office during the same period, were filed in the Superior court yesterday by bonding companies who paid the city $36,020 in 1931 to compensate for a shortage in funds.

As exhibits in the case photostatic copies of 14 withdrawal slips accounting for the entire sum at issue and signed by Bingham were attached to the complaint.

FOUR MONTANA CITIES ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKES

Helena, Mont., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Earthquakes struck terror in several Montana cities tonight as an added hardship to the state's longest cold wave and heaviest snowfall in years.

A series of short, sharp quakes shocked Helena and Butte, Missoula, and Livingston felt light tremors. It is nearly 250 miles from Livingston to Missoula. No damage was reported.

100 FIGHT DRIFTS IN FUTILE TRY TO SAVE WOMAN

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. James Donaldson, 77, died today as 100 volunteer workers battled to open a road from Polo, Ill., to her farm home, 3 miles northeast of the town.

The crew broke through the last drifts at 3 p. m., an hour and a half after Mrs. Donaldson had died.

A Stephenson county highway crew opened the highway from Orangeville, Ill., to Freeport in time to rush J. Paul Gnagey, Orangeville High school principal, to a Freeport hospital. He was stricken with appendicitis this morning while Orangeville's only physician, Dr. L. Rockey, was stranded in Freeport.

TRAFIC SNARLED BY DAY OF SNOW, SLEET AND RAIN

Warmer Weather Adds Highway Hazards.

Snow, sleet, rain, fog, and an unexpected rise in temperature brought Chicago such an extraordinary set of weather conditions yesterday that Forecaster C. A. Donnel abandoned guarded phrases and declared the situation to be "a thoroughgoing mess."

That described the condition of most Chicago streets and the highways of Illinois and adjoining states, which were slushy, snowy, and icy—hazardous for all automobile travel.

The city and park district put 3,900 Works Progress administration laborers to shoveling snow after a fall of 2½ inches during the day, and the surface lines and bus company had 1,000 more men clearing the streets. Hundreds of other workmen fought drifts on the major highways.

Temperature Rises to 32.

Last evening the temperature rose to 32 degrees, the highest mark since early last Saturday, and a jump from 17 degrees at 8 p. m. Wednesday. For today Forecaster Donnel expects another temperature drop, with strong north to northwest winds and some snow. Tomorrow, he said, will probably be fair and cold.

All forms of transportation were crippled yesterday as the early morning snow was followed by sleet, rain and then fog. Surface cars, buses and elevated trains had difficulty maintaining schedules over glassy streets and rails. Many railroad trains were late, especially those from the northwest, which had to buck snowdrifts.

Planes Stay on Ground.

Nearly all airline flights were canceled during the day. Only one plane arrived at the Chicago airport, a Transcontinental and Western Air Douglas DC-2, carrying twelve passengers from Kansas City. With a ceiling of only 400 feet and visibility of half a mile, Pilot Wayne Williams brought the ship in on the department of commerce radio beam, and landed "blind" by using the new localizer beam at the airport.

A United Airlines plane piloted by Jack Knight left for the west at 1 p. m., the only ship of thirteen scheduled afternoon departures.

Rural communities and the state highway department looked with alarm at the prospect of more snow. In northwestern Illinois a new storm brought towering drifts, blocking many roads near Rockford and Dixon. Grant highway to Chicago was barricaded east of Belvidere to keep off motorists.

Milwaukee Almost Cut Off.

Milwaukee, which got more than 5 inches of snow early yesterday, was almost marooned by snowdrifts.

Waukegan reported U. S. highway 41 closed and Illinois 42, the Sheridan road route, passable only to Zion. Several towns in Lake county were snowbound and running short of fuel and food supplies.

Highway crews feared the coming of more snow because most of their plows are of the pusher type, and these have been pushing drifts to the roadside for so long that in many cases only a narrow trench remains as the road. More snow has no place to be pushed, it was explained.

Railroad officials in Chicago reported yesterday that the prolonged cold spell has boosted passenger trafic to southern and southwest resorts to the highest mark since 1931.

100 CONVICTS SEE PIG DIE TO TEST GAS EXECUTION

Canon City, Colo., Feb. 13.—(AP)—A hundred grim visaged convicts watched a tiny puff of white smoke kill a hog today in a "preview" of a prison execution.

The spectators were silent as to their reactions, but the man who will enter the death chamber to die tomorrow night jested.

"Why didn't you let me in on the show?" asked squat, swarthy Otis McDaniels, 30, convicted killer of two men.

Pressed closely against windows in the squat little death house, the group invited to witness the test grew pale as they saw the pig die in 10 seconds after the tiny column of "smoke" curled upward.

"I would like to have seen it," McDaniels told guards. "The sooner it is over the better. It can't be too quick."

ROPER CITES TWO AIDS FOR BARING REPORT ON SHIPS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Two commerce department aids were cited for insubordination today for making public without authorization a report setting forth insufficient safeguards on American ships.

Malcolm Kerlin, assistant to Secretary Roper, said Frederick L. Adams, chief investigator, and Commander H. McCoy Jones, senior navigation officer of the bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection, have been asked to explain why a short time ago at a meeting of the bureau's supervising inspectors a copy of the sea safety report was sent to newspaper offices without its going through the department's usual publicity channels.

Saloon Owner Shoots Customer in Quarrel

Peter Creig, 31 years old, 3138 Normal avenue, was shot in the left shoulder last night by Michael Zacker, 42 years old, proprietor of a saloon at 3437 South Union avenue. The two men quarreled over payment for drinks consumed in the tavern by Creig and his wife.

ART TEACHER HIT BY AUTOMOBILE DIES OF INJURIES

Jesse Gray, 59 years old, 4902 North Seeley avenue, a teacher in the Green Briar Art school, California and Peterson avenues, died yesterday from injuries suffered on Feb. 5 when he was struck at Western and Winnemac avenues by an automobile driven by John Holt, 2063 Cullom avenue.

Thaddeus Johnson, 50 years old, 7550 Coles avenue, a captain of the Nickel Plate railroad police force, died in the Jackson Park hospital, yesterday of injuries incurred Jan. 29, when the automobile he was driving crashed into a 79th street surface lines car at Greenwood avenue.

Viggo Christensen, 45 years old, 3829 Southport avenue, a garbage truck helper, died last night in the Ravenswood hospital of injuries suffered on Jan. 18 when the truck crushed him against a wall in the rear of 4854 Broadway. The driver of the truck was Hans Larsen, 44 years old, 4614 Montana street.

George Strebel, 77 years old, 2814 Broadway, died yesterday supposedly from complications following injuries suffered on April 30, 1935, when struck by a taxicab at Broadway and Devon avenues.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 122 persons had been killed in Cook county automobile accidents since Jan. 1. During the same period 104 were killed and 1,776 injured within the city limits of Chicago.

AUTOPSY SHOWS GLASS IN HEART KILLED MOTHER

An autopsy performed yesterday on the body of Mrs. Emma Sparaco, 27 years old, who died in the County hospital Wednesday night, disclosed that her death was caused by a piece of glass embedded in her heart in September, 1934. The glass pierced Mrs. Sparaco's body as she jumped through a first floor window of her home in Des Plaines when the house caught fire from an exploding stove. Since then she and her husband and two children had lived at 1519 Mohawk street. Mrs. Sparaco entered the hospital Jan. 6, supposedly suffering from heart disease.

BRILLIANT SCENE MARKS START OF WOMAN CONGRESS

Lady Astor's Radio Talk Opens Session.

A scene of brilliance marked the opening session yesterday of the third annual Woman congress sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. More than 2,000 of the 6,000 women who attended the start of the congress were packed into the grand ballroom at the Palmer house, and the others sat in adjoining rooms which had been equipped with amplifiers.

In the ballroom the women, from 20 states and from Canada, sat in crowded tiers, filling every seat and standing densely against the side and back walls. At noon a mellow gong silenced their lively chatter and a moment later the strains of the Star Spangled Banner brought them to their feet singing.

This impromptu chorus was one of stirring effect. The women faced two great American flags draped over an eagle in the center of the stage. Organ music swelled the chorus to a mighty volume.

When this was stilled the voice of the Rev. John Evans, religious editor of THE TRIBUNE, was heard in invocation for divine guidance. Then the gavel held by Miss Ruth De Young, woman's editor of THE TRIBUNE and organizer of the congress, fell and the session began.

Welcomed by Col. McCormick.

Miss De Young introduced Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor of THE TRIBUNE, as the one who had made the congress possible. He extended formal greetings to the women and then spoke briefly on what the constitution means to them. Whenever he rises to speak these days, he remarked, he finds himself talking about the constitution, "its greatness and the improvements that have been made upon it."

"You ladies will realize when you reflect," he added, "that the constitution of the United States made no reference to women. In those days the rights of women, even on this enlightened continent, were few. In few of the states, if any, did they have the right to own property after their marriage.

Amendments Aid Women.

"The rights of women have been conferred upon them by acts of the legislatures. The right to own property was given by state legislatures. Laws of legislatures may be repealed. They can take away rights except for the constitution of the United States.

"The 14th amendment, which was passed primarily for the purpose of giving rights to the Negro race, has given rights to all of us. The rights of property given to women by statute are preserved by the 14th amendment. The right of suffrage is conveyed by the 19th amendment.

"Now you have all the rights of citizenship which the constitution can endow you with. How much that is, we don't know. That is what we have to find out and determine. Bear well in mind that whatever you have of freedom and of right is confined to the few pages upon which are written the constitution of the United States and its amendments."

Radio Prompt to the Minute.

Miss De Young next told of the arrangements by which the Columbia Broadcasting system was bringing the voice of Lady Nancy Astor to these rooms. The radio men had their instruments by the side of the platform and at 12:15 on the dot a humming and singing were heard from some far shore, which immediately turned to the voice from the house of parliament in London.

It came in rather stridently, but loudly, the clipped English sentences carrying to all parts of the halls. Lady Astor greeted Miss De Young and the members of the congress as the "new pioneers."

The question of peace and war, she said, is the greatest question in the world today and in determining it rightly the women must take the lead. She marked out a hard road, but one for practical politicians. The two great things that are needed in the world, she said, are justice and the police.

LADY ASTOR'S ADDRESS

"Women who strive to take their part in civic, national, and world affairs are the political pioneers of the twentieth century," said Lady Astor. "The men may look upon us as pirates, and I do not blame them, for they have ruled the seas so long that they have a perfect right to be suspicious of the newcomers.

"However, I believe the time will come when they will look upon us as life savers and not pirates.

"My great regret is that I cannot hear your speakers, nor have the chance of talking over with you the different questions which confront this old, but to us, new world.

The Question of War.

"Why is war the greatest question? There are two reasons. The first is because in the future it will involve the wholesale slaughter from the air of women and children as well as men. That is why the prevention of war anywhere and everywhere is especially a woman's crusade.

"The second reason why war is the greatest question is because it is increasingly difficult for any nation to insulate itself from its effects. Some nations may be able to keep out of the fighting for a little while. The United States is not unnaturally trying to do this. But neither you nor any other nation can insulate yourselves from the mental and economic effects of a general war.

War the Concern of All.

"Even if a great power could prevent trade with the belligerents, which I doubt greatly, it could not be indifferent to the results for itself of a great war.

"Some weeks ago that gallant leader of women, Mrs. Catt, and I agreed that war no longer could be treated as an affair for the belligerents alone; that it had become, whether we liked it or not, the concern of all nations, because all nations are vitally concerned to end it once and for all, and the way to end wars is to see that they never begin.

"Scientific development has given us neighbors whose problems are hard to understand—people of all breeds and colors, some with bad habits and some with better habits, some too backward, and some too forward.

Problems That Cause Conflict.

"Some of their problems are of their own making, but some of them spring from inherited prejudices, inherited and obsolete laws and boundaries, which they are bounding out of.

"One thing we have in common—our neighbors are as afraid in their hearts as we are of war, so the greatest cause we can all work for is the cause of peace.

"War is the greatest of all gangsters, and one cannot give undivided attention to work or play so long as the gangster is known to be around the corner.

The Roads to Peace.

"What is peace? A lot of women here, and probably in the United States also, think that peace can be obtained by wishing for peace, talking about peace, and by a strong desire to keep out of war. Unfortunately that is not enough. Peace is a result. It is the result of two things—justice first, and the policeman second. And those are the two things the world needs most today.

"If we had justice in the world, and if the nation with a grievance felt that while it could get justice by specific means it could get no more by going to war, there would be peace on earth.

"And, in the long run, there is no other way to peace than to reëstablish the reign of justice on earth for all. That is good christianity, as I see it, and I believe that christianity is the best cure for humanity's ills. The difficulty is that nations give it lip service, but rarely put it into practice.

Must Solve Own Problem.

"I cannot tell you what contribution you in the United States should or can make to the greatest of all causes. That is for you to work out for yourselves. All I plead for today is that you should think seriously and carefully about this problem, because if you do I am sure you will make a contribution which will be worthy of the United States and a blessing to her and to the world.

"Personally I believe that the leadership in this great task has got to be taken by the two great English speaking democracies, the United States and Great Britain, in both of which women have a great say.

"I am a politician, and I know that politicians in democratic countries cannot go ahead of the people. It is for the people to go ahead of the politicians and show them the way they want to be led.

"We women must go ahead of the politicians and build for generations unborn."

MRS. POOLE SPEAKS

Following Lady Astor's address the women applauded the unseen speaker. Then Miss De Young presented Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, dean of Stoneleigh college, Rye, N. H., former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, for the keynote speech of the congress. Mrs. Poole said:

"World progress is not all on the credit side. When you go ahead in certain lines you must give up something. At the present time we have physical welfare for the majority greater than it was 50 or 75 years ago. More people have comforts. We have lost with this the necessity for planning and overcoming physical difficulties. Modern machines do most things for us. We have the bad habit of wanting all that we see, the poison of living on the instalment plan, those with a $1 income living on $1.50 instead of 95 cents. This is one of the tragic losses of modern life.

Sense of Security Lost.

"We have also lost a sense of national and social security. It just isn't there. It can't be manufactured. Long ago, before shortcuts to everything, we were sure that if a man wanted it, there was work for him to do and that in his old age he would be cared for. Now, the sword hangs over every man and unemployment insurance will not take that anxiety from his heart.

"In education we have gains and losses. We have better schoolhouses and equipment. But people are talking about blind alleys. Children are not fitted for the life they must enter upon leaving school. We might have an annual survey of what the children would face economically when they get out of school. Today is the day of specialization and new avenues. If we start early enough along new avenues there will not be so many blind alleys.

The Price of Advance.

"In physical progress we have eliminated many of the dreadful diseases, but we have not gone so very far. There is an increasingly large mortality in nervous and heart diseases. With every advance we pay a terrible price.

"In political life we have not made the advances we should have made. We are so modernized we can not go back to the town meeting and the country store and talk things over and think things out. There is speaking everywhere, but not an oasis where one can go to think. There is a great deal of chaff in this wheat.

"We have noted one forward thing in political life. We have specialization in everything except politics. Any one can run for office who is a good vote getter. Under the Rockefeller Foundation and the Institute of Public Affairs we are going to select by contest thirty young people who will go to Washington to get a background of public affairs. We should have training in schools for leadership in public affairs.

"In progress for peace we have bigger and better bombs, poisoned gas, planes, and battleships, and bigger appropriations for war. I plead for a better understanding of the nations of Europe.

Real Peril in Europe.

We have about everything to give us a sense of security, so far as invasion goes. But it is not so in Europe. I believe with the late Frank Simonds that we will never have world peace until the nations that have are willing to share with the nations that have not. Every nation must have the key things for its welfare and good.

"All of these things represent a challenge to all of us, not to women alone, not to middle age alone, or to youth alone. There are three things which, if they were practiced, would take us far along the path of world progress. These are that the spirit of God reigns in our homes, that we have good health, and plenty of work."

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

The first speaker of the afternoon session was Mrs. Benjamin F. Langworthy, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. "What About the Modern Home?" was her topic.

The most vital problem facing the modern home is the saving from semi-despair of high school graduates and those at the next older level, Mrs. Langworthy said.

"They are discontented, frustrated and full of a sense of injustice," she said. "They cannot earn money for their own living; they cannot set up normal homes; many of them learn habits of idleness and cynicism while waiting for something to turn up."

The enrichment of the family program of social pleasure and the development of imagination and interest in things to be done about the home were suggested by Mrs. Langworthy as part of the program to make these young people feel their importance to the well being of the family. The teaching of honesty, health habits, harmony and courtesy, the cultivation of beauty, and regard for the law were outlined as the basic teachings of the home.

Dr. Cutter on Health.

That women are the natural guardians of the welfare and health of the family was stressed by the next speaker, Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the Northwestern university medical school. Upon them, he said, devolves the task of using simple lessons based on common sense and daily experiences to inculcate in their children the truth of health.

"We must recall that health is a personal business and that we alone can make enemies or friends of our bodies," he said.

A PLEA TO WOMEN

Henry Bentley of Cincinnati, chairman of the Cincinnati city charter committee, called upon women to devote their intelligence and enthusiasm to the problems of cleaning up local politics. He pointed out that efforts of women in Cincinnati have for the last ten years kept the old political organization "singing in a minor key the refrain of the late Rudyard Kipling's poem, 'The Female of the Species Is More Deadly Than the Male.'"

"If you women will bring into politics your abilities as home makers; if you will dedicate to the cause a portion of your leisure; if you will accept the responsibility and will use your power, political machines will crumble, the spoils system will fade away, government will partake of the spirit of social service and the ballot box will become a sacred altar," Mr. Bentley asserted.

He gave the confusion of political battles as the reason for the avoidance of politics by most women. After pointing out that the population, from the city up through the nation, has been divided vertically into two great political parties, Mr. Bentley said that "there is a good and a bad method of managing a city, but there is not a Democratic or a Republican method."

"It is because the orderly feminine mind sees the stupidity of electing dog catchers on a platform calling for a higher protective tarif that women so frequently withdraw their interest from all except national politics," he said.

"The women of Cincinnati have learned how to talk to their neighbors about city politics, and from this little beginning has developed their special system of political work. These women have been willing to work because they have seen the results in better government and their accomplishments have been gigantic."

Mrs. Chalmers Speaks.

The next speaker was Mrs. William J. Chalmers, founder of the Country Home for Convalescent Children near Wheaton. She discussed the work of the home in attempting to cure and restore to normal life crippled children. She stressed the fact that not only early recognition of tubercular-bone and disease of the joint conditions is necessary to recovery, but that expert convalescent care must be provided following surgical treatment or the child will soon revert to a diseased condition.

In their order of importance she listed infantile paralysis, tuberculosis of the bones and joints and pus infection in the bones as the most common causes for crippling children.

DR. FRANK ON SCHOOLS

The greatest contribution schools and colleges can make to the maintenance of democracy is the training of men and women for the responsibilities of leadership and the cultivation of popular understanding of the problems of the present day life, Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, told the congress.

"In the totalitarian states of Europe the schools have become mere functions of the state for training 'yes-men,'" he said. "Our national destiny needs the firm hand of guidance—one of straight thinking and clear action, but not one of force."

Asserting that the social welfare of the people is not "a special concern that can be farmed out to professional social workers or to the state," he added that "social welfare is the net result of the whole human venture," including the whole range of human endeavor.

Rich and Poor Desperate.

"Both the rich and the poor in America are desperate," he warned. "Confusion offers a small militant minority a chance to seize power. If desperation and confusion grow great enough, clever leadership of a minority, either under arms or exercising the power of subsidy, will be given the opportunity to institute either a communistic or a Fascist government."

Dr. Frank denied that schools or universities are attempting to propagandize any "isms," but stated that they must be given a chance to present an objective picture of all sides of the problem.

"Then the function of the school becomes one of teaching the art of weighing the evidence," he said.

"I trust my finest linens to American Family Flakes only"

says MRS. GEORGE L. PLAMONDON

Mrs. George Lawrence Plamondon, the former Florence Hoffman of Minneapolis, is one of Chicago's most charming and accomplished young matrons. The Plamondons are one of Chicago's oldest and best known families. Mrs. Plamondon's interests are her infant daughter Diane, her attractive home overlooking Lincoln Park, and her charity work, among which Arden Shore is her favorite.

CONSTANT washing of fine linens or clothes is far harder and more wearing than any service they may be put to—if harsh soaps are used.

That is why Mrs. Plamondon insists that American Family Flakes only be used when her exquisite linens are laundered.

And countless thousands of women have learned to trust everything to American Family Flakes. For these reasons:

Second, American Family Flakes provide the fastest washing with utmost safety to clothes.

Third, American Family Flakes leave the wash fresh and clean—with colored fabrics bright—and linens and white goods spotlessly white.

For ninety years American Family has demonstrated that it saves time, saves work and, most important, SAVES CLOTHES. That is why more Chicago women use American Family than any other brand.

You really can't afford to use cheap, harsh soaps because they wear out clothes all too soon, and because it requires more soap to do the job. Try American Family Flakes your next washday—and note the difference.

And for dishwashing, you'll find American Family Flakes unexcelled—and as good for your hands as the finest toilet soap.

ideal form of government. Our forefathers dedicated their lives to the establishment of this principle, and we have been reared in the traditions, opportunities, and liberties of a democracy. The greatest weapon we can bring to its defense is an open mind.

"I have been a member of the democratic national committee from my own state, Tennessee. I know that the reason political parties are not more effective in advancing the cause of good government is because it is extremely difficult to interest our best citizens in working in a political party, and assuming the responsibilities of office in the parties. There again we need open mindedness to realize that government functions through the modus operandi of the political parties."

MRS. SIMMONS' WARNING

A warning that the deep set faith of Americans in their freedom makes them all the more vulnerable to dictatorial schemes was sounded by Mrs. Simmons.

"Because for 160 years we have felt ourselves to be a free people, because we have taken our heritage of liberty for granted, there are too many who find themselves unable to believe that we can ever be anything but free, or that any person or group can take our liberty from us," she said. "These unconsciously play into the grasping hands of despotism, hastening the bitter day when a dictatorship will be an established fact.

"Since the advance of socialism must be adroit and underhanded if it is to succeed, we have every kind of wilful misrepresentation and of fine promise. Knowing the temper and tradition of our people, those whose subtle machinations are now undermining our system of government, are going ahead without apparent violence, and without conscience, and seeking the downfall of all we hold dear."

Always a Loyal Democrat.

Qualifying herself as the wife of a farmer, the mother of five daughters, and a worker at farm tasks for 23 years, Mrs. Simmons stated further that "my husband and I were brought up in families in which the southern kind of loyalty to the Democratic party was next to loyalty to family and to God.

"From the outset we have feared the farm relief plans of this administration, have signed no reduction contracts and have borrowed no money from the government for any purpose, once we were convinced that the hidden purpose of the AAA was the building of a partisan political machine financed with money taken from the bread and meat of the poor."

The agricultural administration's avowed purpose of saving the farmer camouflaged "the sinister facts of regimentation and of collectivism within the program," the speaker declared.

For Honesty and Hard Work.

"Why should we, the wives and mothers of this nation, think some alien abracadabra can set aside the good and safety of hard work and thrift and saving and management and simple honesty?" she questioned. "I want our children to learn to work hard and well so that they can feel the joy of capability and accomplishment.

"I want them sometimes to know the ecstasy of their second wind. I want them to have the freedom to which their father and I were born, the sense of the rightful possession of equal opportunity, and belief that heaven itself is the only limit to the ambition of a freeborn American citizen."

SEN. BARKLEY'S DEFENSE

As a spokesman for the New Deal, Senator Barkley reviewed the unprecedented conditions which faced the country when President Roosevelt took office and defended the steps taken by his administration to remedy them. He also recounted past situations in American history and past measures taken by the federal government as precedents for the current expansion of federal control.

After covering each major alphabetical enterprise of the government with figures as to the number of people benefited and total monies spent, Senator Barkley propounded:

"I challenge any man, regardless of politics, religion, or geography, to name any period in the nation's history when the confidence of the people was at a higher tide in the institution which we call the United States of America."

Before the depression, the speaker added, federal power by sanction of the courts had to be extended for the control of new phases of commerce, the creation and regulation of national banking institutions, the regulation of stockyards and of food and drugs and in the improvement of rivers, harbors, and highways. A farm loan system also was created 20 years ago to give farmers means of credit equal to that of industrial institutions, he set forth.

"The agencies of farm credit which had been set up two decades before, for the benefit of agriculture, had ceased to function entirely and for more than a year prior to the New Deal scarcely a loan had been made to the American farmer," Senator Barkley stated. "More than 500,000 American farms were in immediate danger of foreclosure because of collapse of agriculture had made it impossible for the owners to pay interest or reduce their indebtedness."

"Bank Confidence Restored."

Would critics undo the New Deal's restoration of American banks and confidence of the people in them? Senator Barkley asked after reviewing the government's $5,000 guaranty to depositors and asserting that "this renewed faith in your banking institutions has brought forth from hiding during the last two and one-half years nearly six billion dollars in increased deposits."

"Until the approach of the depression it had never been expected that the federal government would be called upon to indulge in wholesale relief to the people, but the mere fact that it had never been done offered no argument why it should not be done under the circumstances existing since 1929," he said. "Governors and mayors and other public officials came to Washington and laid before the President their helpless situation. We appropriated altogether, for work and for relief, in the neighborhood of $8,000,000,000.

"Always Some Waste."

"It would be foolish to deny that some of the enormous amount of money which it has been necessary to expend clung to fingers that did not deserve it, but this is always true to some extent in the expenditure of all public money. But could we deny relief and work to millions of our people because of the fear that in some cases it might go into unworthy hands?"

Minimizing the importance of the recent nullification decisions of the Supreme court, Senator Barkley pointed out that 20 acts of congress from 1920 to 1930 were held unconstitutional.

"The Supreme court itself did not denounce the purposes of this act [the NRA]," he said. "It merely decided that congress had no right to regulate the sale of a sick chicken on the markets of New York City."

JUSTICE MAXEY ON RIGHTS

Branding the New Deal as "merely a new name for an old folly," Justice Maxey termed the constitution a "citadel of human rights and a charter of economic liberalism."

"The American people must decide whether they will surrender this citadel and give up this charter, and hereafter depend for their individual security and their governmental guidance on those who shall happen to be intrusted with the vast powers of a totalitarian state of 125,000,000 human beings," he warned. "May they consider the problem well and not rush headlong into chaos.

"Our menace during the last few years has not been soil erosion, bad as that is, but the attempted erosion of the federal constitution. Between that attempt and its complete success the only bulwark has been the Supreme court of the United States.

"The battle over the constitution has not ended; it has just begun. The proposals to curb the power of the Supreme court and certain comments on recent decisions of that court indicate that there are persons now in authority who believe that the constitution and the Supreme court stand in the path of progress. To transfer to the central government power to regulate matters which are inherently for 'home rule is to throw our entire mechanism of government out of balance.

"A nation's greatest battles are fought within itself. Whatever the outward symbols of the fight, the contest in its essence is one of ideas. A nation's course for the long future sometimes rests on a single decision. Depressions so harrow the human mind as to make it receptive to the seed of strange economic cults.

Hungry Eyes Easily Dazzled.

"Eyes gaunt with want are easily dazzled by the oriflamme of promised security, and ears leading to a bewildered brain become receptive to spurious shibboleths.

"Americans believe that no legislation can make incompetence equal to skill, or indolence equal to industry, or convert theories instead of labor into wealth, and that the best panacea for want is work. Americans believe that the natural forces of recovery—if not obstructed by unwise legislation and hampering burocracy—will restore prosperity to this land, as these natural forces did after every previous depression.

"The way to a resumption of work is to banish fear, remove the shackles from business, and to give to capital, now shrinking back from investment, the spur of possible profit."

Notes of the Woman Congress

BY KAY HALL.

One of the men who braved the throng of women at the opening session of the Third Annual Woman Congress in the Palmer house yesterday was J. W. Barwell, 81 years old, founder of a feed business in Waukegan. His flowing white beard appeared to float in a sea of women.

"I recently made a bet that a woman will be on the United States Supreme court bench in 10 years," Mr. Barwell said. "That is what I think of the increasing importance of the sex and that is why I am here."

The attentive silence with which the audience listened to the direct broadcast from London by Lady Nancy Astor was broken by wondering laughter when Lady Astor, six hours ahead of Chicagoans in time, concluded with "Good night, everybody." Her audience was just beginning to think in terms of lunch.

"This great attendance at the Woman Congress shows that women are bent on clarifying their minds so that they may intelligently act on current problems," was the comment of Miss Katherine R. Williams of Milwaukee and Washington, D. C., president of the National Council of Catholic Women, as she looked over the crowd. She sat in a box with Mrs. Thomas P. Ryan of Minneapolis, treasurer of the council.

Twenty states, the District of Columbia and the province of Ontario, Canada, were represented in early registration at the congress. The states are: Illinois, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Texas, Oregon, New York, Arkansas, Iowa, Ohio, Mississippi, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Alabama, and Washington. Seven past presidents of the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs were among the 150 early arrivals from that state.

PAULIST CHORISTERS ENTERTAIN SESSION OF WOMAN CONGRESS

The noted Paulist choristers of Chicago, composed of 100 men and boys, took part last night in the program of the Woman Congress at the Palmer house.

Directed by the Rev. Eugene O'Malley, the choir first sang the joyous "Emitte Spiritum Tuum" by Schueky. This was followed by Brahm's "Cradle Song," "The Gypsy," by Zolotarieff, "Alleluia" by Father Finn, and "Kolyada," the finale of the opera "Christmas Night," by Rimsky-Korsakoff. The singers were gowned in white surplices and black cassocks with red trim.

An entertainment interlude at the afternoon session of the congress was given by Miss Ireene Wicker, the Singing Lady of radio, who explained to the audience the research and preparation necessary to entertaining children over the radio for 15 minutes daily.

ROBBERS' RUSE NETS $679 LOOT.

Two robbers posed as delivery men yesterday and gained entrance to the home of Mrs. Harry Sussman, 1355 Greenleaf avenue. They threatened her, searched the house, and escaped with $34, jewelry, and a fur coat valued at $655.

Ex-Atty. Gen. John Sargent Rests in Vermont Hospital

Burlington, Vt., Feb. 13.—(AP)—John G. Sargent of Ludlow, attorney general in the cabinet of former President Calvin Coolidge, was a patient at a hospital here tonight. Attendants said he was "tired."

CONSUL ORDERS RED CITIZENS TO QUIT MANCHUKUO

Russo-Japanese Fighting Called Imminent.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Feb. 14 [Friday].—A clash between Japanese forces supporting Manchukuans and Russians backing Outer Mongolians was believed imminent today in the wake of a new border clash, in which eight Japanese soldiers were killed.

Michael Slavitsky, soviet consul general at Harbin, Manchukuo, acting under instructions from Moscow, it is reported, has ordered the withdrawal of all Russians residing in Harbin to soviet territory.

Slavitsky requested all soviet citizens to present themselves at the consulate general with passports. Those refusing to return to Russia will be deprived of their passports and will not be given soviet protection, he announced.

The Japanese foreign office meanwhile instructed Ambassador Tamekichi Ohta at Moscow to refute soviet charges that Russian territory was invaded by Japanese - Manchukuan forces. Ohta was further instructed to tell Moscow that Japan is willing to have a mixed commission conduct an investigation of the border incident.

Avers War Planes Used.

TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Japanese military reports that Outer Mongolia, under the wing of soviet Russia, used bombing planes in the latest border clash with Manchukuan-Japenese troops added tenseness tonight to a situation already delicate.

Military reports from the border said the planes attempted to bomb a Japanese-Manchukuan column.

A Japanese officer and seven Japanese soldiers, general headquarters at Hsinking, capital of the Japanese sponsored state of Manchukuo, reported, were killed in the clash.

Battle in Disputed Area.

The encounter took place at Olahodka, which is in disputed territory. A Japanese-Manchukuan column had been sent to retake the post.

Japan's minister of war, Yoshiyuki Kawashima, expressed concern over what he called a huge soviet concentration of military power in the far east, close to Manchukuo's borders.

The war minister said in view of the situation in Manchukuo and North China "some reinforcement of Japanese forces seems necessary" in areas where there is international tension.

Soviet Claims Japs Invaders.

MOSCOW, Feb. 14 [Friday].—(AP)—Soviet dispatches from Ulan Bator [Urga], Outer Mongolia, said today that ten Japanese-Manchukuan troops were killed in Wednesday's border clash with Outer Mongolian forces.

The Japanese and Manchukuan troops, the report said, invaded Outer Mongolian territory, but were ejected after two fights near the Mongolian post of Bulun Dersu.

The invaders, the Ulan Bator dispatches reported, numbered over 500 and were accompanied by one airplane, several tanks, and six army trucks.

Body of 17-Story Plunge Victim Found Under Snow

A man registered under the name of Jay Fontainne, 45 years old, of Montreal jumped or fell to his death yesterday from the window of his room on the seventeenth floor of the Lawson Y. M. C. A. hotel at 30 West Chicago avenue. His body struck the sidewalk near the intersection of Chicago avenue and Dearborn street and was covered with snow before being discovered by a pedestrian. Fontainne, who has been here since Feb. 5 searching for employment, removed all identifying marks from his clothing before the fatal plunge.

She was graduated from the nursing school of Lake View hospital and has flown more than 100,000 miles with the airline. She and Mr. Benzinger met while he was making a business trip in a plane.

ASK CATHOLICS OF U. S. TO PRAY FOR MEXICAN CHURCH

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Mexican Catholic episcopate, in a letter sent today to the episcopates of the United States, England, Spain, and many other countries, appealed to Catholics outside of Mexico to pray for relief of their "brothers in Mexico who are living in a terrible and anguished situation."

The letter, signed by all archbishops and bishops—including Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, papal legate, living in exile in the United States—carefully avoided any suggestion of a wish for foreign intervention.

"We are especially thankful to you, the prelates of the United States, who have softened our sorrows by your prayers, by your generous offerings, and by letting the entire world know of the persecution which the faithful suffer in Mexico," the letter said.

Woman Wins Cicero Clerk Nomination by Three Votes

The official proclamation of votes cast in Cicero's primary last Tuesday showed yesterday that Ethel Stevens had been nominated for town clerk on the Taxpayers and Labor ticket. Police returns had shown John Roy Gardner the winner by seven votes, but the official canvass gave Miss Stevens the nomination by three votes.

U. S. BARS ROWS OF EUROPE FROM NAVAL PARLEY

French Seek High 'Trading Price' on German Issue.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(AP)—What were described as French efforts to link Europe's old political disputes to discussions of the four power naval conference met a sharp rebuff today from the United States.

This development threw the parley, trying for two months to reach an agreement replacing the expiring Washington and London naval treaties, into new uncertainty.

Norman H. Davis, head of the American delegation, warned the British that the conference must be limited to naval matters.

Great Britain had asked if the Americans would permit the discussion of Franco-German, Anglo-German, and Anglo-French questions along with the naval negotiations—only to receive a definite refusal.

Some observers felt this complication indicated a new danger for the success of the parley, inasmuch as the French apparently are resolved to obtain a high "trading price" if they give in on the touchy and to them politically dangerous German issue.

Britain has insisted that Germany be invited to London to participate in an agreement. France argues that such an invitation would be tantamount to recognition that the military clauses of the Versailles treaty are legally dead and tacit approval of the Anglo-German naval pact.

English Enthusiasm Wanes.

Americans are anxious to get on with the limitation discussions, but an English flush of enthusiasm for a partial battleship building holiday appeared to be passing as experts analyzed a proposal in which possible elements of danger were noted.

In some quarters it was felt an agreement for the British and the United States to build only two ships before 1942—a proposal the powers are studying—might be dangerously restrictive to the United States and tie her up closely to European naval armaments while the Japanese are left to do what they please.

As a concession to the French the committee drawing up a draft of a new treaty increased the maximum limit for aircraft carriers from 22,000 tons to 23,000.

American delegates hoped this would make France more amenable to their demand for a maximum limit of 35,000 tons for battleships. Paris wants a much smaller maximum.

TROOPS FIND CHINESE KIDNAPERS OF U. S. PASTOR IN MANCHUKUO

PEIPING, China, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The United States legation learned tonight from Mukden that troops have located the bandit band in Manchukuo which kidnaped the Rev. Father Clarence Joseph Burns of Ossining, N. Y., eight days ago.

The brigands were located in a valley 15 miles east of Tunghua, in Kirin province, by 42 Japanese gendarmes and 30 Manchukuan soldiers. Direct contact with the kidnapers has not yet been established, the advices from Mukden stated, with the rough terrain impeding rescue efforts.

Father Burns, 35, has been in Manchukuo since July, 1934. He regularly made a 40 mile circuit of outpost missions on horseback. He is attached to the Mary Knoll mission of Ossining. A Tokio dispatch said two of his helpers also are held by the bandits.

Fire Destroys College for Women in New York City

New York, Feb. 14 [Friday].—[Special.]—Fire destroyed a large part of the original building of Hunter college at Lexington avenue and 69th street early today. The blaze spread back through part of a new building on 68th street before it was brought under control.

The fire started on the second floor of the old building, known as the west wing. It was discovered by the watchman, who rang in an alarm.

OFFER LINER HOMERIC TO SHIP BREAKERS; SEA CAREER ENDED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The 34,351 ton Cunard-White Star liner Homeric is being offered for sale to ship breakers. The official announcement that the Homeric's career on the high seas is ended was made at Southampton today shortly before the 56,621 ton Majestic of the same line sailed on what may be her last voyage to New York before she, too, is scrapped.

If, as appears likely, both the Homeric and the Majestic are sent to the ship breakers' yard, it will bring the number of Cunard-White Star liners meeting this fate up to eight with a total tonnage of nearly 250,000. Those already broken up or in the process of demolition are the Mauretania, Olympic, Adriatic, Albertic, Calgaric and Doric.

Until the 79,280 ton French liner Normandie was built, the Majestic was the largest ship afloat. According to present indications, she will be laid up at Southampton on her return from New York Feb. 27. Her place in the company's Atlantic express service will be taken by the gigantic Queen Mary.

VATICAN COURIER JAILED BY NAZI COURT FOR YEAR

Claim Priest Made Some Disparaging Remarks.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The Jesuit priest, Albert Immel, diplomatic courier of the Vatican who carried sealed messages between Rome and Berlin, was sentenced by the Frankfurt court today to a year in prison. He had already spent four months in jail awaiting trial.

The priest was charged with making disparaging remarks about the Nazis while visiting German relatives, with delivering an anti-Nazi sermon in a church at Thalheim, near Frankfurt, and with reading a pastoral letter of the bishop of Limburg containing passages subversive to the Nazi state.

The German born Immel, who was ordained a priest in Rome two years ago, is declared to have told relatives, "Nazilism is not a bit better than communism." He is also said to have spoken disrespectfully of the morals of the Nazi Youth organization.

Urged Love for All.

The burgomaster of Thalheim, who listened to Immel's sermon and the pastoral letter, asserted they contained veiled slurs at the Nazis and pointed out that the priest urged his brethren to include all fellow men in their Christian love, "white, yellow, black, Ethiopian, and Jews."

While minor Catholic leaders arrested by Nazis in raids Tuesday are awaiting to learn the charges to be filed against them, major church leaders have taken up negotiations with the Nazis.

The papal nuncio called today at the Nazi foreign office, and church diplomats expect a formal written protest from Pope Pius to the German government.

In the recent trial of minor Catholic leaders, the public prosecutor at Dresden demanded exemplary punishment because "organized Catholic groups, such as the 'Catholic Action,' are infinitely more dangerous than the communists."

Special Police for Action Society.

In the course of his speech the prosecutor revealed that the GSP [secret police] had established a special branch for the sole purpose of controling the "Catholic Action."

The sale of Bibles and similar "unobjectionable religious literature" by members of the dissolved Association of Earnest Bible Students has been forbidden by the minister of interior in Thuringia.

Hitler Youth leaders of north Germany have appealed to parents of children preparing for religious confirmation to buy them Hitler Youth uniforms for this day instead of the traditional civilian suits. The appeal states:

"Many parents cannot afford to buy both uniform and suit, but the Hitler Youth outfit is a suit of honor of all young comrades."

The proclamation also appeals to youths to attend confirmation in Hitler Youth outfits.

Nab Waiter as Navy Betrayer.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The arrest of a waiter charged with attempting to betray secrets of Germany's naval rearmament was disclosed tonight as the Nazi government pushed its campaign against "enemies of the state."

The reich war ministry said it had not knowledge of the reported arrests of 50 members of the navy in connection with an espionage plot.

COAL TRUCKER IS FINED.

Raffele Glante, 43 years old, 1249 Oregon avenue, was placed on probation for six months by Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden yesterday on a charge of delivering coal without a weighmaster's certificate. Judge Padden fined Pasquale Anselillo, 47 years old, 2343 Grenshaw street, a mine trucker, $40 on a similar charge.

Germans Find Selves Buried in Taxes Under Hitler's Regime

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Despite Germany's wide variety of taxes and network of obligatory contributions, Nazi collectors have shown marked efficiency in collections.

Every year since Adolf Hitler came into power collections on assessments levied by the government have been larger than in the preceding one.

There are ten standard taxes upon which the structure of the reich's incoming revenue chiefly rests:

The income tax, tax on wealth, inheritance tax, citizen's tax, corporation tax, sales turnover tax, tax on one's trade, capital turnover tax, tax on real estate, special tax on bachelors.

Network of Obligations.

But these are not the only mandatory contributions to the public welfare. There is a whole network of obligations for Mr. Citizen which have almost the effect of law. These include:

Regular contribution to the winter relief fund; a special fund for the schooling of apprentices in one's own profession; special tax on the sum total of wages paid by a concern; tax on drinks of various kinds, such as beer, wine, coffee; tax on capital yield; taxlike dues in sick and benefit societies, German labor front, for the unemployment fund, etc.; "confidential orders" issued in the form of a levy upon a given trade or industry to raise a certain amount within a certain time for a specified special purpose, and "invitations to firms to let this or that Nazi employé attend a party rally without loss of wages.

Many of the main taxes have multifarious subdivisions. Beyond all this, if a German is a member of the Roman Catholic or the Protestant church, the government collects a church tax equal to 10 per cent of the income tax and turns it over to the respective church.

Taxes and Fees Everywhere.

In short, the German citizen can hardly turn without running into some sort of tax or fee or obligatory contribution.

It is an interesting commentary on the German tax situation that no office, public or private, was able to give a complete list of taxes and their method of assessment.

The income tax amounts to 10 per cent for a single person. For the wife and for every child 1 per cent may be deducted. The tax on wealth is 5 per cent and affects all persons with savings or objects of value exceeding 10,000 reichsmarks [about $4,000].

When a person dies, a graduated tax is levied upon his estate unless it is given to charity or the Nazi party. Many cities have a special citizen's tax.

One-fifth of Income Taxed.

A concrete example of a low-paid worker with a monthly wage of 160 reichsmarks, or about $64, was given by a young worker to show what is expected of him and his employer in the way of taxes and mandatory contributions. Here is the payment he makes in marks [about 40 cents]:

Income tax, 10.62; citizen tax, 3.50; winter relief fund, 1.10; insurance [employé's share], 4; sick benefit, 4.50; unemployment insurance, 4.88; labor front dues, 2.20; total, 30.80 marks.

His employer had to pay for him: Insurance [employer's share], 4; sick benefit, 2.25; unemployment insurance, 4.87; tax on sum total of wages paid, 2.60; total, 13.72 marks.

In other words, nearly one-fifth of the income was somehow withheld, some of it, of course, for purposes directly beneficial to the worker.

FARMER LOSES 6 PIGS TO WOLF; OTHERS BITTEN

When Charles Klein, a farmer living on Green Bay road, two miles north of Waukegan, entered his yard early yesterday he saw a large animal, apparently a wolf, leaping over the back fence. He found that five of his pigs had been killed, seven other pigs had been bitten, and a thirteenth pig had been carried off. On Wednesday Lake county officials announced that a $12 bounty will be paid for each wolf slain.

POLAND'S RABBIS FIGHT TO RETAIN MEAT MONOPOLY

Mass in Capital; Protest Anti-Kosher Bill.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Feb. 13.—Warsaw's ghetto, which is the largest in the world, hummed with excitement today. More than a thousand of Poland's leading rabbis, including 70 of the 153 rabbis described in the Jewish press as possessing miraculous powers, gathered in their Dwarda street headquarters to frame a protest against the project to abolish the kosher slaughter of animals in Poland.

The "miracle working" rabbis were picturesquely garbed in long caftans of heavy black silk, lined with expensive furs. Some wore sable collars and fur trimmed black beaver hats. They attracted large crowds of Jews who fought for the privilege of touching their robes which are reported to possess healing powers.

Hold Secret Session.

The rabbis were still in secret session at a late hour tonight discussing various suggestions to make an effectual protest to the Polish government.

They decided to appoint committees to visit Premier Marjan Zyndram-Koscialkowski and Minister of Education Swietoslawski to request that the proposed law be withdrawn from parliament. They also debated a proposal to declare Thursday, Feb. 20, as a day of fasting for Jews throughout the world as a sign of protest against the measure.

The rabbis announced that telegrams of sympathy and assurances of support had been received from the United States, Palestine, England, France, and Belgium.

Aim to Improve Relations.

Another meeting of the congress will be held tomorrow. At that time the delegates will discuss the increasing anti-Semitism in Poland and attempt to devise a method to improve relations between Jews and other inhabitants of the nation. The anti-Semitic excesses have not been confined to Poles alone. Serious riots resulting in injuries to Jews also have been reported from the Polish Ukraine and from the White Russian settlements in the Vilna corridor.

The possibility of offering Poland's large Jewish community compromise measures, permitting them to continue the slaughter of animals according to ritual methods and to provide a special stamp for kosher meat, but establishing modern slaughter houses for the non-Jewish population, was reported in the government press.

The Jewish press rejects the offer. It insists that the government desist in the effort to take the meat monopoly away from the Jews. The removal of the monopoly, it claims, would cause great suffering among those now dependent on this industry for their existence.

The town of Wloclawek announced it had decided not to await passage of the law ending the kosher method of slaughtering animals. The municipal council at a meeting abolished kosher slaughter and took control of the local slaughter house out of the hands of Jews.

The allegations of Jews that the bill has originated among Polish supporters of Adolf Hitler's anti-Semitic doctrines are denounced as ridiculous by government officials. They point out that the government has been taking extraordinary measures to safeguard the lives and property of Jewish citizens. A decree was published forbidding the sale of firearms, knives, and other weapons.

HOME TOWN TO HONOR HISTORY'S PRINCE OF LIARS

BODENWERDER, Germany, Feb. 13.—(AP)—History's biggest liar, Baron von Munchausen, will be honored by this, his own home town, in celebration of the 216th anniversary of his birth.

The municipality is buying the house where Karl Friedrich Hieronymus, the baron, was born in 1720, and where he died 77 years later.

The Munchausen house will be used for the mayor's office. One room will be set aside as a museum in which souvenirs of the cavalry officer and yarn spinner will be preserved.

CINCINNATI FINDS DAYLIGHT SAVING OF VALUE TO ALL

Business, Labor Approve Time Change.

BY LLOYD WENDT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—In this city, only twelve minutes sun time from Chicago, there is enthusiastic support for eastern standard time. On Aug. 7, 1926, Cincinnati made the change from central to eastern time which Chicago contemplates on March 1, and it is so generally approved that sections of Kentucky have followed the move and the Ohio general assembly has approved eastern time for the entire state.

As in other fast time cities in Ohio and Michigan, business, labor, trafic experts, and citizens in general join in pointing out the benefits received through the simple expedient of pushing ahead the clock one hour. The confusion of daylight saving time is gone, lighting costs are lower, rush hour trafic accidents are fewer, and the people are convinced they have gained in happiness and health.

I. C. C. Approves Change.

The interstate commerce commission has approved the change and the railroads operate on eastern time. The Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers' association, and other groups which joined in obtaining fast time obviously are proud that such simple treatment produced such widespread results. Here are some brief expressions of representative persons in many fields on the subject of eastern time in Cincinnati:

Mayor Russell Wilson: "We like eastern time immensely. There are important advantages to every one. In a few winter mornings certain groups must rise before daylight, but they also did that under central time, and now the new system gives them more daylight in the afternoon to compensate. The experiment has succeeded here and we recommend it to Chicago."

W. F. Wiley, president of the Chamber of Commerce: "Business wanted eastern time and is thoroughly satisfied with it. We find it advantageous for our banks and markets to be on time parity with the large financial and commercial centers. We have eliminated twice a year time changes. Shopping and shipping are benefited. A city's prosperity depends on exports, and we have gained an hour with respect to export points. We would not change back."

Cites Benefits to Labor.

James A. Wilson, former vice president of the American Federation of Labor and newly appointed executive secretary of the international labor council: "Eastern time holds benefits for labor. More recreation and better health is possible. Working men have more daylight time of their own. We approve the change."

J. A. Higgins, director of the Cincinnati Allied Construction Industries: "We objected at first, but found by moving up our working schedules in winter mornings there were no difficulties. Now both labor and employers are well pleased. Eastern time is better from every angle."

M. C. Condrey, police department safety engineer: "We have reduced rush hour accidents with eastern time. Our fatality peak now comes after 7 p. m., when darkness has fallen. Eastern time is saving lives."

Edward B. Imbus, vice mayor of Cincinnati, and a manufacturer: "We are well satisfied. We wouldn't think of changing back."

Lighting Costs Lower.

Edgar Gillman, director of the public utility department: "Eastern time unquestionably reduced lighting costs. Natural light is best for the eyes. Children and workers benefit because they spend less time under artificial light. Compared with us, Chicago is cheated of 48 minutes of sun every day. We hope you get it."

John J. Hurst, president of the central labor council: "Labor here now favors eastern time. It aids our health and makes living more pleasant. We wouldn't think of changing back."

E. D. Roberts, superintendent of schools: "While children must rise at dawn to go to classes on some winter mornings, the disadvantage is counter balanced full by the longer hours of daylight in the afternoon. I believe that eastern time is a benefit to the schools."

RULES FOR HEARING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission has issued a statement to clear the air of "ballyhoo" attendant upon its scheduled public hearing into eastern standard time for Chicago. The hearing will start Feb. 24 in Chicago.

I. C. C. officials today declared that the public would be heard but that the commission was interested in the merits of the case rather than a show of numbers, inasmuch as it has no power to abrogate an act of the city council or to hold a referendum.

Suggests Representatives.

The statement was issued by George B. McGinty, ICC secretary, who asked that in order to conserve time and save money at the hearing interested groups choose representatives to appear before Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison, who will be in charge of the inquiry. This would "prevent duplication of effort and merely cumulative testimony," McGinty pointed out.

McGinty said the hearing would be confined to the question of whether the limits of the United States eastern standard time zone should be moved westward to include Chicago or any of the remainder of Illinois or any portion or all of the states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, or Wisconsin.

Law Change Plans Barred.

"Evidence in support of a change in the law, such as a modification of the number of zones, cannot be admitted," McGinty said. "Such requests should be addressed to congress, which makes laws, not to this commission, which merely administers such provisions of law as are delegated to it by congress."

Officials pointed out that if the petition of the Chicago city council to make the time change were denied this would not make any difference insofar as the new sun saving time for the general public of the city is concerned.

POLAND WARNS FRANCE AGAINST PACT WITH REDS

Threatens to Nullify 1921 Paris Alliance.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Feb. 13.—The Polish government has warned France against ratifying its mutual aid pact with soviet Russia, it was learned today.

The Warsaw government charged that the pact is not an agreement between France and Russia, but an alliance between the communist internationale and the powerful union of radical parties in France. The united front was formed at the instigation of communist Internationale agents directed from Moscow, according to Polish officials.

The Polish-French alliance signed in 1921, which thus far has withstood the stress of diverging French and Polish policies, may be nullified if France decides to go with Russia, according to the Polish press.

Prefers Franco-German Pact.

Poland, it is declared here, would prefer to see France come to an understanding with Germany. The present French foreign policy is said to be driving Poland away from France toward an open alliance with Germany. It is also declared to justify the pro-German foreign policy of Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister.

Polska Abronja, the official newspaper of the army general staf, said that Poland still is an ally of France, but that she cannot understand why her ally should sign an agreement with Russia and then lend Moscow money which the soviet government has pledged to use to improve the western Ukrainian railroads. This would increase the possibility of effective offensive action by the Red army opposite Polish frontiers.

Poland, says this newspaper, will be made a potential battlefield by this agreement, but she will never permit a bolshevik or any other army on her soil without war.

Attacked from Army Viewpoint.

From the military viewpoint the pact is declared indefensible since it cannot strengthen France's western frontier and neither can Russia help France on the seas. Instead, the Russian sphere of influence, which already includes Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania, is being enlarged to include France.

The joint claim of Moscow and Paris that the pact would strengthen peace is ridiculed by the Poles, who denounced it as one of the most dangerous agreements negotiated in recent years and as being especially perilous for Poland.

The Polish ambassador in Paris has been instructed to inform the French government of the Polish attitude and to warn France of the consequences of the projected alliance.

DICKINSON SAYS HE'S CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Senator Dickinson of Iowa, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination for President, is not an active aspirant, he said today. He was impelled to say so because he had been introduced as a candidate for the presidency at Greensboro, N. C., last night, where he made a Lincoln day speech.

"I am a candidate for reelection to the senate," he said. "I do not intend to enter any presidential primaries. If the Cleveland convention decides to select me as its candidate that would be another matter."

Former Senator Brookhart is expected to be a candidate for the senate seat held by Mr. Dickinson and another intense primary battle between the conservatives and progressives in that state will be staged. Mr. Brookhart favors Senator Borah for the nomination for President and has urged him to seek the delegates from Iowa.

THESE FACTS ABOUT BRAN HAVE BEEN PROVED BY TESTS

Supplies Gently Acting "Bulk" to Aid Regular Habits

Now and then, in talking with your friends, the subject of bran has come up. So that real facts might replace unsupported opinions, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading nutrition laboratories.

Studies made on a group of healthy women showed that two tablespoonfuls of bran daily continued to relieve constipation* over a period of months. How different from cathartics—where dosage often must be increased.

Another series of tests on men indicated that, with some people, the "bulk" in bran was much more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Further tests showed that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provided vitamin B and iron as well as "bulk." This "bulk" absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system—the right way to correct constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal, with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. It is a natural laxative food. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"The Newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Chicago Tribune.

THE NINE OLD GENTLEMEN.

People who at any given time violently dislike a Supreme court opinion on any given question immediately begin to demand that the nine old gentlemen be themselves restrained from interfering when the government, aside from them, has made a decision. It isn't anything new in the history of the country. It started at the very beginning.

Thomas Jefferson intended to pay no attention to a decision he thought he would get from Chief Justice Marshall. What he got was a decision holding section 13 of the judiciary act unconstitutional. Mr. Jefferson couldn't do anything about that unless he moved to impeach Marshall, which indeed was in his mind.

Objections to the court and to its decisions have been running with more or less heat from the earliest days and yet the court has remained, the purposes of the constitution have been served, and the various enthusiasms which led the dissident people to want to do something to the old gentlemen have for the most part evaporated. The court and the constitution have remained and political issues have shifted with every generation. In the present disagreement with the court the proposals for putting new restraints upon it are intended to release some of the radical and revolutionary schemes of the present moment.

People may have already forgotten such names as Wayne B. Wheeler, Dr. Clarence True Wilson, the Rev. Dr. Bowlby, and Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington. Bishop James Cannon Jr. might be added to the list. Less than ten years ago these men were running the American government. They had an enthusiasm. It was paramount. It was bigotry. They had congress so hog tied that Mr. Wheeler could sit in the gallery of either hall and command obedience by raising his eyebrows. These dictators produced an intolerant tyranny that was supreme in its time as the New Deal has been supreme. They did outrageous things to the established principles of American life, and there can be no doubt that congress under their dictation would have passed unconstitutional laws of repression, and if it could have wholly ignored the Supreme court would have encroached upon the private life of American individuals at will. This was a moralistic dictation.

The American people have had many periods in which great numbers of them undertook to do something in passion or prejudice. There was an anti-Masonic political party, and a powerful one. It would have suppressed the Masonic order and probably all other secret fraternal organizations before it got through if it had had the power to do so by merely getting control of congress. Agrarian movements against property have run wild at various times. Impulses of the people in distress or excitement are not dependable for justice, fair dealing, or general welfare.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, who wants to have his own way as much as any man alive, regardless of the other fellow's rights, would require the court to have not less than seven judges' names to an opinion declaring a law unconstitutional. That is, in an extreme case, three judges of the Supreme court could so act as to deny a citizen the right to hold any piece of property the people wanted to confiscate, deny his right to speak his mind in any gathering he wanted to address, to belong to any but an established church, and compel him to contribute to the support of that church, deny him the right to write an article for a newspaper, or to publish one, could say where he must work and at what wage, how and to whom he might dispose of anything he made or raised. That's an extreme case, but it wouldn't be a difficult matter for people getting into a state of mind a bit more rancorous and willful than Senator Norris and other New Dealers to fix the personnel of the court in such a fashion that it would be entirely responsive to their will.

When people get mad because six old gentlemen say that agriculture is a local affair and three say it is not, they are willing in the intemperance of their disappointment to shoot holes in the only protection the American people have for a considerate balancing of their liberties against their temporary desires and impulses. Breach the walls and pressure will sweep them away.

If we think that this hurrah about the planned society and the collectivist state is going to prevail in its present ideas and specifications and doctrins forever we would take small account of the convictions in the past which the people inspired by them thought would last forever. We also would take little account of changing times. The paramount issue of one day is quickly lost in the paramount issue of the next. Covering all these periods of het-up doctrins the Supreme court under the constitution has well served this nation to keep it level headed and out of a lot of the miseries it might have contrived for itself.

SO THERE'S NO POLITICS IN RELIEF?

Robert J. Dunham has resigned his membership in the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. He did so at the request of Gov. Horner. The reason for the ouster is altogether obvious. Mr. Dunham belongs to the Nash-Kelly-Bundesen faction of the Democratic party, which is opposing Gov. Horner.

In view of Mr. Dunham's removal, what remains of the New Dealers' repeated assertion that there is no politics in the relief? If the relief expenditures are not being manipulated for partisan advantage, why does the governor remove from a position of power in the relief organization a man who is opposed to him politically? Until the split in the Democratic ranks Mr. Dunham enjoyed the governor's full confidence.

CAN ALBION BE PERFIDIOUS?

The misunderstanding of the British not only persists but grows, particularly in Italy. If virtue were not its own reward the British might often feel that their lot was too difficult, the burden of doing good at all times in all places too heavy, to be endured. They might wish to retire from the world, to retreat into an isolation where suspicions and hard words could not find them. Only a spirit of heroic unselfishness could sustain them. It does.

Italy complains that British bullets are killing Fascist soldiers, some of them Italians. British treachery and egotism are preventing the conquest of African barbarism by civilization. British officers and British salesmen help the hordes of darkness and keep out the light. "Beside the pride with which we salute our dead there is room for a salutary sentiment of hate for the people who have robbed our country of victory."

Part of the quoted sentence needs a little interpretation. Is victory despaired of in Rome or defeat conceded? Reports indicate that things are far from well with the Ethiopians. Famine is said to be weakening them. The whole adventure is one of the highest altruism. Italy wishes to raise the Ethiopian standard of living, improve morals, free the slaves, and promote culture. Great Britain wishes to uphold the covenant of the league, protect the weak, defend the right, and keep Italy from the headwaters of the Nile. The Ethiopians wish to preserve the liberties of their fathers and their sons.

It would be an unjust culmination of this noble struggle, this sublime conflict in which each side is the right side, if Italy and Ethiopia should reduce each other to exhaustion and if Great Britain, having assisted the Fascists home, should be obliged to occupy Ethiopia to rescue the perishing. That also would be misunderstood. People would speak of perfidious Albion.

It is a relief to turn from this complicated moral scene and contemplate the French. No one ever misunderstands the French, not even the French themselves. Although the French walked on the virtuous side of the street with the British in protecting the Ethiopians from the Italians they found time to withdraw their attention from other peoples' business and attend strictly to their own when the Syrians broke loose, presumably in search of liberty. There has been some machine gunning, but the matter seems to be in hand. No one has misunderstood the French in this. People say the French are realists although being that hasn't got them as much real estate as the British.

THE SANITARY DISTRICT PROPERTIES.

It seems reasonable to predict that the sanitary district will eventually be able to dispose of practically every square foot of the industrial areas along the canal bank that it has recently offered for sale. Like all other real estate offerings they will be expected to move slowly at first, particularly under present conditions, but manufacturers must eventually be respondent to the "ready made" transportation facilities offered by these sites that extend along the banks of the waterway from Wilmette to Joliet.

To a very large extent the properties will be served on one side by one of Chicago's trunk railways. That, through reciprocal switching arrangements, will give it access to the country's network of railway systems, of which Chicago is the center. On the other side the sites will be offered a connecting channel to the Great Lakes-Mississippi valley system of waterways. Airports are not far distant, and Illinois highways radiate in all directions.

Leases should not be considered by the sanitary district. The necessity for ever widening the canal has now been removed, and retention of title by the district is neither necessary nor advisable. With the completion of Chicago's sewage disposal system and the consequent clearing of the waters of the canal, these locations have superior values that will prove advantageous to substantial industries. Proposals to lease, no matter how seemingly attractive, should be turned down for the benefit of the buyer who will eventually become interested.

Editorial of the Day

VERMONT GRANITE.

[Rutland, Vt., Herald.]

With the referendum on the Green Mountain parkway but little more than a month away, it seems timely to review some of the events which have added to the total of the already overwhelming objections against the plan.

New elements of doubt as to the wisdom of asking for or accepting this white elephant from the federal government revolve around the state's financial condition.

Those who vote for the parkway in March must also vote to slap a half million dollar debt on themselves as the taxpayers of Vermont. Grave doubt has been expressed that this sum is sufficient to cover the expense to the state of buying valuable farm, forest, and recreational lands and of clearing title to them.

The special session of the legislature must have brought forcefully before the state the fact that its finances are not in order. The assembly adjourned leaving behind it a deficit that may exceed $500,000. The problem of meeting the deficit was so difficult that the senate turned it over to a commission which will study the whole system of state revenues and expenses. Once important sources of income are, one by one, drying up, and at the same time costs are mounting.

In the face of these facts it seems absurd that Vermonters can even seriously consider another bond issue of half a million dollars.

"PRESIDENT TO FISH in Florida Waters."—Headline. I keep saying that we ought not to elect fishermen to the presidency. They always have to travel a long way to catch fish and it keeps them away from Washington and the business of the government a long time. Besides, a fisherman gets so in the habit of telling how big the fish were that he caught and how much bigger the fish were that got away that other people, especially other fishermen, are inclined to think he's exaggerating when he talks about the money needed to run the government. After all, the favorite crossroads grocery and general indoor sport of this country is not fishing but checkers. We ought to elect a champion checker player for President and then we'd know right where to find him. He'd be sitting there in the kitchen at the White House playing checkers with the Secretary of State or the man who has come over to rake the leaves off the White House lawn.

A VALENTINE.

That little thing called politics,
Such small concerns as wealth,
Business and books and art and sport
And food and even health—

These cannot hold my interest.
I am not so prudential.
While these all have their use, no doubt.
You are my one essential.

BALTIMORE boasts about its so-called rubber street cars that it's going to put in operation very soon. Rubber street cars would be splendid (in the American language "swell"), but what we really need are rubber chair backs in the theaters. People who beat a tattoo with their feet on the chair just in front of them would get very much disturbed when they couldn't produce a good worth while noise. They could peck away at the rubber chair back industriously with their feet even as they do now, but not a sound could they make and to their great distress the man in the chair in front of them could enjoy the movie (some people do) without suffering from the seat kicker behind him. Of course it would just spoil the show for the seat kicker, but he could go outdoors and kick a garbage can, though it wouldn't be much fun, and after a while he might get out of the habit of kicking the back of the seat in front of him. By all means let us have rubber backed seats in the theater. Write to your congressman today. On second thought maybe you'd better write to the Supreme court.

THIS IS THE DAY people used to send comic valentines to one another. They don't today because the Boondogglers, the Florida canal scheme, the Maine 'Quoddy tide harnessing project and the rest of the schemes of the New Dealers are so much funnier than any comic valentine could be that the comic valentine makers have just thrown up their hands in despair.

"I AM VERY MUCH INTERESTED in your Fifty Miles an Hour Club," writes Herbrose. "I think if everybody joined it would reduce accidents to a minimum, and I wish you would send me stickers for the front and back windows of my car." Listen, Herbrose; it is in the constitution and by-laws of the Fifty Miles an Hour Club that no member shall paste stickers on his car windows. A Fifty Miles an Hour sticker seems innocent enough at first, but ah! we descend into vice by gentle degrees. After a driver got used to his "Fifty Miles an Hour Club" stickers on his windows he would next put terrible bathing beauties on the window and cutouts from the Sunday comics. After that he would be lost and it wouldn't be long before he put a picture of his favorite candidate for President on the window alongside of Greta Garbo and Joan Crawford and completely blocked out the driver's view in the mirror of what's going on behind the car. Being a plan to further the prevention of accidents, the Fifty Miles an Hour Club frowns heavily on the idea of putting stickers on the windows of automobiles. Observe, Herbrose, we are frowning heavily at you. Go right out to your car and chase Greta Garbo and Joan Crawford and those two beauty queen hussies off that back window. Have your art gallery at home, not on the back window of your auto.

VALENTINE SPECIAL.

The world is a gorgeous place—
Spacious, and oh, so wide;
And hollow-free is the breast that has
No heart inside.

Nothing can hurt an empty breast.
Nothing can wound or kill;
But, won't you please return my heart,
For one day . . . if you will?

I shall not mind one crack or two,
A chip, a scuff, or such—
And if it runs with skipping beat,
It will not matter much.

You see, one day out of the year,
I need this heart of mine,
To wear it loose inside my sleeve
On Valentine.

ARE YOU A MEDICINE TOPER?

FORTUNATE is he who can say truthfully that he has never taken a dose of medicine in his life. If there is such a person [and I am sure there are some] he has probably observed, designedly or instinctively, the fundamental rules of health, and common sense has dominated his program of activity.

An inspection of the medicine chest in thousands of homes would probably disclose an array of bottles and boxes of all types, some carelessly arranged, others in neat or even alphabetical order. Such a cabinet is essential in every household, and it should contain half a dozen or so standard remedies, no one of which is used daily, monthly, or even once a year unless the need appears.

A short time ago a friend insisted that I look over the medicine cabinet in his home. Throwing open the door he said proudly: "What do you think of it? Isn't that preparedness?" Every bit of space was packed with labeled containers, and I counted 42 different varieties. He looked crestfallen when I replied, "There are just 35 too many."

I recognized instantly that this man was oversolicitous about his health and that scarcely a single item in his overfilled cabinet had been prescribed by his physician. Most of them had been purchased as the result of suggestions given him by "hipped" acquaintances. There was not a box or a bottle that had not been opened.

He is a perfectly normal, healthy person. While I have never examined him I am morally certain that he is receiving in his diet adequate vitamins, and yet he was taking a vitamin concentrate three times daily. He was also consuming a so-called tonic that was as essential [for him] as a new foundation for Pike's peak [James' peak].

Judging from the contents of his "drug store" he must have had about six different varieties of stomach disease, as there were at least a dozen "aids to digestion." As most of us know, if the stomach is not supplying the normal amount of hydrochloric acid we may be obliged to take this substance before meals. Or, if a stomach ulcer is present, alkalis or other appropriate remedies will probably be required. But to put hydrochloric acid into a normal stomach or to take alkalis to correct a condition that does not exist will cause damage. So far as I know my friend had the normal amount of hydrochloric acid and at no time has he given the slightest evidence of having a peptic ulcer.

There were four laxatives. To my query, "Do you need a laxative?" he replied, "No, but I think it is well to clear out the system about once a week, don't you?" Again he appeared a bit disappointed when I did not wholeheartedly agree.

During the bridge game that followed I received several sly hints that perhaps a liver tonic might be good for me and I felt that I was lucky to escape without a dose of some of his favorite remedies.

I wondered how much time this splendid chap used in purchasing and taking medicine. He is really a medicine toper. I suppose he looks upon his drugs as an investment in good health from which he demands returns. The whole outfit did not cost him less than $100 and, to him, doses were dividends.

Are there many like him? I hope not, but I am afraid there are. Some people just would not feel natural unless they had a bottle of medicine or a box of capsules with which to "doctor" themselves before or after meals. After a while they come to look upon certain tablets as old friends and they cannot get along without them.

Some day I am going to talk to my friend, that is, when he is MY guest. I shall tell him that I am glad to know that he is health conscious but, for the sake of his constitution, he must forget to be medicine conscious.

Our pharmacists are indispensable, as there are many valuable and important remedies that can be applied with excellent effect to known disease conditions. But why fire ammunition at an enemy that does not exist?

PAIN IN BACK.

Mrs. J. C. writes: I was stricken with pain in the lower center of the back. My physician thought it was muscular rheumatism. It hurt so badly I could not raise myself up. I was in bed for a week and the only thing that gave relief was constant heat and massage. The pain then let up and I broke out with blisters on the back and over a large area on the right side. The physician then made a diagnosis of shingles. After the blisters appeared I did not have quite so much pain, but for another week I felt miserable and nauseated—vomiting quite often. As the blisters started to heal the itching was terrific. Do you think I had muscular rheumatism and that shingles was caused from that, or do you think that the pain in the first place was shingles?

I am 22 years old and have not had another attack, although I do have lots of pain in the back and can't seem to find out what causes it.

REPLY.

Both rheumatism and shingles may appear as the result of a lowering of the body's resistance. Rheumatism occurs through the spread of some focal infection, usually from the teeth, throat, or nose; and is aggravated by exhaustion and anxiety. Shingles is an inflammation of one or more nerves [neuritis] and frequently follows some other disease or injury.

ST. VITUS' DANCE.

A. N. writes:

Please write on St. Vitus' dance, and how to treat it in children.

REPLY.

St. Vitus' dance or chorea is a disorder of the nervous system occurring for the most part in children. It is characterized mainly by involuntary jerking movements of the muscles. The greatest number of cases appear between the ages of nine and twelve. The symptoms are usually preceded by changes in the disposition, the child becoming sad, irritable, and emotional, while at the same time the general health is impaired. Fidgetiness and restlessness are often the first symptoms.

Under suitable hygienic conditions the disease runs its course in a few weeks. Bed rest, a light, nutritious diet, avoidance of excitement, and the removal of any infection are all-important. We must recall that damage to the heart can occur. After recovery the general health of the child must receive attention.

Patriotic Societies

Six patriotic organizations are being investigated by the Black senate committee, the inquisitorial limb of the New Deal. THE TRIBUNE has published a series of stories giving the history and accomplishments of these societies. Among other groups which have similar aims are the Women Investors in America, Inc., and the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy. The first of these is described in the following article:

Founded upon the conviction that one million organized women are invincible, the Women Investors in America, Inc., was chartered in New York last May 13 to "save sovereignty, capitalism, investments, citizenship, and ideals."

Definite objectives were set forth as follows:

"To provide a nonpartisan, nonprofit making agency through which the women of the United States may be aroused to a realization of the stake they hold in the nation's wealth and prosperity.

"To support legislation which has for its object the protection and preservation of industry.

"To oppose legislation which is economically unsound.

"To revitalize recognition of the basic American distinction between sovereignty and government.

"To protect investments by seeking to preserve the underlying values thereof."

Miss Cathrine Curtis of New York, writer and lecturer on economics, founded the Women Investors upon the theory that "one woman can be helpful, 100 women can be forceful, 1,000 women can be powerful, but 1,000,000 women, united, can be invincible."

In opening her membership drive Miss Curtis explained that "few people realize that women own 70 per cent of the wealth of this country; have 80 per cent of the insurance policies now in effect; pay federal, state, and local taxes amounting to millions of dollars yearly, while they have billions of dollars invested in savings banks, trust funds, real estate, etc."

Jean Nelson Penfield, leading New York woman attorney, was selected as general legal counsel of the Investors, and the directors included Mrs. Grace Brousseau of New York, past president of the D. A. R.; Mrs. C. Gray Capron of Utica, a leader in the Colonial Dames; Mrs. Frederick Smith of Utica, Mrs. Floyd B. Odlum of New York, Mrs. Forest Dryden of Bernardsville, N. J., and Mrs. Frank J. Ely of Utica, who is the former Geraldine Soper of Chicago.

Without delay Miss Curtis projected her organization on the congressional scene. The first woman to do so, she went to Washington last August and appeared before the senate finance committee to protest the "soak the rich" tax bill, in behalf of women in the country who wished to protect their savings.

She has continued this "educational and protective job," Miss Curtis says, and has directed the issuance of reports on other pending legislation. Hers is still the only national women's organization which attempts to advise women on financial subjects.

To date the Women Investors have chapters in twenty-eight states. In Chicago recently Miss Curtis has developed the Illinois chapter, obtaining support, among others, from Mrs. Bertha Baur, Mrs. Frederic Upham, Mrs. Anson Cameron, Miss Naomi Donnelley, and Miss Barbara Soper.

National headquarters are maintained at 535 Fifth avenue, New York. Those wishing to join the organization may do so by making application to that address. Annual dues range from $1 to $50, according to the classification of membership desired. It is also possible for women to become a part of the movement without fees.

STREET CAR-"L" TRANSFERS.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—[Friend of the People.]—My wife finds it necessary to visit in the vicinity of Manor and Leland avenues, about one-half block from the Francisco "L" station on the Ravenswood line. On several occasions, upon boarding a Kedzie avenue car at Irving Park and tendering the conductor ten cents in cash, she has been refused an "L" transfer. On returning home she boards an "L" train at Francisco "L" station, asks for and receives a transfer without question. Why this discrimination? It is my personal observation that more than one-half of the surface lines employés do not understand the present transfer system between the "L" and surface lines. Will you please refer this to the proper parties for an opinion?

E. A. J.

The order of the Illinois commerce commission designated that section of Kedzie avenue—Sunnyside avenue [4500 north] to Bryn Mawr avenue—as being tributary to the Kedzie avenue station of the Ravenswood elevated. Complainant boarded car at Irving Park boulevard, a point outside of this section, and the Kedzie avenue conductor, therefore, acted in accordance with that order in refusing to issue a combination transfer. On the return trip the agent at the Francisco station of the elevated railway will, of course, issue a transfer, but for the reasons already stated that transfer is not valid on the Kedzie avenue line south of Sunnyside avenue.

BARKING DOG.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—[Friend of the People.]—What can be done about a dog the people downstairs own? This dog barks continuously at anything and everything. Every time any one comes into the hall or walks by the front of the house he goes into a regular spasm of barking. I have a baby 18 months old and every time he is put to bed for his nap this dog wakes him up with his barking. It is ruining my baby's health and he is getting nervous and fidgety as a result. These people have had this dog for a year and a half and I know for a fact they have no license for it. They never let the dog out and I think that constitutes cruelty in itself.

Officers interviewed the owner of the dog and informed him of the nature of this complaint, warning him that unless the dog is kept quiet a warant will be obtained for keeping a nuisance. The owner has promised to dispose of the dog.

DINGY SPARROWS—AND WHY.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Though realizing that our winter atmosphere is anything but clean, I have always wondered at the dingy, dirty appearance of the sparrows in winter.

A few days ago—one of our coldest—as the sun melted the frost from our sixth floor office window, we gazed out on the cold scene before us, noting the strong west wind that was blowing the huge TRIBUNE flag straight out to the east, and looking down upon the three storied buildings across the street and below us, we saw the sparrows perched on the tops of the chimneys. They would sit still for a few minutes and then flit to another place or chimney, staying in the warm fumes as long as they could, and then whisk away for a bit of fresh air. In watching them it was noticed that different sparrows would flit down inside for from five to ten seconds at a time before reappearing; and though I could not look down inside, it was easy to suppose that they clung to the warm bricks for those moments while they opened up their feathers for a good warming, much as the girls used to do with their dresses in the olden days, when they stood over the hot air registers at schools.

Anyway, I now know why sparrows appear filthy dirty at this time of year, and how they keep warm. A pair of starlings kept the sparrows company most of the time it was noticed, and their company seemed to cause no particular comment or notice.

SNOOTY.

Glenview, Ill., Feb. 10.—I am an enrollee of the Civilian Conservation corps located at Camp Skokie Valley. Why do people of the so-called upper class in Evanston and Wilmette look upon us as if we were useless hobos? My fellow enrollees often attend theaters in these towns and when we meet people on the street they just point their noses sky high.

No doubt these people have sons of their own and would feel hurt if that happened to their boys.

We are sons of proud parents and we enrolled in the CCC mainly to assist our parents in meeting payment of bills, etc. The majority of young men in camp are high school graduates who had maintained good averages while in school. Unfortunately we were victims of the long depression and could not prolong our education. Rather than bum around on street corners and associate with hoodlums we enrolled in the CCC. The work we are doing on the outskirts of Winnetka in the former Skokie marshlands is astounding. Moreover, we are building ourselves physically, mentally, and, above all, morally.

MURALS IN A SYNAGOGUE.

Palm Springs, Cal., Feb. 7.—While sojourning here for the winter I read in Tuesday's TRIBUNE an article which speaks of the murals in the Chicago Loop synagogue, which states that these particular murals are the first used in Jewish history.

This is not correct. I have just left Los Angeles, where I inspected some of the most important murals ever done in this country, and they are painted on the walls of the synagogue of the B'nai B'rith congregation of which Dr. I. Magnin is rabbi. The murals are approximately eight feet high and they extend all around the auditorium, a circular distance of approximately 150 feet.

In the murals are representations by real figures depicting religious personages, not merely abstract symbolizations. Whether this is contrary to Jewish law I am frank to say I do not know.

GUNS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—A complete answer to Mr. Milton Nelson's suggestion that bullet markings be recorded like fingerprints is found at p. 291 of "Textbook of Firearms Investigation, Identification and Evidence," by J. S. Hatcher. Col. Hatcher has recently been serving as instructor and adviser to the department of justice on these subjects.

Briefly, there are two objections to Mr. Nelson's suggestion: First, the marks left on a bullet by a new gun may be entirely different from those left on a bullet after the gun has been fired a great deal, perhaps allowed to rust or the bore become marred in some other manner. Second, the marks on a bullet marred cannot be classified as fingerprints are. Out of the thousands of fingerprints on file only a few will be close enough to the particular whorls, deltas, etc., of a suspected fingerprint to make comparison necessary. On the other hand, a bullet would have to be compared with every test bullet fired from a gun using a similar bullet. In a popular caliber, such as the .38 special, this would mean comparison with thousands of test .38 bullets, a work that could literally take years.

It is often possible to take a murder bullet and determine positively whether it was fired from a suspected gun or whether it was fired from one of several guns. But the analogy between fingerprints and bullet identification is not precise. A fingerprint remains unchanged through life; the marks on a bullet from a new gun will not be the same as the marks on the bullet fired from the same gun when it is old and rusty or the bore has become worn or damaged.

STREETS IN WINTER.

La Grange, Ill., Feb. 7.—Stanley A. Jacques, under date of Jan. 29, in commenting on the menace of icy streets and sidewalks, suggested that "Chicago newspapers should make an appeal to the business men on every corner to make a special effort to keep their corner safe."

Fair enough, provided the city would furnish material. In Milwaukee the city places boxes of sand and salt at every street corner [the salt increases the effectiveness of the sand]. Filling station employés, policemen and others spread the salted abrasive. Private business places can hardly be expected to do the work and furnish the necessary abrasive material as well. However, this is really beside the point. The city of Chicago is under the same obligation to adopt modern methods of making the streets safe for travel in the winter as in the summer.

The real opportunity of the press is to arouse the public to demand from the city reasonable winter street service.

SPENDING THE BONUS MONEY.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—I wonder if your newspaper knows or could find out why there is so much propaganda about the manner in which the soldiers spend their bonus money. Have all the men who served their country become bereft of common sense? Most of the boys are 40 year old men now. Isn't a man around 40 supposed to have any sense or are just the soldiers the lax individuals? Why is it necessary to use the "Amos and Andy" broadcast to spread the gospel of sane spending? Have any such local or countrywide admonitions been directed at the WPA, CWA or other alphabetical "workers" whose aggregate "loans" greatly exceed the stupendous bonus money?

PROPOSE ARMY PLANE INCREASE TO 4,000 UNITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Alarmed by the war sentiment sweeping Europe and by inflammatory statements in the senate regarding Japan, the house today considered a bill to raise the army air force to a strength of 4,000 planes at a cost, spread over a period of five years, of $70,000,000.

Chairman John J. McSwain [Dem., S. C.] of the committee on military affairs, introduced the bill with the backing of the Democratic leadership. In a stirring oration, he declared the navy no longer is the first line of defense of the United States; that it has been supplanted by the air corps.

Would Equal Britain.

If passed, the act eventually would raise the air strength of the nation to a parity with Great Britain which recently announced a program calling for an air force of 5,700 planes. The authorized strength of naval aircraft is 2,190, and the total air strength of the United States would be above 6,000 with passage of the McSwain bill.

"The question of air power has been studied as much by the military authorities of this country as any other question," McSwain told the house. "The views of the various boards studying the question finally were fixed by the Morrow board which settled the ratio between the army and navy forces at 10 to 18.

Naval Force Improved.

"Subsequently, congress authorized an increase of naval aircraft from 1,000 to 2,190 whereas the army authorization still remains at 1,800. If the ratio were observed, the army would now have today an authorization of virtually 4,000. The bill I have introduced calls for that total."

McSwain said that the war department was in favor of the bill.

"I want to impress this fact," he continued, "that every one now realizes that the first line of defense is the air. We have become accustomed to talk about the navy as the first line of defense. It once was, but the air now is and it does not make any difference whether the aircraft is operating from a base on shore or the deck of a carrier.

First Conflict in Air.

"The first conflict between hostile forces will be in the air and probably this first collision will be decisive because whoever gets control of the air certainly will control everything underneath, whether it be on water or on land.

"The British navy made a gesture that she was going to stop the Italian transports going through the Suez canal to Ethiopia, but when the Italian government announced that there were 125 pilots who had dedicated their lives to diving upon battleships with 2,000 pounds of explosives, the Mediterranean fleet scattered.

2,000 or 10,000 Lives.

"Why should not 125, or 1,000, or 2,000 pilots give their lives in order to save their country rather than lose, as were lost, in some engagements, 10,000 infantrymen in a day, giving their lives to their country's cause?"

The house is expected to pass tomorrow the record peacetime appropriation of 543 million dollars for the war department, of which approximately 375 million dollars will be for military expenditures. An enlisted strength of 150,000 in the army is provided.

GOULD HEIRESS' HUSBAND WINS CRUELTY DIVORCE

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Pretty Anne Gould Meador, granddaughter of Jay Gould, railroad builder, found life here as a bank clerk's wife too dull, Frank Meador said today in obtaining a divorce.

Meador, an investment clerk in the Groos National bank, brought charges of desertion and harsh and cruel treatment against the young heiress with whom he eloped to Harrison, N. Y., on Christmas night, 1934, after a whirlwind courtship.

He alleged his young bride left their modest home within a few months when called east by the death of her father—and did not return.

Stolen Property Charge Against Stanton Dropped

A charge of receiving stolen property against Danny Stanton, south side hoodlum, was dismissed by the grand jury yesterday. The charge was based on the finding in Stanton's home, at 7815 Yates avenue, of two tax warants, part of $80,000 worth of stolen from a branch office of the county treasurer on Sept. 7. The grand jury refused an indictment because the warants were nonnegotiable, hence could not be said to have a value in Stanton's hands.

Investigate Weather Report on Morning of Air Crash

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A charge that a federal employé was absent from his post of duty at the Kirksville, Mo., airport and sent erroneous weather reports on the night that Senator Bronson Cutting and four others were killed in the crash of a TWA air liner last May 5 was investigated by a senate commerce subcommittee today.

After hearing testimony from the committee's investigators in secret session, Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], chairman, announced that there was nothing in the record to substantiate the charges made against C. H. Jones, assistant airway keeper at Kirksville. Senator Copeland, however, said he was "puzzled" by the plane crash and its possible causes.

The evidence showed that Jones sent out a teletype message at 11:42 p. m. on May 4 giving the ceiling as 7,000 feet and the visibility as 7 miles. At 12:12 a. m. he sent a message giving the same ceiling and the same visibility. At 1:42 a. m. he reported the ceiling as 1,200 feet and the visibility as 5 miles. At 3:04 a. m. he reported the ceiling as unchanged, or 1,200 feet, and the visibility as 4 miles. At 3:30 a. m. the crash occurred.

Copeland said the evidence disclosed that the TWA airliner was delayed at Albuquerque, N. M., for repairs to the radio. The radio was in good order when the plane departed from that airport, he said, but the log of the ship disclosed that the transmission failed and the reception was impaired during the voyage preceding the crash about sixteen miles from Kirksville, near Macon, Mo.

PROGRESS IN USE OF NEWSPAPER COLOR FORECAST

Further progress in the use of color in newspaper news features and advertising was predicted yesterday following the close of a two day conference of newspaper officials held in the audience room of W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S radio station.

The conference was attended by approximately 125 publisners, business executives and mechanical superintendents of leading newspapers in various parts of the country. Those attending the sessions declared that great improvement in the further development of color in newspapers will result from the interchange of information and experience in this relatively new but fast growing field. Invitations to the conference had been sent out by Col. R. R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, which sponsored the gathering.

How sales of merchandise can be increased through the use of color advertisments in newspapers was related to the executives at yesterday's session by David Mayer, vice president and general manager of Maurice L. Rothschild Clothing company.

In closing the session, Col. McCormick said that the knowledge and experience of THE TRIBUNE in color printing was available to other papers and urged the exchange of experience between newspapers as a means of mutual assistance and public benefit.

DEFENSE RESTS ON CANN ALIBI IN DEATH TRIAL

Jury Will Get Liggett Case About Tuesday.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The defense rested late today in the trial of Isadore [Kid Cann] Blumenfeld for the murder of Editor Walter W. Liggett. The prosecution will open rebuttal testimony tomorrow morning. Expectations were that the case will be in the jury's hands by Tuesday. There will be no session of Judge Arthur W. Selover's court Saturday.

A dozen witnesses were placed on the stand as Defense Attorney Thomas McMeekin clinched points in Cann's alibi. All supported the former bootlegger's contention that he was in a downtown barber shop at the moment Liggett was slain, 5:41 p. m. on Dec. 9.

They included the owner of the shop, barbers, a manicurist, and customers. All were positive in statements that Cann was there from approximately 5:30 p. m. until after 6 o'clock and that he did not go out of the shop from the time of his arrival until he finally left.

Finds No Discrepancies.

Cross-examination by Assistant Attorney General Frederic A. Pike failed to develop any material discrepancies in their accounts, although one of the customers said that he had not seen a girl which the manicurist testified had entered the shop and talked with her.

As the case stands now on the basis of the evidence presented the jury is faced with the problem of weighing Cann's alibi, which the state has failed to crack so far, against equally positive identification of him by two eye-witnesses as Liggett's murderer.

Court observers in a private poll were almost unanimously of the opinion that he will be acquitted.

The state has continued non-committal as to what it will attempt to show in rebuttal. Subpenas were known to have been served on six persons, however, and the bullet-riddled coat of the slain editor had been sent to a chemist for analysis. This move was reported for the purpose of showing in rebuttal that Mrs. Edith Liggett had a close view of the man she claims is her husband's slayer.

Depends on Powder Burns.

If powder burns appear on the cloth, the state would claim that only a few feet separated the killer and the witness, who was standing on the running board of her husband's car as the fatal volley was fired in the alley behind their apartment.

Cann's statement that he had never used a gun also was expected to be assailed. The prosecution may attempt to show that Cann figured in a gun fight several years ago in which a policeman was shot.

Meanwhile it became known that if Cann is acquitted the United States immigration bureau will make an investigation of possibilities of deporting him. Brought to this country from Rumania as a child, he has never become a citizen, his father having failed to take out papers and no move ever having been made in that direction by the defendant himself.

Grand Jury Reopens Attack.

In another development the county grand jury began a major attack on the string of liquor stores controlled by the so-called "syndicate," exposure of which has generally been considered a factor in Liggett's murder.

Padlocks for fourteen alleged vice resorts were asked today by County Attorney Ed J. Goff as a sequel to activity of the police morals squad during the last two months.

Judge Paul W. Guilford signed orders to owners demanding that the places show cause why they should not be abated as nuisances.

SEEK ORDINANCE IN MINNEAPOLIS GIVING MAYOR STRIKE CLUB

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The mayor of Minneapolis would be given the power to close an industrial plant if its owners became involved in a labor controversy and refused to arbitrate, by terms of a proposed ordinance now being drafted for presentation to the city council.

Aimed directly at the Strutwear Knitting company situation, Mayor Thomas E. Latimer has voiced approval of the principle and it is understood to have the backing of the Labor majority of the councilmen as well as of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers. It is modeled after an ordinance passed recently in Milwaukee.

Specifically the law would provide for creation of a committee of nine citizens to act as an advisory group to the mayor. In case of a labor dispute in which employers declined to submit to arbitration the committee would have authority to recommend to the mayor that the plant involved be closed.

SENATOR URGES DEBENTURE PLAN TO AID FARMERS

Vote Expected Today on AAA Substitute.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Adoption of the export debenture plan as an amendment to the New Deal's AAA substitute bill was urged in the senate today by Senator Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.], with a sympathetic response on the Republican side. Besides the discussion of Connally's amendment the senate took no action on the farm bill, but a final vote may be reached tomorrow under a unanimous consent limitation of debate.

Senator Connally explained that his amendment would direct the secretary of the treasury to issue debentures to farmers and exporters for products shipped to foreign markets.

These debentures would then be sold to importers, who could use them in the payment of tarif duties on imports.

Farmer to Receive Bounty.

The debentures would equal 50 per cent of the tarif rate on the agricultural commodities affected. A farmer exporting wheat would receive a bounty of 21 cents a bushel; the rate on tobacco would be 2 cents a pound, on cotton 4 cents, etc.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, who favors the debenture plan, told the senate that it was adopted by that body in 1929, but defeated in conference with the house of representatives. President Hoover vigorously opposed it.

Senator M. M. Logan [Dem., Ky.] asked Connally whether the plan would not encourage foreign countries to raise tarif barriers against American exports and thus wipe out the benefits supposed to be received by the farmers. The foreign countries, he suggested, might resent the "dumping" of American products in their markets and adopt retaliatory measures.

Believes Plan Might Help.

"That is a risk you always have to take," Connally replied. "This bill could not do the farmer any harm and it might do him some good. It is designed to give the farmer the theoretical benefit of the tarif. He can't get the benefit of the tarif when he produces more than we consume. The plan cannot but result in an increase in the farmer's price and with the production control provisions of the pending bill there can be no substantial overproduction due to the stimulus of the export bounty."

Connally explained that the secretary of agriculture would have authority to decrease the debenture rate if production became too high in particular commodities.

No action was taken on Connally's amendment because of the consent agreement whereby voting on all vital issues was postponed until tomorrow.

Amendments Coming Up.

Besides this amendment, Senator McNary tomorrow will offer an amendment to recommit the bill for further study and Senator Lester J. Dickinson [Rep., Ia.] will move to strike out section 8, the temporary provision under which direct federal control would be undertaken—and bounties paid—in the name of "soil conservation," until Jan. 1, 1938.

Meanwhile, grants in aid could be paid to states to operate their own little AAAs if they adopted laws complying with federal regulations, and after Jan. 1, 1938, direct federal control would be discontinued.

Report Hitting Cotton Control Plan Altered, It's Revealed

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Details of how officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration suppressed an adverse report on the New Deal's cotton scarcity program composed by the bureau of agricultural economics and then doctored up the document to suit themselves began to leak out today.

They filtered out despite the iron lid of censorship clamped down on the matter in AAA circles. No explanation was forthcoming from Administrator Chester Davis of AAA or Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Completed last September by the bureau, which compiles statistical and economic data for the department of agriculture, the report was critical of the cotton reduction scheme.

Text of Original Draft.

The original draft said as follows:

"Although the prices received in 1934 with the adjustment program were about 3.6 cents per pound higher than the estimated price that might have been received without the program, this difference was not enough to offset the smaller quantity of cotton available for sale, so that the estimated gross returns from cotton and cottonseed were less with the program than they would have been without the program."

This paragraph was deleted from the report given to the public on Feb. 4, which was accompanied by a press handout declaring that the report showed the need of continued cotton production adjustments.

Some light on why the report was revamped was shed by the disclosure of a confidential memorandum written by a high AAA official to Administrator Davis.

Criticism Is Feared.

"It is believed that the publication of this report will result in intensifying the criticism of the entire principle of the adjustment of production," the official said.

The official then wrote plaintively to Davis that one would "seek almost in vain for some commendation of the efforts of the last three seasons of cotton adjustment" in perusing the original report.

The original report had issued a warning that a combination of restricted cotton production and high prices would result in the American farmer "yielding a part of his world market to the foreign producer, and finding alternative opportunities for the profitable use of a substantial part of his labor and other production resources."

Accuracy Is Admitted.

The AAA official in his memorandum to Davis admitted that the basic data contained in the report were "no doubt accurate" and constituted a distinct contribution to the information available on the subject, but would result in criticism of the programs that had been carried out.

"Moreover, the publication of certain of these comments," he said, "would unnecessarily place the Agricultural Adjustment administration in the position of defending fundamental aspects of the cotton program from criticisms made by the bureau of agricultural economics."

Paragraph as Revised.

The press handout dished out with the revised report began as follows:

"Continued cotton production adjustments are needed in view of the uncertainties as to the demand outlook, foreign competition, and conditions of production in the south, according to the bureau of agricultural economics in a report issued today."

At the time it was suggested to Secretary Wallace that there was no justification in the report for this interpretation. He pointed to a quotation in the report which set forth that any "long time" cotton production program in the south should take into account provisions for readjustments and listing conditions in the cotton states.

Not in Original Report.

This quotation, however was not in the original report.

The fact finding bureau has been at odds with the AAA in the past, and last year Nils Olsen, who had been chief of the activity for six years, resigned his position. He was replaced by A. G. Black, then head of the AAA corn-hog section.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

Farmer's Cook Book.

February 13, 1936.

GRANDMOTHER recipes taken from the yellow pages of old cookbooks are used in concocting tasty batches of such "dishes" as headcheese, mincemeat, and pickled hearts, tongues, and pigs' feet at the Tribune Wheaton farm. The idea of experimenting has spread to all of the farm families, who are making various tests this winter in handling home butchered hog carcasses.

Old fashioned headcheese, a byproduct of pork seldom seen in city kitchens, is one of the prize mixtures now being put away for year round use. The farm cooks use the heads, livers, hearts, tongue, and feet. In one family this winter ideal headcheese was made from heads and livers. The heads are first dressed by removing the ears, eyes, snout, tongue, and brains, and then split down the middle.

They are then boiled in an open kettle until the meat falls off the bone. The livers are also thoroughly cooked. The liquid from the kettle is saved. All the bones are carefully picked out as the meat is being removed from the heads. Then the meat and livers are chopped into fine pieces and covered with liquid from the kettle.

Pepper and salt to suit the taste are added and the mixture is cooked for about twenty minutes. Some cooks add sage along with the pepper and salt in seasoning the headcheese. The cheese is then poured into earthenware crocks, where it is allowed to cool. It is kept in the crocks until sliced and fried. The domino is used as a guide and slices the thickness of two dominos have been found to be about right.

Each family seems to have a different way of making mincemeat for pies, but most of them use a formula similar to the one below:

Meat from hogs' heads and the lean parts of the shoulders is used as the basis for mincemeat. The meat is cooked as if it were to be made into headcheese—half from the heads and half from the shoulders. The meat is then coarsely cut up in a food chopper and mixed, half and half, with apples chopped up into ¼ inch cubes.

To each gallon of meat and apples there is added 1 quart of sweet apple cider or fruit juices, 1 pint of apple vinegar, 1 quart of raisins, 5 pints of sugar, 1 pint of chopped suet or butter, 3 lemons [juice and rinds grated together], and 1 tablespoonful each of cinnamon, nutmeg, salt, and pepper. The mixture is cooked for a half hour in an open vessel. Spices are usually added just before it is taken from the fire. Vinegar and fruit juices may be added at the same time. The mincemeat is then canned and sealed.

Pigs' feet, tongues, and hearts are pickled in the same way. The feet are cooked until the tissue is ready to fall off the bone, and the tongue and heart are cooked until thoroughly tender. Salt is added before cooking. The feet, tongues, or hearts are taken out of the juice and put in stone jars and covered with medium strength hot vinegar. The vinegar is seasoned with whole pickling spices, 2 tablespoonfuls to each gallon. The jars are kept covered with stone lids until used.

The big caldron used in cooking feed is cleaned and used in rendering lard at the farm. Seventy gallons of lard were recently rendered from the trimmings taken from 14 of the 20 hogs killed at the farm recently. The trimmings were cut into small pieces and cooked until all the grease was out of the cracklings.

The test followed by the men at the farm is to cook the trimmings until they turn to brown cracklings. As soon as the lard stops foaming and cracklings quit frying when pressed against the side of the caldron, the rendering process is near the end. The cracklings become as light as corks and float on the surface. The hot lard is poured into warm jars. Temporary tops are placed over the jars until the lard is thoroughly chilled and hardened, then a stone top is put on each jar.

SENTINELS PLAN TO FIGHT BAN PUT ON MOVIE IN OHIO

Hire Counsel to Battle for Patriotic Film.

Raymond Pitcairn, national chairman of the Sentinels of the Republic, announced yesterday that the Sentinels have retained legal counsel to fight the action of the Ohio division of film censorship in banning the animated cartoon, "The Amateur Fire Brigade," from exhibition in that state.

Mr. Pitcairn's announcement was made to an audience in the Grand Opera house at the finish of the afternoon's showing of the Sentinels' free motion picture show which is here for a week's run satirizing the New Deal.

Rely on Public Opinion.

"We have secured Ohio counsel to handle this situation," he declared, "and we have confidence we will win approval because public opinion will not stand for suppression of the story this film has to tell the American people.

A similar situation arose here when Lieut. Harry Costello, head of the movie censorship board, refused to issue a permit for the film. The permit was granted, however, when Police Commissioner Allman ruled the movie violated no ordinance.

In announcing its ban of the film last Tuesday, the Ohio board of censors held that it "encourages disrespect for the office of the President."

Stress Nonpartisanship.

"One feature of the Ohio situation has aroused our indignation," Mr. Pitcairn said. "There is an attempt to represent us as the agency of one particular political party, and to allege that we were formed to campaign against the New Deal. That is absolutely untrue. We were founded in 1922 and have fought consistently to sustain the constitution."

In an address at last night's show of the Sentinels in the Grand Opera house, Miss Cathrine Curtis, national director of Women Investors in America, assailed the policies of the national administration.

"Our country has prospered and become great through the initiative, personal courage and private industry," she declared. "Clearly business should be allowed to earn such profits as will enable it to pay reasonable taxes."

DUNHAM TO MEET WITH IERC TODAY DESPITE OUSTER

Horner Action on Relief Post May Be Topic.

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, who resigned as a member of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission Wednesday at the demand of Gov. Horner, will attend a meeting of the commission this morning at relief headquarters, 1319 South Michigan avenue. He is expected to make a statement concerning Gov. Horner's request that he resign.

Mr. Dunham, who was chairman of the commission from September, 1933, to May, 1935, resigned the chairmanship when he was appointed federal Works Progress administrator for Illinois, remaining as a member of the commission.

Blame Political Malice.

He entered public life at the behest of Mayor Kelly, and politicians were inclined to look upon the governor's action as reprisal against the mayor and the Cook county Democratic organization because of their refusal to support Horner for reëlection.

Likewise, the fact that the IERC expires on May 1 was considered another indication that Dunham's dismissal was purely a political gesture against Horner opponents.

The governor refused to discuss the matter yesterday, but announced that he will permit the bill abolishing the IERC to become law without his signature.

He also announced that he will follow a similar course on the bill providing for administration of old age pensions in Cook county, a companion measure to the bill which was passed over his veto by the assembly last week.

Moss in Washington.

Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county bureau of public welfare which will administer pensions in the county, was in Washington yesterday to submit the county's administrational plans and endeavor to obtain federal approval of the system. All such administrations are subject to federal approval.

Howard O. Hunter, midwestern WPA field representative, with headquarters in Chicago, yesterday was appointed deputy administrator in charge of field representatives and regional stafs throughout the country. He will retain his present post.

HOOVER IS IN FIGHT UNTIL NEW DEAL HAS BEEN ENDED, HE SAYS

Portland, Ore., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today he would continue an active campaign against the New Deal as long as it continues to exist.

"As I live, I shall continue fighting the New Deal as long as it exists," he asserted.

Asked if he would continue his active campaign regardless of who wins the Republican presidential nomination, he replied:

"Why go into that now? We have a big battle to keep the issues before the people until the primary. The country is facing the most critical situation in 70 years."

CABINET POST LURE HELD OUT TO DEMOCRATS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A coalition cabinet of Jeffersonian Democrats and Republicans as an aftermath of a New Deal defeat next fall was given tacit approval today by Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Fletcher held out the possibility of cabinet posts to bolting Democrats in commenting on the address of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] at New York last night in which the Republican presidential possibility invited conservative Democrats to join Republican ranks with the hope of a fitting reward. The Republican chairman was wary but admitted the possibility of such appointments had been discussed.

Place for Democrat.

"There should be a place at the cabinet board for a good Democrat," Fletcher said. "No doubt a good many men in the Democratic party could fill such a position."

The Republican chairman, who had a press conference in his office before leaving Washington on a brief vacation, added that he had not heard anybody make a definite suggestion on the subject, but he had heard informal discussions of a coalition cabinet.

"There have been no sit down conferences on the question," he continued. "I think it's a bit early for that. I have nothing to say for myself."

The subject occupied capital political circles during the day. Most Republicans expressed themselves as favoring such a coalition which would bring to the party those Democrats who would follow Al Smith in "taking a walk" in the campaign as a protest against New Deal policies.

New Deal leaders viewed the Vandenberg invitation with undisguised alarm but declined to comment. Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, gave as his answer to the split threat "we're going to win the election—that's all I have to say."

Fletcher asserted that the Republican party will conduct a clean campaign on a balanced budget to throw the searchlight of publicity on New Deal defects. In such a campaign, he declared, the party will welcome the help of any God-fearing citizen.

Promises Clean Campaign.

"If this is going to be a dirty campaign Jim Farley and those fellows will have to start and finish it. I don't know whether that's a red herring or not, but we don't propose to engage in that sort of thing. We have enough material without indulging in invective. If there are any defects in the New Deal—and that's understatement because you know them as well as we do—we are going to turn the searchlight on them.

"I think this campaign is going to be one in which a great many people are going to sit down with themselves to figure out the way things are going. And for us there can be but one answer."

Fletcher followed this answer to a recent speech of Farley's predicting "a dirty campaign" with a flat denial of Farley's charge that the Republican committee is allied with the American Liberty league.

All Aid Is Welcome.

"That doesn't deserve an answer," Fletcher said. "I don't even know where the offices of the Liberty League are. The Republican national committee will confine itself to its usual activities. There will be no combination of activities or offices with the league or any other organization. But the help of any God-fearing citizen will be welcome."

Fletcher reported contributions to the party's war chest were coming in at a pleasing rate. He said the fund will be as big as the party can get but "it would not be anything like that of the other fellows." He added the campaign will be conducted on a cash basis and the party will be able to balance its budget. He expressed pleasure that the deficit he met when he took office had been cleared away and said he hoped to turn over a balance to his successor.

Commenting on the arrival of Arthur J. Curtis, Republican national committeeman from Missouri, to the party headquarters, Fletcher said he expects Curtis to render valuable legal service with relation to contests at the convention. He declined to state whether Curtis will succeed John Hamilton of Kansas, committee counsel. He said the question will have to be answered by Hamilton, who is expected to return to Washington next week.

Hamilton is expected to leave headquarters to conduct the campaign of Gov. Alf M. Landon for the Republican nomination. Fletcher said he has endeavored to keep the national headquarters free from bias for or against any candidate for the Republican nomination.

Hasn't Read Speeches.

Fletcher said he had not read all the speeches of Republicans who assailed the New Deal in celebrations of Lincoln's birthday. The speeches were being examined minutely by Democratic leaders for evidences of the trend of the Republican platform for 1936. The parade of speakers was led by former President Hoover and included Frank Knox, Senator Vandenberg, and Senator L. J. Dickinson [Rep., Iowa], who is considered a dark horse entry for the convention.

Dickinson on his return from his speech at Greensboro, N. C., said there had been no change in his position as a possible presidential nominee. He was introduced as a possible candidate for the presidency, but made no reference to the introduction in his speech.

Roosevelt's Name Is Entered in Illinois Primary by Nash

President Roosevelt's name was entered in the Illinois preferential primary yesterday through petitions mailed to Secretary of State Hughes at Springfield by P. A. Nash, Cook county Democratic chairman. Thus a test of New Deal strength will be taken in the state on April 14.

Mr. Roosevelt did not enter the Illinois primary in 1932, although he had some support from both Chicago and downstate before the convention. In fact, filing of his petitions yesterday marked the first time in many years that a President has sought to learn his pre-convention popularity in the state.

The Illinois primary is advisory only, and does not bind delegates to support the high man. Democratic leaders do not expect that Mr. Roosevelt will have any opposition. Two Republican candidates filed Wednesday—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho and Frank Knox, Chicago publisher.

Votes Will Be Compared.

While the President is not expected to have opposition in the Democratic primary, a comparison of the Roosevelt vote with that of the Republican candidates will be closely watched by both parties.

By entering the Illinois primaries, Mr. Roosevelt injects himself into a bitter fractional battle between the forces supporting Gov. Horner for renomination and election and the Kelly - Nash - Campbell organization, which is entering Dr. Herman N. Bundesen against Horner. Both camps, however, are supporting the President.

Reports in Chicago Democratic circles yesterday were that Gov. Horner would appoint Attorney Charles K. Schwartz a member of the state tax commission. Mr. Schwartz would neither affirm nor deny this, but his appointment was expected to be made Tuesday or Wednesday.

Bundesen Ward Invaded.

Mr. Schwartz is a brother of former Ald. U. S. Schwartz of the Fourth ward, who is now president of the Standard club. Charles Schwartz lives at 6935 Paxton avenue, in the Seventh ward, which is also the ward where Dr. Bundesen and one of his close advisers, Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes reside.

Hodes is a former member of the tax commission. The Schwartz appointment would be regarded as an attempt to reduce the Bundesen strength in the Seventh ward.

United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis arrived in Chicago yesterday and registered for the April pdimary, at which he will be a candidate for renomination, in the office of the election commission.

PRESIDENT, AIDS O. K. 300 MILLION HOMES PROGRAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A 10 year federal housing program, calling for an appropriation of between 300 and 400 million dollars for the first year for slum clearance and small homes, was agreed upon today at the White House.

Agreement was reached at a conference of President Roosevelt with Senator Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], Attorney General Cummings, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, and Peter Grimm, treasury housing expert. Enabling legislation revising provisions of the present act, which expires April 1, will be introduced by Senator Wagner about March 1.

Senator Wagner said that he believed the legislation should work for coördination of various governmental housing activities. Particular stress, he added, should be placed on the financing of homes costing $5,000 and under.

FREED AS RECKLESS DRIVER.

A charge of reckless driving against Frank E. Corliss, 32 years old, 821 Washington street, Evanston, was dismissed for want of prosecution by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the South State street court yesterday.

HONEST ELECTION LAW PROPONENTS TO REOPEN DRIVE

Old Battle Lines Forming for New Fight.

Old battle lines which fought hard for permanent registration before the legislature last spring were reforming yesterday in preparation for the new fight which will open in Springfield next Tuesday.

Gov. Horner included the subject of bills for honest elections in his call for a third special session of the legislature and three bills are pending in the house. State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago] has reintroduced the bill which was slaughtered by the Democratic majority last spring. This measure had the support of many organizations which yesterday evinced renewed desire to see it made law.

Has Signature Requirement.

The bill would apply permanent registration to election board cities alone. It contains the signature requirement by which a voter would have to match his signature with one on file with the election board before he would be given a ballot.

Democratic strategy last spring called for introduction of a bill through a downstater, Representative Charles Koehler [Rep., Cairo] making permanent registration applicable in all cities. Representatives from downstate communities objected on the ground that the reform was not needed there, and in a stormy session, the Democrats finally killed both bills.

Yesterday C. L. Rice, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, invited 106 civic and neighborhood organizations in Chicago and suburbs to reopen the campaign for permanent registration.

Would Save a Million.

Rice declared that political experts admit that permanent registration would save the taxpayers of Cook county at least $1,000,000 annually.

Organizations like the Illinois League of Women Voters, the Illinois Manufacturers association, the Union League club, and the Woman's City club will renew their fight for permanent registration and while they may not indorse a specific bill, it is expected that they will favor one which applies only to election board cities.

Either the Schnackenberg bill or the Hubbard-Brands bill, the latter supported by Gov. Horner, would meet this requirement. The Democratic floor leader, Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, presumably at the direction of County Chairman P. A. Nash, has introduced the state-wide registration measure which cannot receive united downstate support.

On the first roll call next week, Republicans are expected to back the Schnackenberg bill. Chicago Democrats will probably be behind the Adamowski measure.

Brooks' Backers Prepare Ward Committeemen's Slate

Petitions of candidates for ward committeemen will be accepted by County Clerk Flynn today, and at least four factions—two Republican and two Democratic—are expected to put candidates into the field.

On the Republican side supporters of Wayland Brooks, candidate for governor, will have a slate including many sitting committeemen, who will be opposed by entries bearing the stamp of approval of the faction backing H. Wallace Caldwell, also running for governor.

On the Democratic side the county central committee is unanimously behind Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for governor, and some of its ward members will be opposed in the primary by candidates placed in the running by Gov. Horner, who is fighting Bundesen for renomination.

Brooks May Aid Deneen.

As these battles were on the eve of coming out into the open the situation regarding factional state and county tickets began to crystalize. Attorney Brooks was ordered by his physician to refrain from active campaigning for a few days, because of a bad throat, but his followers were talking with representatives of the Deneen camp over possible indorsement of one or two Deneen county candidates.

The Caldwell camp had apparently cemented an alliance with Fred Lundin of Round Lake by announcing support of Lundin's candidate for secretary of state, William J. Stratton of Ingleside. Stratton held that post from 1928 to 1932, and has long been closely associated politically with Lundin.

While it was still purely conjecture, many Republicans said that they would not be surprised to see the Brooks-Harding group elect to back another candidate for secretary of state. In such an event they might look with favor upon John W. Kapp Jr., mayor of Springfield, president of the Illinois Municipal league.

Day Seeks Ohio Place.

From Columbus, O., yesterday came a dispatch saying that Stephen A. Day of Evanston, who announced for the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large several weeks ago, had obtained petitions from the secretary of state of Ohio for the Republican nomination for President and quoted him as saying that he planned to enter the Ohio preferential primary in May.

To earn a place on the ballot, Day would have to obtain a total of 1,000 signatures from at least 30 Ohio counties. Day was born in Canton, O. He is the son of William R. Day, former justice of the United States Supreme court and secretary of state in the McKinley cabinet.

FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY CASH SENT TO STATES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—The administration's social security program actually got under way tonight when the first treasury checks for aid to the aged, the blind and dependent children were mailed to several states.

By tomorrow night, the social security board announced, checks totaling $4,446,662 will be in the mail, destined for 16 states for old age assistance, for 11 states for aid to the blind, and for 12 for aid to dependent children.

This federal aid is to be matched dollar for dollar by the states in the case of aid to the needy aged and blind, and two state dollars to one federal dollar in aid for dependent children.

HUSBAND DENIES STATLER HEIRESS DISCUSSED WILL

Loses Plea for Directed Verdict in Estate Suit.

Carthage, N. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—H. Bradley Davidson Jr., 40 year old Washington sportsman, denied today that he ever had talked to his wife, Mrs. Elva Statler Davidson, 21, before her death, about making a will or that she ever had told him of her plans for drawing up such a document.

Davidson took the witness stand in the $560,000 suit to break the will of his wife after Judge Don Phillips had denied a motion of his attorneys for a directed verdict upholding it.

Foster relatives of Mrs. Davidson, who are contesting the will, claim Davidson used undue influence to get his young wife to bequeath him the bulk of her estate. Mrs. Davidson, foster daughter of E. M. Statler, hotel magnate, drew up the will just after receiving several trusts, and only 15 days before she was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning a year ago.

Davidson told of meeting Elva Statler in the late winter of 1933. He said he saw her often until summer and then did not see her again until the fall of 1934. He resumed his courtship, he said, and married her that winter.

He was questioned by his attorney, Jones Fuller.

"Did you ever talk to her about a will?" asked Fuller.

C. A. GORMALY, 71, STEAMSHIP LINE OFFICIAL, IS DEAD

Charles A. Gormaly, general western agent for the Quaker and State steamship companies, passenger lines operating from the Pacific coast, died yesterday of a heart attack in his home at 6423 Lakewood avenue. He was 71 years old.

Mr. Gormaly retired four years ago as foreign freight agent for the Grand Trunk railway's territory west of Cleveland. He had been associated with the railroad for 50 years.

Mr. Gormaly was a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and the Rotary, Illinois Athletic, and Chicago Trafic clubs. He is survived by five children, three of whom, Mrs. Catherine Ball, and Charles S., and Greg C. Gormaly, reside in Chicago; two other daughters are nuns. They are Mother Mary Roberta of Loretto Abbey, Toronto, Canada, and Mother M. St. William of Loretto academy, Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at St. Ignatius church. Burial will be in All Saints' cemetery.

DR. W. B. M'CLURE, PEDIATRICIAN, 52, DIES IN EVANSTON

Dr. William B. McClure, 52 years old, of the Pembridge hotel, Evanston, died unexpectedly yesterday from a heart attack. He had been a physician in Chicago and Evanston since 1916, specializing in pediatrics, and was well known in the medical profession for his research. He was born at McKeesport, Pa.

A graduate of Johns Hopkins university, Dr. McClure had served on the faculties of Northwestern university, the University of Chicago and the University of Iowa. He served at hospitals at Camp Green and Camp Sheridan during the world war. He was a member of several clubs and medical associations.

Dr. McClure, who was unmarried, is survived by three brothers and two sisters. The funeral will be held Monday at his native city.

MYRON J. LEE, KIN OF GENERAL, DIES HERE AT 91

Myron Joseph Lee, 91 years old, a nephew of Gen. Robert E. Lee, commander of the confederate armies in the Civil war, died yesterday in the Little Sisters of the Poor Home for the Aged at Sheffield and Fullerton avenues. Mr. Lee was a son of Louis Lee, brother of the general. He was born on the southern Illinois border and for many years was a stationary engineer in Springfield. His wife died 30 years ago. Funeral services will be held this morning from the home. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

DOCTORS BATTLE TO SAVE 50,000 NAVAJO INDIANS

Gallup, N. M., Feb. 13.—(AP)—White medicine men ranged far flung lands of the Navajos tonight, combatting with modern methods the threat of an epidemic.

A disease, variously described as bronchitis, tonsilitis and influenza, has crossed the reservation, taken at least one life and menaced the health of more than 50,000 Indians.

Mrs. Barbara Prato, 74, Is Found Dead in Taxicab

Mrs. Barbara Prato, 74 years old, died in a taxicab yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, while she was en route to her apartment in the Stevens hotel. Frank O'Leary, driver, said Mrs. Prato entered the cab at La Salle and Monroe streets and that she was dead when he opened the door to let her out at the hotel. Mrs. Prato was the widow of Peter Prato, a commission merchant in South Water street. Hotel officials said she had been living at the Stevens since last June with her brother, Peter Zulfer. She is survived by a son, Peter Prato, 513 North Sheridan road, Highland Park.

WOMAN DIES, 12 HURT AS BLAST WRECKS STORE

Explosion Rocks Mattoon Business District.

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A young woman was killed and twelve other persons were injured today in an explosion which wrecked the Kroger-Consumers grocery store and shook the Mattoon business district. The city's principal business street was a litter of bricks and broken glass after the blast.

The young woman, Miss Katherine La Fever, 22 year old clerk in the grocery, was crushed under a rain of heavy timbers and plaster when the blast, believed to have been caused by natural gas escaping in an adjoining store room, blew out the rear wall and caused a large section of the ceiling to fall.

The escaping gas apparently was inadvertently ignited by Monte Jones, a carpenter at work remodeling the building adjoining the Kroger store. He said the blast occurred as he struck a match to find some tools. He was not injured but his two companions were treated at a hospital for burns and bruises.

Three store buildings bore the brunt of the explosion. They were the vacant one story building in which the blast originated, the Kroger store, and the Cokendolpher wearing apparel store adjoining the grocery on the other side.

$100,000 ESTATE DIVIDED BY WILL OF JOSEPH KLEIN

Joseph A. Klein, former president of Mathias Klein & Sons, tool makers, who died on Feb. 7, left an estate valued at $100,000, it was learned yesterday when his will was admitted to probate by Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to the probate judge.

A daughter, Sister Mary Nicholas, a nun of the order of Notre Dame at Milwaukee, was given $10,000. Two sons, Joseph A. Jr., and Mathias, were each given 300 shares of stock of the tool corporation. The remainder of the estate was left to the widow, Mary A. Klein, and three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Ridzen, Mrs. C. W. Hoffett and Frances Klein.

The will of Oscar A. Wolf who died Dec. 26, was also admitted to probate. It divided an estate of $22,000 among Wolf's widow, a brother, three nephews, a niece and a half-sister. The executor is Clarence R. Preiss.

GEORGE G. IDE, died Jan. 1. Estate, $10,000. Heirs, widow and daughter. Administratrix, widow.

MARIE ZOUBEK, died Jan. 5. Estate, $8,000, to son and two daughters. Administratrix, daughter, Helen Becka.

'COIN' HARVEY'S RITES TOMORROW NEAR 'PYRAMID'

Monte Ne, Ark., Feb. 13.—(AP)—William Hope [Coin] Harvey will be buried Saturday morning in the secluded valley of Monte Ne over which his unfinished pyramid stands guard.

Harvey died Tuesday night. He was 85.

Funeral plans were made today with the arrival here of his son, Tom Harvey, of Huntington, W. Va., and after consultation with Mrs. May Ellston Leake Harvey, second wife of the 1932 Liberty party candidate for president.

Harvey's grave will be about 300 yards below the "Great American Pyramid" which he attempted to build.

PUSH HUNT FOR DANGEROUS GAS IN BELLEVILLE

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Federal investigators joined city authorities today in pressing an inquiry into the cause of the mysterious gas menace which has thrown this city of 30,000 into a state of terror. In the last ten days two persons have died and 32 others have been overcome by gas fumes.

The general tenseness was increased today as seven more persons were made ill from inhaling gas. City Health Officer William Farley Jr. said strong traces of illuminating gas were found at each of the three residences to which police were summoned.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Television may be just around the corner, but if it is, David Sarnoff, president of RCA communications who is here to address the Woman Congress sponsored by THE TRIBUNE this morning, is unwilling to predict just how soon it will make the turn. Mr. Sarnoff and Maj. Lenox Lohr, new president of NBC and manager of A Century of Progress in 1933-'34, were discussing the future of communications at a reception given by Niles Trammell, vice president of NBC in charge of the Chicago division, at the Drake hotel yesterday.

However, NBC is just about ready to begin transmitting visual radio from its newly established television station atop the Empire State building to test receivers placed at strategic points throughout the New York metropolitan area, Mr. Sarnoff admitted.

"What sort of material will be televised at the outset?" Mr. Sarnoff was asked. He paused to reflect and some one interjected: "How about Sally Rand? Maj. Lohr did well with her in putting over the Fair of 1933?"

Mr. Sarnoff admitted that the argument has merit.

The Beauty Box Operetta series will end tomorrow with the presentation of a radio version of "The Great Waltz," in which Marion Claire is appearing in person here. On Washington's birthday the same sponsor will bring the Ziegfeld Follies, starring Fannie Brice, James Melton, Patti Chapin and Al Goodman's orchestra to CBS at the same hour, 7 to 8 p. m., Saturdays. The operetta series has had a long and distinguished run—launching Gladys Swarthout on a successful radio career which in turn landed her in the movies. May the Ziegfeld Follies fare better on the air than Jumbo, another Broadway show adapted to radio, which doubled under its own weight.

The Made in America club will sponsor a special one time broadcast over NBC on Washington's birthday featuring George M. Cohan, Francis P. Garvan, former alien property custodian, and Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor. There will be patriotic music and dramatization of historic events. . . . John Barrymore will be heard in the rôle of Washington at Valley Forge on Al Jolson's revue on Feb. 22.

Our Ravenswood correspondent phones in the shopping flash that Bing Crosby's sponsor is putting Bing's face on cheese jars and asks: "Isn't that a way to advertise a cheese?" . . . Now that Jack Benny is back in New York he plans to permit Kenny Baker, his vocalist, to sing "Moon Over Miami," a ditty you don't hear much on Los Angeles pickups. . . . Russell Pratt and Don McNeill as editors of radio's Chuckle Chronicle, have announced the appointment of Eloise Twirp as their home economics editor and Anthony Adverse Asperin as movie critic. They are now casting about for a radio critic. We can safely recommend A. Dyal Twister. [A. is for Any.]

Gene Arnold, interlocutor of the Weener minstrels for many years and narrator for the Contented hour, is master of ceremonies for the so-called Chicago's Own Amateur hour at 8:30 Friday evening over WCFL. . . . Senator Borah will speak over CBS on "The Constitution and Entangling Alliances" on Washington's birthday. . . . Salvation Army will launch a new air service over WJJD at 8:45 Saturday morning. . . . Eddie Cantor will have Rudy Vallee and Rubinoff as his guests Sunday evening.

Otakar Marak, former Chicago opera singer, will launch his first air series over WLS at 10:30 Sunday morning. He also will be heard at noon Tuesdays. . . . The Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra has no fears of Rudy Vallee as competitor. It will go on the air over the other NBC network at 7 p. m. Thursdays, beginning Feb. 27. Jeritza will be the first soloist. Joseph Bentonelli, Reinald Werrenrath, and Efrem Zimbalist will be others.

MARTIN BROWN DIES IN NEW YORK; ACTOR AND PLAYWRIGHT

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Martin Brown, 51, actor and playwright, who wrote the highly successful play "Cobra" a dozen years ago and contributed numerous other plays to Broadway, died today.

Mr. Brown first appeared at the Italia theater, New York, in August, 1907, in a leading rôle of "Convict 999." He then played Ned Maryland in the "Three Twins" at the Herald Square theater, after which he studied dancing and appeared in musical comedies. He appeared in London at the Hippodrome in April, 1914, in "Hullo, Tango" and at the Adelphi as Harry Gordon in "The Belle of Bond Street."

Bishop George W. Griffith, Free Methodist, Is Dead

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Bishop George W. Griffith, 67, of the Free Methodist church, died here tonight. He was born in Oneida, Ill. Surviving are his widow, three sons, Dr. Coleman R. Griffith, professor at University of Illinois; Dr. Wendell H. Griffith of St. Louis university, and Herbert M. Griffith, Chicago business man, and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Kostlan of Pasadena.

EGYPTIANS MOVE TO END STRIFE WITH THE BRITISH

King Picks Committee to Negotiate Treaty.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Feb. 13.—A long stride toward peace between Great Britain and Egypt was taken today with the formal appointment by King Fuad of a royal decree committee of thirteen to represent Egypt in treaty negotiations due to open at the end of this month.

All parties of Egypt's United Front are represented, but the Wafd [Nationalist] party has a majority. The chairman, too, is the Wafd leader, Nahas Pasha.

The appointment of the committee ends the state of tension existing since Jan. 21 when the British delivered the ultimatum that if the present negotiations fail they will feel free to reconsider the whole Egyptian question.

Soothe Egyptian Fears.

This was considered by the Wafd party as a threat that the British intended to have entirely their own way or they would arbitrarily reestablish a protectorate and rob Egypt of even a semblance of independence.

Negotiations to allay Egyptian fears have been going on the last ten days between the British foreign office and Premier Aly Maher. It resulted in an agreement last night on a formula for an exchange of mutual notes in which both sides pledge "the present good relations will continue" in case the two parties once more fail to agree on a treaty of alliance.

The chief British representative in the negotiations will be the high commissioner, Sir Miles Lampson. He will be flanked by air, naval, and military experts, since the military aspect of Egypt's future status is all important to the British.

The negotiators are expected to follow the lines of the Nahas-Henderson agreement in 1930 which never went into force, but which covered all disputed points.

[The late Arthur Henderson was British foreign secretary at the time and held a conference with an Egyptian delegation in London in April, 1930.]

Military Aspect Ticklish.

The stumbling blocks will be, as previously, the military clauses and the status of the Sudan. On the former British opinion has been revised entirely as a result of the recent Anglo-Italian tension. They mean to offer the Egyptians far less liberal terms than in 1930, having been thoroughly alarmed over the safety of empire communications in which the Suez canal and Egypt are the most crucial link.

The Egyptians on their side intend to protest bitterly against the maintenance of permanent British garrisons at Cairo and Alexandria, which they say robs them of real independence. The Sudan also will be a bone of contention, but the chances here are more likely of reaching a compromise formula.

Nationalist riots in January resulted in the death of six persons, mainly students. Many were wounded. The rioting subsided when Britain agreed to discuss a new treaty with Egypt. Egypt is nominally independent, but is more or less dominated by Britain, particularly in foreign affairs. Britain, too, exercises a military protectorate. Egypt's government is advised by the British high commissioner.

CHICAGO MISSIONARY FREED BY ETHIOPIANS; MOVED TO SAFER TOWN

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Rev. Harold Street of Paxton, Ill., and Chicago, and the Rev. John Trewin of Toronto, Ont., have been released from custody in southern Gamo province and permitted to renew their missionary work in northern Gamo.

The government was informed of these developments today following an investigation into the arrest of the two missionaries last month.

Authorities considered southern Gamo unsafe in view of the war and the missionaries were taken from Shama, where their mission was established, to Godu, a safer village. Mrs. Street and the Streets' four children went with the two missionaries to Godu with a military escort. Cornelius Van H. Engert, United States minister, approved Godu as a safer place for the concentration of missionaries remaining in Gamo province.

CARRIES RANSOM TO KIDNAPERS OF YANK IN MEXICO

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Paul W. Avery, American mining engineer, kidnaped with Samuel C. Faneuf and released to negotiate payment of ransom, went to Etzatlan today en route to contact his employer's kidnapers.

Avery was believed to have carried the ransom money with him and was expected to pay off the kidnap band and effect Faneuf's release late today or tomorrow.

George H. Winter, United States consul, said he had been informed that federal troops skirmished with the kidnapers several days ago, but he had not heard the outcome. The consul added he believed "things were working out smoothly" and there would probably be no further news until Faneuf was released.

The two Americans, employés of the Amparo Mining company, were seized four days ago at a mine seventy-five miles northwest of here.

Nun Runs Through Wall of Fire, Gives Alarm, Saves 6

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 13.—Mother St. Alphonse, a nun, today was in a hospital suffering from burns received when she ran through a wall of flame to spread the alarm when fire swept a part of historic Villa Maria convent last night. The nun's action was credited with saving the lives of six girl pupils, asleep in the wing which burned.

ROME, Feb. 14 [Friday].—(AP)—Italian press sources said today that Italian troops on the northern Ethiopian front were carrying on an offensive. Details of the action were not disclosed.

Report Oil "Plot" Against U. S.

GENEVA, Feb. 13.—(AP)—A report was current in diplomatic circles tonight that certain European nations have tried to induce Latin-American oil producing countries to cease oil shipments to the United States.

The object of the inducement, the report said, was to make difficult any shipments of oil to Italy from the United States. Imposition of an oil embargo by the league of nations appeared unlikely in view of advices from Washington that congressional legislation authorizing United States participation in such a war penalty seemed improbable.

Ex-Philippine Agent to U. S. Ends Life in Vault

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Manuel Earnshaw, 72, former Philippine resident commissioner to the United States, shot and killed himself in the family mausoleum today, authorities said. Earnshaw, one of Manila's most prominent business men, served as resident commissioner in Washington, D. C., from 1913 to 1917.

This is a peak month for winter conditions and the time to build up your general resistance

If, like many people, you have been drawing upon your reserve forces to carry you through the early part of winter, you may find yourself now in a condition of lowered general resistance.

Don't take a chance of coming down with common, winter ills. January and February are the worst months for these conditions. This is the time of year they affect the greatest number of people and are hardest to get rid of.

Do what you can to build up your general resistance. Begin to take Adex capsules or tablets!

Adex provides the vitamin which contributes more than any other to general resistance, Vitamin A. It also furnishes extra Vitamin D to help make up for lack of sunshine at this dreary season.

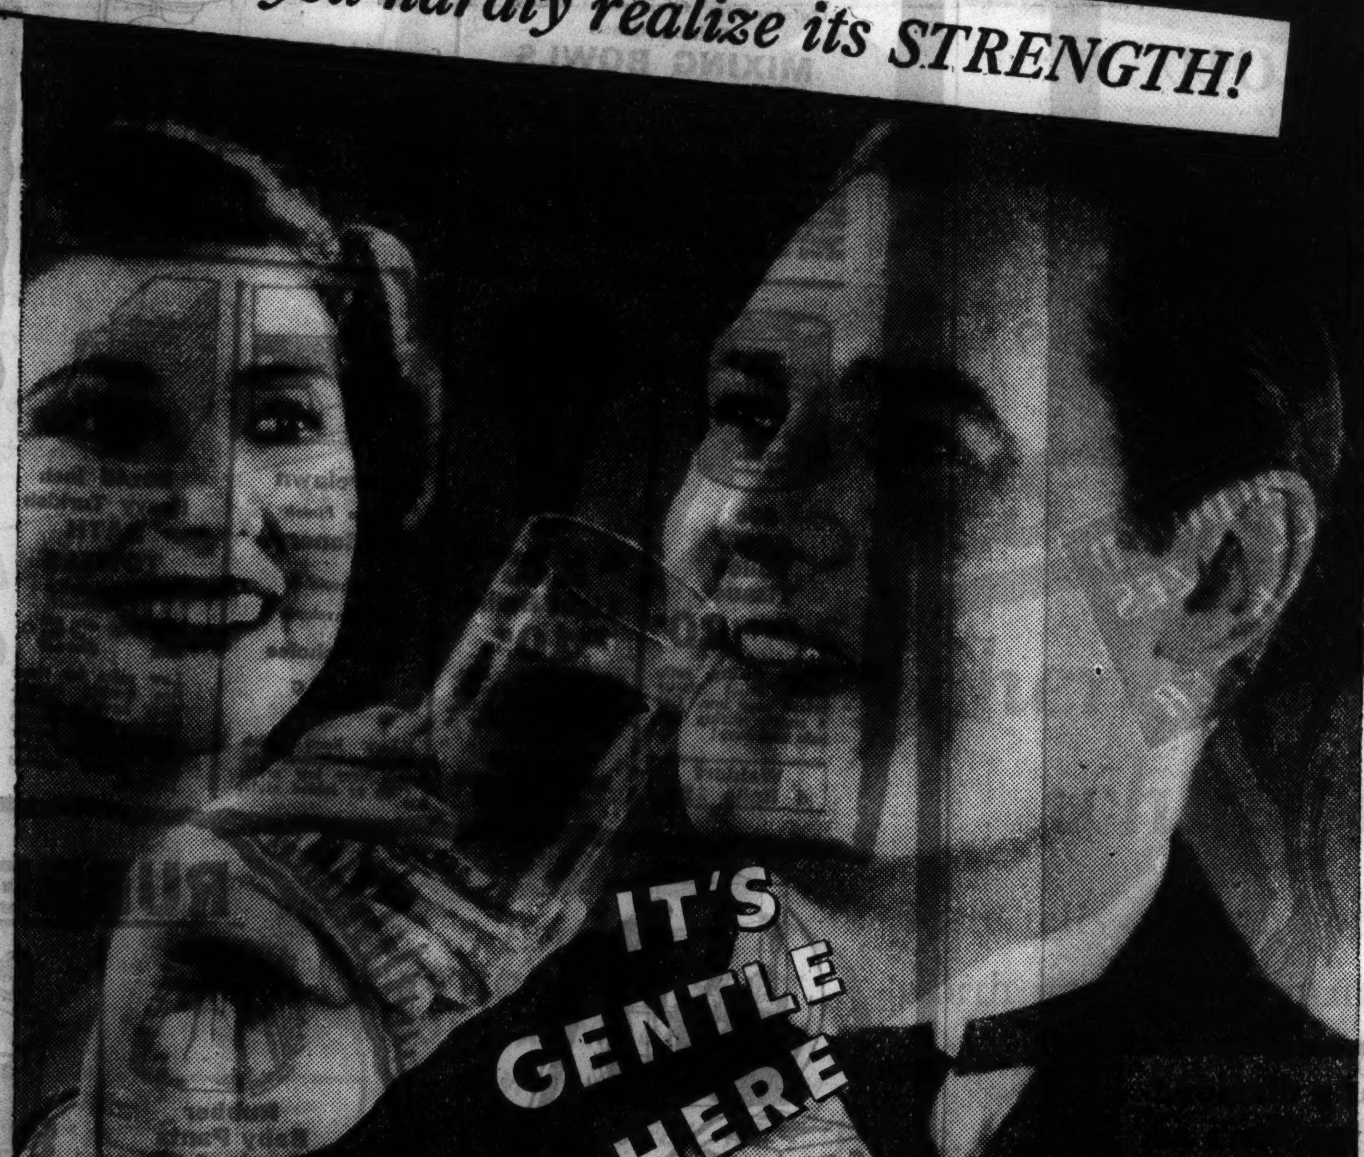
CHICAGO SAID—"Give us a Whisky like This!"..

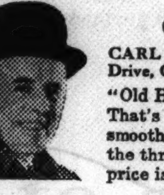
So smooth you hardly realize its STRENGTH!



IT'S GENTLE HERE

We had the whisky Chicago wanted...and Chicago has taken Old Hickory to its heart

Inquiring Reporter finds overwhelming swing to this finer whisky throughout the city



CLEAN TASTE

CARL ACKLEY, 3000 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago—Real Estate

"Old Hickory has a clean taste. That's why it's so completely smooth and mellow—gentle on the throat. And, best of all, the price is right."

PRICE

"I can't afford to pay a fortune for whisky—but I expect a lot for my money—a smooth, mellow, old-time Bourbon with a clean, delicious flavor."

BOOST

"My taste runs to Old Hickory—smooth, easy to take—and priced right. It gives me a pleasant glow, yet leaves me feeling fine next morning."

SMOOTHNESS

J. DELL LONG, 8107 Drexel Ave., Chicago—Photographer

"Old Hickory is smooth and mellow; made for smiles at night and smiles next morning. And Old Hickory is one authentic straight Bourbon that's priced right."

Chicago said: "Give us a whisky with a clean taste. Give us a whisky that leaves us feeling fit tomorrow morning. Give us a whisky with a "boost" and one that, above everything else, is smooth—that is gentle on the throat. Give us all this at a reasonable price."

And so we brought Old Hickory to Chicago, and already it has smashed all existing sales records. For here at last is a whisky made the expensive way, the traditional way—from choice premium grains and sparkling artesian-well water—aged for a full year in Ozark oak casks—and clean clear through.

Only a whisky as clean as this could be so gentle on your throat. And yet, because of its enormous popularity, this expensive whisky can be offered at an amazingly reasonable price.

Try Old Hickory tonight . . . in a cocktail or highball...or, best of all, "straight." Thank Old Hickory tomorrow morning. Continental Distilling Corporation, Philadelphia, Pa.

ROWAN DEMANDS COUNCIL HEARING ON COAL DISPUTE

Fuel Dealer Applauds Sealer's "Embargo."

Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] yesterday proposed a public hearing before the city council on complaints of upper Illinois river valley coal operators that a Chicago embargo against their product exists. This embargo, say the mine owners, is enforced by James M. O'Keefe, city sealer, under the Chicago weights and measures ordinance, and benefits Chicago fuel dealers to the detriment of the city's consumers.

"Some residents of my ward have had experiences that indicate this ordinance can work an injustice," said Ald. Rowan. "My main interest is to amend the regulations so they do not increase the cost of fuel and at the same time protect consumers against misrepresentations as to quantity or quality.

Accept Bargain; Arrested.

"In my ward, next to the Indiana line, are about 600 men who work in refineries across the state line. Through their employers they were able to buy coke at about 50 per cent of the retail market price. When the coke was being delivered from the refineries to their homes the drivers were arrested for not having certificates from a Chicago weighmaster licensed by the city sealer."

W. J. O'Brien, chairman of the coal division of the Chicago Association of Commerce, made known that he is preparing a report for the executive committee of the association, upholding the city sealer's enforcement of the ordinance under attack, which requires a coal truck to be weighed first empty and then loaded before making a delivery. Chicago dealers, with weighmasters in their yards, experience no difficulty in complying. A truck coming loaded from outside the city, however, is required to unload and load at a city scale before delivering.

Charges Short Weights.

"The only folks who have been harassed by Mr. O'Keefe's office," said Mr. O'Brien, who is vice president of the Sterling-Midland Coal company of Indiana and Chicago, "are those who have been guilty of misleading advertising, short weights, and general irresponsibility.

"There are northern Illinois mines delivering coal by truck into Chicago who have no complaint against the city's enforcement of the weights and measures ordinance. There are Chicagoans, including one large neighborhood department store, who are buying coal directly from the nearby mines and who are not complaining against the ordinance.

"The cost of unloading and loading a truck is not $1 a ton as has been stated by these complainants, but approximately 20 cents a ton.

"This is the price that is being paid to protect Chicagoans from short weights, inferior grades, and misleading advertising from mine operators who have refused to accept responsibility for the misconduct of their part-time and fly-by-night truckers. The public is being protected at the same time the established dealers of Chicago are being protected against unfair competition."

URGES LAWS STRONG ENOUGH TO DEPORT ALIEN CRIMINALS HERE

There are 2,811 alien gangsters in Chicago who could immediately be deported if this country had the stringent immigration laws it should have, Dr. Kenneth Colegrove, professor of political science at Northwestern university, told members of the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

"These persons are not mythical characters," Prof. Colegrove said. "They are walking the streets of Chicago today, a menace to society. Their names and records are on file in the immigration offices at the federal courthouse, but they cannot be deported under the present law.

Dr. Colegrove urged that support be given the Kerr-Coolidge immigration bill, now pending in congress, which, he said, will correct many of the inadequacies of the old law governing aliens. He suggested that members of the Kiwanis club and others write their representatives in congress and urge them to aid passage of the bill.

In addition to making the carrying of concealed weapons a deportable crime, Dr. Colegrove said, the Kerr-Coolidge bill eliminates the "absurd perfunctory deportations" for improper entry under the quota system.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Eddie Jacobson, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Henry Doberton, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Denis J. Normoyle.

A woman and three men, who were identified as the passers of spurious checks in stores on the west and northwest sides, were sentenced to terms in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. The defendants are Mrs. Marie Vogt, 33 years old, 2755 Warren avenue, and Edward Shumacker, 47 years old, 3446 Monroe street, each sentenced to six months, and Shumacker's brother, William, and Mathew Bitrick, 32 years old, 1931 Madison street, each sentenced to ninety days.

HOLD WOMAN FOR STEALING BABY TO TRICK TWO MEN

Accuse Her of Passing Off Doll as Her Infant.

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 13.—(AP)—A woman charged with first passing off a doll as her baby and then stealing a real infant in order to place "two male friends under moral obligations" was committed today to trial on a charge of kidnaping.

At the same session of the Criminal Assize court her two sons will also be tried on a charge of murdering the father of the baby alleged to have been kidnaped.

It will be New Brunswick's first kidnaping trial and one of the strangest cases in Canada's legal annals. The preliminary hearing was held today.

Said She Expected Baby.

The prosecution alleges that Mrs. May Bannister, who faces the kidnap trial, "just had to procure a baby somewhere" because she had told two men friends she was an expectant mother.

She "warned the men early in December," the prosecution asserted, and then appeared on the streets with what witnesses testified appeared to be a "bundled up baby." In reality, said the prosecution, it was a life size doll."

Then, as outlined by the prosecutors, because of her "necessity" of obtaining a baby, her two sons went to the shack of Philip Lake, a bush squatter. The night of Jan. 5, Lake was shot and was cremated when the cabin burned down. His common-law wife, Mrs. Marshall Ring, and their elder child froze to death in the snow outside.

Tells of Carrying Away Baby.

Frances, 15 year old daughter of Mrs. Bannister, told the court she and her two brothers carried away the Lake baby the night Lake was killed, but refused to say why.

"There was no evidence to show she had a baby between the time she warned the men early last December and Jan. 5, when the Lake tragedy occurred," the prosecutor asserted.

He said authorities had found both the Lake baby and a large doll in the Bannister home. The doll, he added, has been split open to remove the automatic "mama cry."

DISPUTE IS SETTLED BY DRESS INDUSTRY; TRADE RUSH EXPECTED

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Peace settled over the dressmaking industry today as the impending strike of more than 100,000 workers was called off following an all-night conference of union officials and manufacturing associations.

Successful conclusion of the negotiations will avert a tie-up of the industry which has been threatened since last September and would have cost manufacturers millions of dollars.

Union officials said an agreement to be signed tomorrow will limit the number of contractors a jobber may have work for him, thus preventing calls for bids and price shaving; groups of workers will be allowed to negotiate the price for piecework with the jobbers and a board will be set up to negotiate all disputes. Release of orders for 60 million dollars worth of merchandise will result from settlement of the controversy, they said.

BY MARY MEADE.

Remember the irate husband-chef who maintained that broccoli was a food few women knew how to prepare? Well, what about it? It's certainly not a stranger in our food markets any longer, and our personal feeling is that all women who cook other green vegetables probably will do a good job of preparing broccoli, too. But, just to be sure, maybe we'd better review the one tricky point about cooking it. And then, how about a few suggestions for serving this green fella in new guises?

The catch in the cooking, first. If you're preparing both the heavy stalks of the broccoli and the tender flowery end for the same meal, it's obvious that by the time the stalks are tender the poor flowers will be sadly overcooked. So, some cooks cut the stalks off, put them on to cook first, and then, when they are almost tender, drop the flower ends into the kettle. [Plenty of water, and no cover, of course, because the attractive green coloring has to be preserved. Both overcooking and a lid on the kettle mean a disconsolate olive green hue.]

Another method is to use an asparagus steamer, if you have one. In that, the heavy stalks are submerged right in the boiling water, while the tender tops cook in the steam. That's an excellent method if you're planning to serve the attractive longish stalks just as they are, with a Hollandaise sauce.

And still another method is to cook the flower tops and the stalks separately. The tops may be cooked to serve, with a plain butter dressing, for a vegetable with one meal. The stalks may be saved and cooked later for one of these suggested combination dishes of which we wish to remind you.

BROCCOLI AU GRATIN.

Broccoli Loaf.

[With Cheese Sauce.]

2½ cups cooked broccoli
2 eggs
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 cup cracker crumbs
Salt, pepper
3 tablespoons melted margerine or butter
1⅓ cups canned tomatoes

Cut the broccoli stems in 1 inch lengths, and chop the flower ends coarsely. Combine with the slightly beaten eggs and other ingredients, season to taste, and turn into a loaf pan lined with waxed paper. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 40 minutes. Unmold on a hot platter, and serve with a hot cheese sauce. [Serves eight.]

BROCOLLI AND EGG SALAD.

Chill cooked broccoli. Hardcook six eggs. Shell them, cut in halves and mash and season the yolks. Refill the whites with the seasoned mixture. Arrange the cooked broccoli on beds of lettuce and garnish each with two stuffed egg halves. Serve with French dressing as the main dish at luncheon or supper. [Serves six.]

DRESSED UP MEAT LOAF

Here's a new way to dress up the meat loaf—a bacon meat roll with olive stuffing. Make a flat layer of a blend of ground veal, pork, and beef, and shape around a delicious olive bread stuffing. A bacon covering over the roll keeps the meat basted and juicy. Mushroom gravy makes a perfect accompaniment and whole olives a suitable and colorful garnish.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

DELICIOUS ICE BOX CAKE.

½ cup butter
¾ cup powdered sugar
¼ cup chopped nut meats
½ cup drained shredded pineapple
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
Vanilla marshmallow sandwich cookies
Whipped cream

Cream together the butter and sugar, add nuts and pineapple. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Put a layer of cookies in a cake pan. Cover with nut, fruit mixture and cover with a second layer of sandwich cookies, pressing them into mixture. Chill five or six hours. Serve with whipped cream.

CHEESE-TOMATO PARCHED RICE.

3 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup tomato sauce
½ cup grated cheese

Melt the butter in a heavy skillet and add the rice. Cook until the rice is slightly brown, stirring lightly with a fork. Put into a hot serving dish, pour the tomato sauce over it and sprinkle with cheese, lifting the rice with a fork so that the sauce and cheese coat each kernel.

LAYERED CHEESE AND BLUEBERRY SALAD

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 cup well drained canned blueberries
1 tablespoon sugar
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup broken walnut meats

Dissolve the gelatin in hot water. Add the cold water, and chill. Combine the carefully drained blueberries with the sugar, and, when the gelatin is slightly thickened, fold into one-half of it. Turn this mixture—the blueberries and half the gelatin—into a mold and chill until firm. Place the remaining gelatin in a bowl of cracked ice and beat with rotary beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in the cheese and nuts, pour over the firm first layer, and chill. Serve on crisp salad greens with a mild fruit dressing.

VEGETABLE PIE WITH POTATO CRUST.

2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat
1 medium sized onion
1 cup meat, cut in cubes
1 cup milk
1 cup cold cooked carrots
1 cup cold cooked potato, mashed
1 cup peas
salt and pepper

Slice the onion and brown it in fat. Add the meat and sear it well. Then add the milk and the chopped vegetables and salt and pepper to taste. Turn the mixture into a baking dish, cover it with potato crust and bake in a moderately heated oven for 30 minutes, or until it is well browned.

ROLLED COOKIE PATTERN RECIPE OFFERS VARIETY

Slight Changes Vary Kinds of Cookies.

This rolled cookie pattern recipe with variations is submitted by the New York state college of home economics. With a few slight changes, one pattern may serve for many different kinds of rolled cookies.

Pattern Recipe.

2-3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1-3 cup milk
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Cream the fat, add the sugar, and mix thoroughly. Add the beaten eggs and the milk. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together and add this to the first mixture. Toss the dough on a floured board, roll it thick or thin as desired. Cut it into desired shapes; place the cookies on a greased cookie sheet and bake them in a 350 to 400 degree F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes. This recipe makes from 30 to 40 cookies when cut with a cookie cutter two and one-half inches in diameter.

Variations.

Sugar Cookies: To the pattern recipe, add one-half teaspoon of lemon extract and one-fourth teaspoon of nutmeg. Sprinkle granulated sugar over the top before baking.

Coconut Cookies: To the pattern recipe, add one-half cup of shredded coconut. After rolling out the dough, sprinkle the coconut on top and roll it again lightly before cutting out the cookie shapes.

Nut Cookies: To the pattern recipe, add one-half cup of chopped nuts of any kind.

Sour Cream Cookies: Use the pattern recipe, but instead of the fat and milk, use 1 cup of thick sour cream and one-half teaspoon of soda.

PICKLE
WINS POPULAR POLL

● Families everywhere are casting a landslide vote in favor of Heinz Fresh Cucumber Pickle! Relished by our forbears, these crisp, crunchy, pickle slices are reviving a taste-thrill America couldn't forget. That's because Heinz makes them just as our ancestors did—according to a treasured, old-time recipe! You'll like this wonder relish as a salad by itself. Try some soon!

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN HEINZ

● Drink a glass of sparkling Heinz Tomato Juice! Prove to yourself what a richer, better drink it is! That's because Heinz presses it from exalted, prize tomatoes—ripe, ruddy ones with a pedigree that's precious. These luscious beauties are raised from special seedlings nurtured in Heinz own greenhouses. And on the very day they're picked from the growing plants, Heinz presses the delicious juice and seals it "instant-fresh" in shining tins. Only the tiniest pinch of salt is added. No wonder Heinz Tomato Juice is better tasting—better for you!

BEST INGREDIENTS!
BEST LIKED!

MOTHER NATURE alone doesn't produce the rich, ruddy tomatoes that go into Heinz Tomato Ketchup. In our own greenhouses, we raise the pedigreed seedlings from which these thoroughbreds grow. Then they're planted in rich soil for sun blessing—vine-ripening. At the peak of their luscious, juicy perfection, they're plucked—rushed to our spotless kitchens for cooking.

Then comes slow simmering. Down and down our prize tomatoes are cooked, until they reach their rich, essential goodness. Rare spices, brought by Heinz from the gardens of the Orient are blended in. While still hot, this palate-pleasing, essence is poured in gleaming bottles—ready for your instant use.

Use Heinz Tomato Ketchup! Work meal miracles that will amaze your husband! And here's a tip: Keep two bottles always handy—one for the table and one for your daily cooking.

HOT
but no bother

● Now for baked beans as good as those of old New England—piping hot—but without the labor, without the kitchen-time. Baked the time-honored way in hot, dry ovens—baked through and through till the original moisture is driven out so that the rich sauce can be thoroughly absorbed. Four kinds: with pork and tomato sauce; with tomato sauce but no pork; Boston-Style in molasses sauce; red kidney beans in sweet sauce. Just heat and serve. But be sure they're Heinz Oven-Baked Beans.

WHEN SPINACH SOUP BECOMES A NATIONAL FAVORITE It Must Be Good!

WHEN our soup chef put aside his ladle and said, "Here is a masterpiece," we expected something spectacular. But even our sunniest optimist didn't dream that this savory blend of rich cream and crisp young spinach would actually become a national favorite in the span of a few months. Naturally, for a soup to reach such dazzling heights of popularity so quickly, it must be good!

Heinz Cream of Spinach is an old-fashioned kind of soup—made to a treasured recipe and cooked the old-time home way. We take crisp, garden-green, fresh spinach and wash it thoroughly. We chop it fine, and add it, in generous quantities, to an open kettle of "thicker than whipping" cream.

We stir it, watch over it, and season it expertly with rare spices. When each small batch reaches its flavor peak, we seal it in spotless tins. The "home flavor" stays right there in the soup until you're ready to eat!

All of the 20 Heinz Home-style Soups are made this same slow, painstaking way. They're all ready to heat and serve. No mixing, no fussing. Our cooks do all the work—yours is the fun of eating! Get a few tins of Heinz Cream of Spinach Soup today—and expect loud "ohs" and "ahs" from your delighted family at dinner tonight!

HOT CASSEROLE DISH WELCOME ON A COLD DAY

Here Are Three Recipes to Try Out.

There's nothing more welcome on the table these frostbitten days than a hot casserole dish. One like the following kidney bean casserole is almost a meal in itself and needs no other accompaniment than crispy salad with a tart dressing, rolls and butter, and a tasty dessert:

KIDNEY BEAN CASSEROLE.

2 cups kidney beans
3 medium sized carrots, cut fine
1 medium sized onion, cut fine
1 cup of tomatoes
⅓ cup chopped round steak
Salt and pepper
Dash of celery salt

Brown the meat in a small amount of fat. Add the other ingredients, and season with salt, pepper, and celery salt. Bake the mixture in a covered greased dish, for 45 minutes in a 375 to 400 degree Fahrenheit oven, or until the vegetables are tender.

Here are other casserole dishes of the same type and to fill a similar purpose:

SUPPER DISH.

1½ lb. veal
1½ lb. pork
1 can chicken soup
1 can pimientos
1 pkg. fine noodles
1 large green pepper
⅝ lb. mild American cheese, grated
1 can corn
Cracker crums

Cut veal and pork into small pieces and boil until tender [about ¾ hour]. Add the noodles, the soup and the green pepper chopped fine and cook till the noodles are tender [about 20 minutes]. Add the grated cheese, and the pimiento, chopped fine. Put into a buttered baking dish, cover with corn, sprinkle with crums and bake 20 to 30 minutes, in a moderate oven [325 degrees Fahrenheit].

HUNGARIAN GOULASH.

Mince two onions and brown them in 5 tablespoons butter or drippings. Cut 2 pig kidneys and a half pound each of pork, beef and veal into cubes an inch square. Put them in with the onions to brown. Chop a green pepper to bits, cut 2 tomatoes into quarters and mince some parsley and put them in with the rest. Pour in hot water until meat is about covered. Simmer, covered, for 50 minutes. Peel and dice four raw potatoes. After 50 minutes, put potatoes in, add a little more water, season with a tablespoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, and let simmer for another few minutes.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

LEMON FLUFF DESSERT.

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1⅛ cups sugar
Juice of 1½ lemons
Grated rind 1 lemon
1½ cups milk
3 tablespoons flour
3 eggs

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream well together. Add well beaten egg yolks, flour, lemon juice, and rind. Mix thoroughly. Add milk and then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased baking dish. Set in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 45 minutes.

HOMINY AND BACON WITH TOMATO SAUCE.

2 cups canned hominy
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup tomato sauce
3 to 6 slices bacon
Pepper

Drain the hominy, let stand in cold water for five minutes, and drain again. Cut the bacon strips across in one inch strips, place in cold skillet and cook over low flame until crisp. Remove from skillet. Cook the hominy in the bacon fat until well seasoned and slightly browned. Add the bacon, tomato sauce, and seasoning. Serve hot. If this recipe is to be made into a casserole dish, cover with a half cup of bread crums which have been mixed with melted butter or margarine.

EGG NOODLE RINGS.

1 package egg noodles
5 eggs
2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Pimentos for garnish

Parboil the noodles for seven minutes in four quarts of rapidly boiling water ,to which one tablespoon of salt has been added. Drain. Beat the egg yolks well, add the noodles, the melted butter, cream, salt, and pepper. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a well greased ring mold, set in a pan of hot water, for 30 minutes. Fill center of ring with creamed mushrooms, fish, diced chicken, or meat. Garnish with pimentos.

GINGERSNAP ICE BOX PUDDING.

1 cup pineapple, cut fine
½ pint cream, whipped
⅓ cup soft butter
½ cup chopped nuts
3 bananas
1 cup powdered sugar
2 eggs

Roll gingersnaps to make crums. Combine fruits and nuts with whipped cream and beat with one tablespoon of powdered sugar. Cream the powdered sugar and butter until smooth, then add the whole eggs, one at a time, and beat until creamy. Grease a pan with butter and put about two-thirds of the crums in first. On this pour the creamed sugar, butter, and egg mixture. Spread to cover all the crums. On this spread fruit, which has been combined with whipped cream. Sprinkle remaining crums over all and set away in refrigerator. Top with whipped cream.

CHICKEN CHOP SUEY WITH RICE.

3 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded green pepper
1 cup shredded onions
2 cups shredded cooked chicken
2 cups shredded celery and leaves
2 cans canned bean sprouts
1½ cups chicken broth
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup toasted almonds
4 tablespoons soy sauce

Melt the butter in a skillet and put in the green pepper and onion. Cook for a few minutes, but do not brown. Add the shredded chicken, heat thoroughly, and add the celery, bean sprouts, and all of the chicken broth except two tablespoons. Blend the cornstarch with this small amount of reserved broth and mix gently into the hot mixture in the skillet, stirring well. Stir in the toasted almonds and soy sauce, heat well, and serve with hot, fluffy rice.

CREAM PUFF FROSTING.

2 eggs beaten thoroughly
2 cups granulated sugar
3 squares bitter chocolate
6 tablespoons cream
4 tablespoons butter

Blend the caramel cream with the water, beat until creamy, and pour into the baked pie shell. Chill until an hour or so before serving, and then slice the bananas on top of the caramel, cover with whipped cream, and continue chilling.

WANT AD BRINGS RETURN OF RING MISSING ONE DAY

RING — LOST — DIAMOND, LADIES' washroom, main floor, Hotel Stevens, noon Saturday. Reward. Fairfax 7310.

This advertisment appeared in THE TRIBUNE on Monday at the order of Mrs. Caroline Winkelman, 5130 South Kenwood avenue. On Tuesday Mrs. Winkelman recovered her ring.

It was learned yesterday that the ring was taken to A. S. Winkofer, a jeweler at 725 Lake street, Oak Park, by Miss Agnes Coughlin, 311 South Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, who asked him if it was of any value. Mr. Winkofer recalled THE TRIBUNE advertisment and arranged a meeting between Mrs. Winkelman and Miss Coughlin, returning the ring to Mrs. Winkelman when she identified it.

Mr. Winkofer said he believed the ring had a valuation of about $1,000. The amount of the reward was not disclosed.

THEY USE THE SAME SOAP YET JULIA'S DISHES HAVE A FILM . . . MABLE'S HAVE A SPARKLE!

"Mable, why are my dishes gloomy with film while yours are sparkling and alive. Don't we use the same soap?"
"Yes, Julia, but I Sprinkle in a teaspoon or so of Climalene. It cuts the grease film that soap leaves behind!"

just A TEASPOON MAKES GLOOMY DISHES GLEAM AGAIN!

"Mable, just look at these dishes! Who'd think there was sparkle like that in a teaspoon of this! . . . It's just thrilling!"
CLIMALENE
CLEANSER WATER SOFTENER AND SOAP SAVER
FOR KITCHEN-LAUNDRY AND BATH

IT'S strange, but true, that you can get two different results from the same soap. Use [illegible] alone and you get dishwater gloom. Sprinkle in a teaspoon or two of CLIMALENE and chinaware and glasses sparkle like jewels. All the pristine purity of original surfaces is called back to life again by Climalene.

It softens hard water. Cuts through, expels every trace of grime and grease. And it doesn't fade the color schemes off china . . . it rather renews their brilliancy and beauty . . . and it does it with half the soap and in less than half the time of soap alone!

Use CLIMALENE for the most delicate tasks or for the roughest chores . . . for whiter washes and softer, richer colors . . . in fact, for anything from your finest linens to the linoleum on the kitchen floor. Get Climalene from your grocer today, and you'll be glad tomorrow. He has it in two sizes, the introductory 12 ounce size for 10c, the 2 pound giant package for 25c. The Climalene Co., Canton, Ohio.

OLD JACK FROST GETS HIS TURN AT DESSERT COURSE

Home Frozen Delicacies Described in Booklet.

Jack Frost rules the out-of-doors these days, no doubt about that, but there's no harm in letting him have a look in when it comes to the dessert course of the evening meal.

After a steaming soup course, followed by a warming main dish or two, the chill of blustering winds is forgotten, and it's right and proper to balance the menu with a frozen dessert.

"Home Frozen Delicacies," Mary Meades' excellent booklet, is filled with recipes for ice creams, sherbets, mousses, parfaits, and ices, which are both delicious and simple to prepare. Separate recipes are given for those to be ice frozen and those to be refrigerator frozen. To obtain this book send 13 cents, stamps or coin, to Mary Meade, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, or pick up a copy at one of our Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn or Tribune Tower, for 10 cents.

COLORFUL SALAD TO SERVE AT WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY FESTIVITIES

WASHINGTON SALAD.

6 halves of pears
30 canned red cherries
30 halves of pecans
2-3 cup cottage cheese
½ cup whipped cream

Pit the cherries and refill them with pecans. Combine the cheese and whipped cream. Place crisp leaf of lettuce on a salad plate and lay on it one-half of a pear, with its cut side up. Arrange the stuffed cherries on top of the pear, pour over this French fruit dressing, and pipe the cheese and cream in rosettes with a pastry tube around the base of the pear.

For light evening refreshment this salad served with hot chocolate and assorted sandwiches or little hot biscuits is quite sufficient.

DATES FOR HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC CONTESTS SET

Dates for the 1936 high school instrumental solo, ensemble and band contests were announced yesterday by William H. Johnson, assistant superintendent of schools. A date for the high school orchestra contest will be named later, Mr. Johnson said.

Wind ensemble trials will be held March 12 at Manley High school, and the string ensemble contest the following day at Lane Technical High school. A drum majors' contest also will be held this year, Mr. Johnson said. Preliminaries in the solo contest are scheduled for Hyde Park, Marshall, and Lane Technical High schools, starting next Wednesday and continuing four days. The finals will be held Feb. 29.

The band contest preliminaries will be held at Harrison High school April 7, Hyde Park High school April 8, and Tilden Technical High school on April 9. Roosevelt High school will be the scene of the band finals on April 16.

I'M SO GLAD YOU HAVEN'T LET DISH-WASHING RUIN YOUR HANDS

THIS EASY WAY TO WASH DISHES IS GREASELESS, TOO

EVERYONE knows how famous Rinso is for washing clothes whiter—without hard scrubbing or boiling. Its rich suds — thick and creamy, even in hardest water— are marvelous for dishes, too.

Wait until you see how grease soaks off! A hot rinse...and dishes come clean —no greasy film remains. And Rinso is so kind to your hands. Try it for pots and pans, for woodwork, tubs, basins. No grit. Makes all cleaning easier.

WE had been missing the boat

I'm talking about coffee. We fooled around for ages with one brand after another. But none of them ever tasted right. We wondered why we never got a decent tasting coffee. Blamed the directions; yes, the coffee pot, too. And the only reason we let the agony endure was because we figured that our old time favorite brand—Hills Bros.—cost more than we could afford to pay.

But last week we woke up. My wife said, "Let's buy a pound of Hills Bros. and have coffee we can really enjoy." So she bought a can and that first cup was certainly good news. After breakfast my wife said, "Do you want to know something? Hills Bros. Coffee costs practically the same as most of the brands I've been buying and it's miles ahead in flavor." Can you tie that? We certainly had been missing the boat and that's no fairy tale.

HOUSEWIVES VOTE FOR SILVER DUST

Its deeper suds make dishwashing quick and easy

DEEPER SUDS! Quicker suds! Richer, creamier suds that last all through dishwashing. That's Silver Dust . . . the white, mild, sudsy soap that really makes dishwashing quick and easy. The famous dishpan test proves it.

Try Silver Dust. A little makes a lot of suds. The kind that get rid of dirt and grease . . . make dishes sparkle, glassware glisten. Everything made clean and bright. And all so economically.

"WHENEVER WE MAKE THIS TEST WOMEN ARE CONVINCED!"

"First we put a level teaspoonful of another packaged soap in a dishpan with a half pint of warm water. Next, we swish the soap around with our fingers for fifteen seconds. Then we pour the water and suds into a quart jar. Now we do the same thing with Silver Dust. You can see for yourself that it actually does make deeper, richer, more full-bodied suds for quick, easy dishwashing."

WEEK-END PRICES ARE GOOD NEWS TO MEAT BUYERS

Blizzard Fails to Send Retail Cuts Up.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Butchers in hundreds of retail shops throughout the city and nearby suburbs will have surprises on their counters for meat buyers today and tomorrow. THE TRIBUNE weekly survey indicates that in general retailers have not marked up their prices on beef and lamb.

A general boost in retail meat prices was expected following the blizzard early in the week. Live stock shipments were greatly limited because of snowstorms. There has been an upswing in prices of live hogs, cattle, dressed pork, and dressed lamb.

Pork cuts have been advanced in price in some retail stores, while in others most cuts are the same or less. Pork was expected to be higher in stores generally. Several hundred shops, instead of increasing pork prices, have actually made slight reductions on a few cuts. Loin of pork and pork sausage will be less in these butcher shops today and tomorrow than a week ago.

Bacon and Sirloin Down.

Many shops are also offering bacon at reduced prices. Sirloin steak has been reduced as much as 3 cents a pound in many shops. While lamb prices are about the same in most retail stores, in some cases a few lamb cuts are higher than last week.

If snowstorms continue to prevent the normal shipments of live stock, retail prices of meats may be expected to advance soon in keeping with higher live stock and wholesale prices. This week hogs jumped up to a top of $11.15 a hundred pounds. Market reporters said yesterday that live hogs were "uneven to 35 to 75 cents a hundred pounds above last week." There were only about 40,000 hogs brought to the Chicago market during the week. Ordinarily there would have been two or three times that number.

Cattle Prices at New Top.

Cattle prices went to a top of $12.65 a hundredweight, with good to choice steers selling about 25 cents a hundred higher than a week ago. Dressed beef of the better grades is 50 cents a hundred pounds lower than last week. There is also a tendency for prices to go lower on the lower grades of dressed beef.

Fat lamb prices were about the same this week as last, but dressed lamb is from 50 cents to $1 a hundred above last week's prices.

Dairy farmers are being given credit for their gameness in fighting snow blocked highways in delivering their daily supply of milk to country loading stations. Throughout the Chicago milk territory farmers have been working night and day to keep the roads open, using shovels, scrapers, and road graders. Milk wagon drivers in the city were being given credit by housewives for their share in putting the milk bottles on the back doorsteps every day this week, although some days their deliveries were late.

Staples Sell for Less.

Some stores are offering in their special week-end sales several staple items including canned vegetables, sugar, cheese, and low priced brands of flour and coffee. Sugar has been reduced as much as 6 cents a ten pound sack in many stores.

There have been only a few minor changes in retail prices of fresh fruits and vegetables since last week. Green onions, spinach, and green beans and peas are slightly higher than a week ago. Shipments of many kinds of fruits and vegetables have been unusually light because of the interference with railroad schedules caused by the snow, and the difficulty of loading the produce on cars in the extreme cold.

Federal market reporters explain that one of the main reasons why Chicago retailers are able to keep their counters well stocked with fresh vegetables in the face of short wholesale receipts is that many merchants in outlying districts are unable to take their normal supply from the local market. Cities in a radius of about 200 miles depend chiefly on the Chicago wholesale market for fruits and vegetables at this time of year. Dealers from these points have had difficulty getting trucks through snow blocked roads for their produce. As a result the short wholesale supply has been sufficient for the needs of city and nearby suburban retailers.

Eggs are 2 to 3 cents a dozen higher than last week. Butter is up 1 cent a pound in many stores.

Two Pie Plates Suggested for Baking Pastry Shells

When baking pastry shells, use two pie plates, one to hold the shell and the other to fit down on top of the shell. The weight of the top pie plate keeps the crust in place and a shapely shell is the result. This is more satisfactory when glass pie plates are used.

Chicago Author Sues Movie Companies Over Marx Film

A suit asking an injunction and an accounting was filed against the Metro Goldwyn Picture corporation, the Metro Goldwyn Distributing corporation, and Balaban and Katz in United States District court yesterday charging plagiarism in connection with the film, "A Night at the Opera," starring three of the Marx brothers. The suit, filed by Attorney Emerson C. Whitney in behalf of Wayne Lawrence, a Chicago author who uses the pen name of Larry Wynn, charged that many of the acts, scenes and incidents in the picture infringed on copyrights held by Lawrence on two plays he had written and filed with the copyright office in Washington.

Home Wives Advised to Buy Cuts of Beef

The committee on marketing information of the Meat Council of Chicago issued the following report for the guidance of housewives purchasing meat in Chicago retail meat stores:

"All cuts of beef, especially rib roast and steaks, are recommended to Chicago housewives as unusually attractive meat buys over the coming week-end. Fore quarter of lamb also can be purchased at economical prices."

LADIES! WE PAY YOU TO MAKE THESE 3 AMAZING TESTS!
—If You Don't Agree That Dreft Revolutionizes Fine-Fabric Washing

I'M GLAD YOU'RE MAKING THE DREFT TEST, TOO. DREFT SAVES ME DOLLARS A YEAR IN SILK STOCKINGS ALONE.
WELL, I'M NOT RISKING ANYTHING TO TRY IT AND IF IT DOES WHAT IT SAYS IT'S THE SUDS I'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR ALL MY LIFE.
LOOK! I'VE JUST WASHED BABY'S WOOLIES WITH DREFT AND THEY'VE COME OUT SOFT AND FLUFFY LIKE NEW.
MY DEAR, I WASH ALL MY SWEATERS AND WOOLENS IN DREFT. MY SOAP WASHINGS USED TO SHRINK THEM BUT DREFT DOESN'T HURT THEM A BIT.
I WOULDN'T HAVE BELIEVED IT! I THOUGHT THOSE COLORS WERE FADED—BUT THEY WERE ONLY SOAP-DULLED. IT'S DREFT SUDS FOR ALL MY SILKS FROM NOW ON.

Section of silk blouse after 10 washings in hard water with ordinary flakes.

The same blouse was then washed in Dreft—beautiful colors "came back."

1 SILK STOCKINGS! Dreft makes no soap scum at all. Not only that, but it washes away soap scum left by previous washes. Take a pair of "clean" soap-washed stockings. Wash just one of them in Dreft suds. It will be richer and shades cleaner. The other will be gray and dowdy by comparison.

2 FINE WOOLENS! It's soap scum caught in the fibers that gives woolens that greasy, coarse feel. Wash your finest woolen garment in Dreft. It will come out softer, fluffier, pleasanter to the touch. And probably shades brighter because the gray, dirty soap scum is washed away.

3 SILK PRINTS! Anything that's safe in water is safe in Dreft. Take any fine colored silk print that you've washed before. Just wash it in Dreft suds. The soap scum that was dulling it will disappear. The beautiful colors will "come back" as shown above—shades brighter than before.

Because Women Just Can't Believe This Amazing New Suds Discovery —We Make This Daring Double-Your-Money-Back Offer!

BECAUSE it is so hard for women to believe the amazing truth about this new suds, we are making this remarkable offer—for your benefit and ours, so that you will more quickly get acquainted with Dreft. This offer really means that if Dreft doesn't measure up to every single claim we make for it, we actually pay you to try it.

When you come to wash your fine things in Dreft for the first time, compare it with the most expensive fine-fabric soap or flakes you have ever used.

SAVES YOU MONEY!
One Teaspoonful of Dreft = Two Teaspoonfuls of any other Suds
Remember this when using!

The first thing you will notice about Dreft is how pleasant and easy it is to wash with.

Put a little in cool water. Instantly you have many times more suds than any other fine-fabric suds can give you.

You will see that every particle of Dreft has quickly dissolved. You need not rub your stockings, woolens or silks at all. Just press the gentle suds through and rinse once in cool water.

All other fine-fabric suds except Dreft form soap scum—that unpleasant dirty-looking "ring around the washbasin." This soap scum collects in your garments and ordinarily you can never get it out however much you rinse.

One washing in Dreft suds, though, will remove the old soap scum that remains from previous washings, and leave your fine things looking many shades brighter than they were before. The Dreft tests described above will prove this to you.

Dreft's gentle mildness is another thing that makes it so pleasant to use. It's far milder than even the most expensive flakes because it contains absolutely no alkali. In fact, it's the only suds that doesn't contain any alkali at all! Think what this means to your silk stockings!

Try Dreft. Make any of the tests described above. Then if you're not entirely satisfied, in every way, just mail us the front of the package. We will immediately send you double your money back.

Don't wait to take advantage of this remarkable offer. Ask your dealer for Dreft today. Wash your fine things in it tonight. Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK
—If Dreft Fails To Do These 6 Remarkable Things

1. Preserve richness and elasticity of silk stockings—help prevent runs!
2. Keep delicate lingerie from soap-dulling! The only fine-fabric suds to do so!
3. Form suds many times milder, more gentle than any other fine-fabric suds!
4. Cleanse fine things thoroughly—even lipstick and so-called "impossible" smudges!
5. Keep woolens soft and fluffy like new—no scum to coarsen the fibers!
6. Make 5 times greater suds in hardest water and form no soap scum at all!

Aunt Jemima's Magic Menu

HOT WAFFLES AND FRIZZLED CHIPPED BEEF
Chilled Fruit Juice
AUNT JEMIMA WAFFLES

How to make wonderful Waffles

1. Measure 2 cups Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour into mixing bowl. In another bowl beat 1 egg and combine with 2 cups milk or water. Pour liquid and 2 tablespoons melted butter or shortening into flour. Beat smooth. This makes six waffles.
2. Have waffle iron hot enough to bake a waffle perfectly in three minutes.
3. Grease iron lightly with paraffin after heating. Grease only once.
4. Serve waffles as soon as done. Never Stack. Stacking spoils crispness.

NEW MENU SERVICE FEATURED BY GROCERS

ONE order to your grocer brings you any item you need for this low-cost meal. Complete with printed, easy directions.

It's so easy for you to get waffles light and well-done because Aunt Jemima's special blend guarantees far more fluffiness than ordinary bread or biscuit flour. Aunt Jemima's contains only about half the amount of gluten of ordinary flour. And gluten is the taffy-like substance in flour that resists heat and slows up the baking process.

That's why, with only about half the gluten of ordinary flour, Aunt Jemima's waffles come out so perfectly done, so tender, fluffy and light in the few short minutes they are on the fire.

An Aunt Jemima waffle, a square of butter and one ounce of syrup are only 396 calories. Yet standard diets permit a total of 2,000 to 4,000 calories in the three daily meals. Have Aunt Jemima's Magic Menu for the next meal.

Movie Scouts Find Prospect in Church Choir

Girl, 13, Given Voice and Screen Tests.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—If movie talent scouts didn't attend church Edna May Durbin, 13, soprano of Second Methodist Episcopal church, Los Angeles, would not be getting voice and screen tests at Metro studio. One of the studio scouts heard her sing in the church choir. Her father is James Durbin, an electric welder.

Marlene Dietrich never looked more arresting than in the red blouse with print pattern that she wears as a Polish girl at Paramount in one of the movie contributions to the current grist of world war films, "I Loved a Soldier." In the scene she was sitting at a table, accosted by a burly Russian [Fred Koehler] shortly after winning a battle of wits with another group of invading soldiers.

Paramount's other war film is "Reunion" with Herbert Marshall as the British spy in German uniform who is sent across the border with a group of prisoners in an exchange. Gertrude Michael plays the German spy who recognizes Marshall, but whose love interferes with her duty to expose him.

John Barrymore and Elaine Barrie recently were vacationing at Palm Springs. John Meehan got tired of being a turf owner and made a gift of his stable consisting of one horse, Red Satin, to Dr. William E. Branch. The latter is converting Red Satin into a polo pony.

In keeping tab on the marriage vs. divorce situation among the movie people, here is the score for January, 1936: Engagements announced, 6; marriages, 11; separations publicly announced, 3; divorces filed, 11; divorces granted, 10; reconciliations reported, 1; children born, 4.

When Clark Gable was on his recent hunting and fishing trip to Guaymas, Mexico, with Director Jack Conway and Leo Carrillo, the trio attended several dances in the town and Carrillo acted as interpreter for the other two and relayed to mothers of the town belles Gable's requests to dance with the señoritas. Carrillo and Conway bring back the report that the mothers and duenas limited Gable to one dance only with any one señorita and the dance had to be all dancing, no moonlight strolls.

With Eddie Lowe, her widower, in Europe, and orders given for the sale of the home on Linden avenue which the late Lilyan Tashman decorated so handsomely, the last evidences of the reign of the once "best dressed woman in Hollywood" over the taste of the film colony was dissipated when an auction of her furniture, furnishings, and art objects valued at $50,000, was begun.

Lila Lee, who has retired from films to collaborate with Patsy Ruth Miller [also retired], as gown shop proprietress, says, "There may be some truth to reports I might marry Tony Bosari."

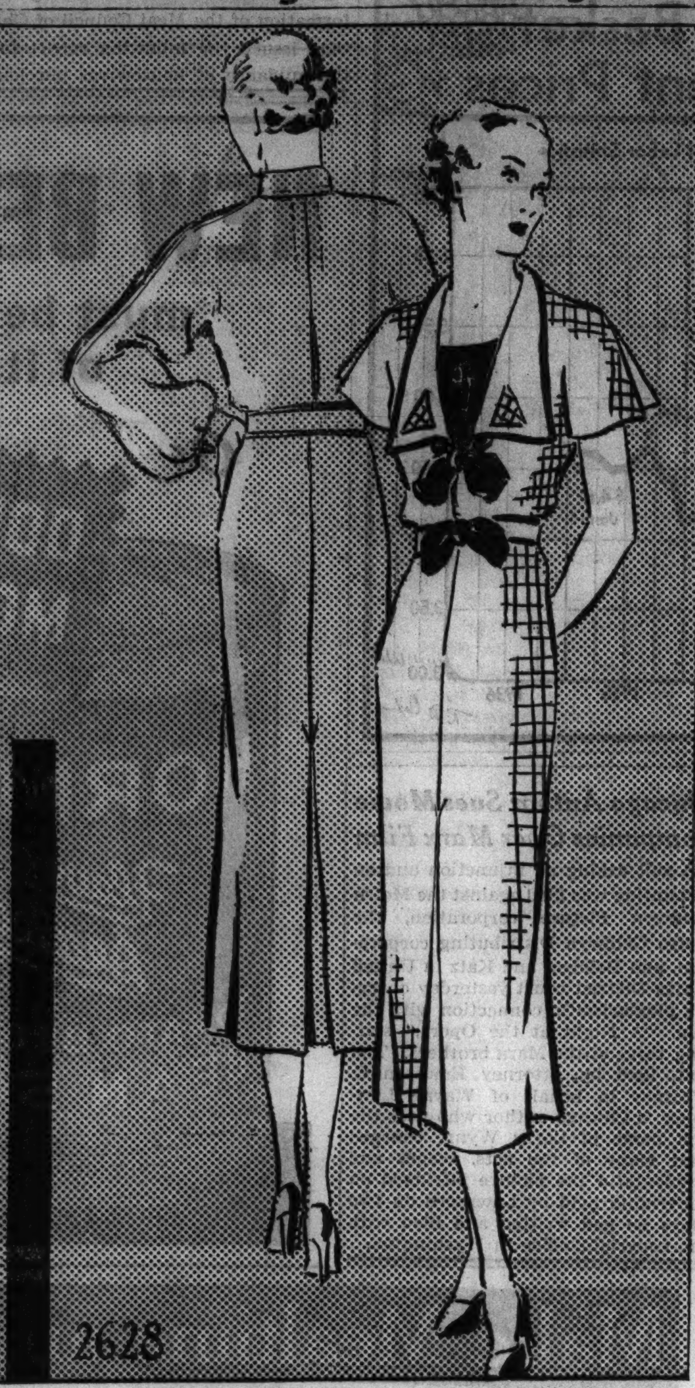
Flattering to All Ages



WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

No matter what your age, this frock will flatter you. The secret lies principally in the neckline, which is a youthful detail on an otherwise simple dress. The bow at the base of the collar, and its twin on the belt lend further chic.

One of the chief charms of this dress is that it is easy to make. There are no bothersome armholes to tackle, because the sleeves are cut in one with the shoulderline.

When it comes to fabric, you have a great deal of latitude. Choose your favorite colors in your favorite material. No matter what you select, you can't go wrong this spring, since never was there a season so considerate of personal preferences. The original of this frock was made of navy and white print, with navy and white trimming.

Misunderstood Wife Is Latest of Racketeers

Dupes Young Men to Win New Romance.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

He is 23 and in love with a woman of 25 and the mother of two children. She tells the youth that she does not care for her husband. She often threatens to leave him. Then, she is afraid she will lose the children if she goes through with a divorce. That's all that is keeping her from getting the divorce and marrying the 23 year old, she tells him.

We think the tables are turning as to which is the family trifler, the misunderstood member of the union. Time was when the husband earned all the honors for trifling outside the domestic circle. He it was who poured the tall tales of being misunderstood at home into receptive feminine ears. Now women are threatening to take over the rôle, lock, stock, and barrel. They attach themselves to some poor sap and prod him into chivalrous thoughts of rescuing them from an undeserved fate. They use the familiar old tactics, once the masculine prerogative, of remaining martyr-like, by the mate only for the children's sake.

Boy, grow up! With the complete and perfect cinch it is for a woman to walk out on a man these days, alimony insured, your kind of wife-siren isn't staying on with her man for any other reason than that it is where she prefers to be. There's security there, more of it than you have to offer. But you're an adventure for her. You're around to help convince her that she still is capable of knocking the men cold. You're there to pour the sweet nothings into her ear, but she's just smart enough to know that the man who is pouring the money for victuals into her hands matters a great deal.

You're being taken for a sleigh ride, Mr. Twenty-three, and your best friend would tell it to you, would you have the good sense to listen. As an inspiration in your young life, the woman is a phoney.

Get yourself a more becoming sweetheart! Get one who, like yourself, still believes in people. Get her quickly, too, for you do need some one to guide you.

Shakespeare Memorial Play to Be Given Here

Friday night and Saturday afternoon, March 6 and 7, the Hull House Actors' Guild will present two benefit performances of "The Piper" in the Chicago Woman's club theater. "The Piper," written by Mrs. Josephine Preston Peabody and directed by Miss Edith de Nancrede, will benefit the Jane Addams memorial fund. "The Piper" won a competition for the most appropriate dramatic piece for the opening of the first Shakespeare Memorial theater in England, and Mrs. Peabody went to England to direct the production.

Savant Reveals Gang Rule of Hiawatha's Day

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Hiawatha, the Maxim Gorky of the Iroquois, had a gangster stepbrother who "rubbed out" Hiawatha's bride, Minnehaha, and generally terrorized the tribe by methods suggestive of the Capones and Dutch Schultzes of today, the Smithsonian institution revealed today.

That Minnehaha, or whatever her name really was, was "taken for a ride" by this renegade, Wa-ta-do-da-ho, was confirmed by Dr. J. N. B. Hewitt, ethnologist of the institution, who has been reconstructing the Hiawatha story from details furnished forty years ago by a blind Iroquois ritual leader.

Wa-ta-do-da-ho never dared murder Hiawatha, founder of the religio-political system which was the precursor of the Iroquois league, because Hiawatha, taking his tribal affiliation from his mother, was a Mohawk, and the Mohawks were powerful and swift to vengeance. But he did kill Minnehaha and her children because she was only an Onondaga, as were her children, and the Mohawks cared no whit what happened to an Onondaga.

When Hiawatha returned from a business trip to find his family had been "put on the spot" by his gangster stepbrother, he went temporarily insane, says Dr. Hewitt, and started that strange wilderness journey in which he came under the influence of the Christians and evolved the doctrin of human brotherhood for which he is famous.

Deganawida, the Christ figure of the Iroquois epic, appears, like Tolstoi, to have been the preacher and philosopher of the new system, with Hiawatha the man of action, says Dr. Hewitt. Wa-ta-do-da-ho, the public enemy number one of his day, dropped out of history but for the vague references in the Iroquois ritual.

Theodore W. Robinson Will Wed in East

Ceremony on Tuesday in Cleveland.

BY JUDITH CASS.

MR. AND MRS. THEODORE W. ROBINSON and their daughter, Mrs. Ronald P. Boardman, and one of their twin sons, Sanger P. Robinson, will go to Cleveland on Monday for the marriage on Tuesday of the other Robinson twin, Theodore Jr. His bride-to-be is Mrs. Annabel Albright Wilson, formerly of Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., and the wedding is taking place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in Cleveland. The bride's father, John E. Albright, will give her in marriage. The ceremony will be attended by only the members of the immediate families.

Mrs. Wilson attended Miss Bennett's school in New York, and Mr. Robinson Jr. went to the Choate and Westminster schools and Harvard university. No announcement of an engagement has been made, so news of the wedding comes as a surprise to all but the bridegroom's most intimate friends.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Jr. will leave for New York to sail for Bermuda. They will be at home at 2608 Lake View avenue after the middle of March.

North Shore Towns Enjoy Winter Sports.

As snows follow the blizzard and the drifts grow higher, winter sports lovers along the north shore are coming into their own. With most of the attractions of Lake Placid available at their very doorsteps, even those who usually prefer to hug the fireplace in cold weather are being tempted to join their more athletic friends in skating and tobogganing.

Hubbard hill, long the favorite hazard of speeding motorists, is closed to them now, and has been transformed into an icy slide. Residents along the hill have banded together to supervise the coasting down the 1,100 foot stretch, and Howard T. Fisher, with the aid of several boys, has built a trestle which enables coasters to take the last dangerous curve out over the beach in safety.

If the weather permits, Miss Ruth Fisher is having 15 friends of hers and her brother's to dinner Sunday, and afterward they will join in tobogganing. On a recent sunny day 200 bobsledders were counted whizzing down the hill and plodding up again.

Become Snowbound at Winter Resorts.

Enthusiasts who have been traveling further afield in search of sport have found themselves involved in more adventures than they had bargained for. Ernst C. Schmidt; his sister, Mrs. William F. Petersen; her two sons, William and Conrad, and Nathan Osborne, son of Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, were up at Lake Geneva last week-end. Finding themselves snowbound, with roads closed, they got out an old sleigh and drove across the ice of the lake to the nearest town, where they caught a train that brought them back to Chicago Tuesday.

The Paget Cadys, the Peter Connors, the John Roots, Tom Furness, and Samuel Insull Jr. were in a similar predicament over the week-end up at Eagle River, Wis. The railroad nearest their camp was completely blocked and they had to drive 30

Weather Tales— Prodigy— Query— Theme.

MRS. BALLARD MOORE exchanged comments about the weather a few days ago with the elevator man in the building in which the Moores live at 942 Lake Shore drive.

"Yes, we certainly had a bad blizzard," he commented. "Do you know—I saw a man's hat lying in the snow along the east side of the drive, and, when I went to pick it up, discovered there was a man under it. I started to help dig him out and asked if he wanted a lift, and he told me no, he was on a horse."

ANOTHER cold weather story concerns the passenger aboard a snowbound train near Fond du Lac, Wis. He attracted the attention of the other passengers by walking up and down wringing his hands and murmuring, "O, this is awful. Everybody is there but me and it's my own wedding."

THE child prodigy of the piano, Ruth Slenczynski, likes conundrums like any other little girl her age. When she arrived at the airport for her concert here a Beverly Hills woman, Mrs. George Bayard, took a half dozen Girl Scouts from that suburb to meet her plane. The taking of pictures delayed the party until all the buses had left, so Mrs. Bayard drove the party to town, with Ruth and her father crowded into the front seat. Mr. Slenczynski went into quite a monolog about Ruth's genius telling how he had ordained that Ruth should carry on his musical career, interrupted by the world war, and Ruth was quiet until she saw the lake.

"Lake Michigan. O, I must tell you a riddle," she interrupted. "If a man who lives in Michigan is called a Michigander, what would a woman be called?" After that she asked another one—the one about the two Indians sitting on a stile, one of whom was the son of the larger one, but the larger one was not the father of the smaller one, so who was he?"

Mr. Slenczynski didn't like having his talk interrupted, our scout reports.

A LITTLE girl named Flora Simpson was calling on a neighbor. She was meditating, and after a long silence she said to her hostess, "If father had not married mother, I should have to call him Mr. Simpson, shouldn't I?"

AN English instructor in the Tuley High school forwards the paper that he found pretty discouraging: The subject given the students was "Going Skating," and one boy wrote as follows:

"One day we went skating. While skating we met a coupla good looking girls so we got acquainted with them. Before we knew it we were having a very good time. The time came for them to go home so we fetched them and went home ourselves."

Toscanini Will Retire at Close of This Season

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The New York Philharmonic Symphony society tonight announced that Arturo Toscanini would not return to this country to direct its orchestra after the present season ends.

The announcement climaxed rumors current since last fall that Toscanini, generally acclaimed the greatest conductor of his time, was preparing to surrender his directorship of the New York orchestra.

"After half a century of continuous conducting," the announcement said, "the maestro feels the necessity for a release from the great responsibility of presiding as music director of a permanent orchestra.

"His last performance here will be the concert which closes the present season on Sunday afternoon, April 26."

Toscanini, who conducted his first philharmonic concert on Jan. 14, 1926, has suffered from neuritis for years and the pain of his arm has gradually increased, with the result that he has wielded the baton with less and less frequency.

The Philharmonic society gave no inkling as to who would succeed him on the director's podium.

On March 25, his 69th birthday, Toscanini will give the last of his many all-Wagner concerts for the benefit of the orchestra pension fund.

June 25 will mark the golden anniversary of his career, which began when he was drafted as a substitute conductor in Rio de Janeiro.

WEDDINGS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrews Cain of Temple, Tex., and New York City, to John Altgeld Stall on Jan. 24 in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Stall are leaving Sunday for a delayed trip to Bermuda and on their return they will be at home at 900 North Michigan avenue. The bride was educated in New York and spent a year and a half traveling around the world.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Eileen Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Meyer of Fond du Lac, Wis., to Capt. Fred Dennett Barrett, son of Col. Edward J. Barrett of Sheboygan, Wis., which will take place at noon tomorrow in the Armory chapel at Fort Sheridan, followed by a wedding breakfast at the Palmer house.

Lieut. Richard Barrett of Sheboygan will serve his brother as best man. After a wedding trip east Capt. Barrett and his bride will be at home in Fort Sheridan, where he is head of the personnel division of the CCC camps. Miss Meyer and Mr. Barrett both are graduates of the University of Wisconsin.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Dora H. Marine of 5338 Kimbark avenue to Charles I. Lorber of Kansas City in Phoenix, Ariz., on Jan. 27. After a wedding trip to Honolulu Mr. Lorber and his bride will make their home in Los Angeles.

Gitta Gradova Wins Acclaim at Symphony

Chicago Pianist Returns from Europe.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Gracious Gitta Gradova, a Chicago pianist who has gone places in both senses of the word, played the E Major Mozkowski concerto with the Chicago Symphony orchestra last night. It was the audiences's first chance to acclaim one of the city's favorite daughters since a recent European tour added another collection of garlands to the generous number she had already garnered.

This rarely heard concerto, reminiscent of Mendelssohn in its limpid lightheartedness and its sweet and guileless melodies, keeps splendidly within the idiom of the piano, and parades one by one the most graceful effects of which the instrument is capable. Miss Gradova made much of its sunny passage work.

When the music essays its rocky ascents and stimulates passion and excitement she manages to go right along, but her wit and taste keep the piano well in hand. The thunder is always polite drawing room thunder.

The orchestra has played Beethoven's "Eroica" so often that even the men who keep the program books have probably lost count. Despite this fact the conductor and his men bring as much care and devotion to it as if its first rehersal had been a week ago and the last refinement of its phrasing worked out only that morning.

Robert Louis Stevenson, after hearing a performance of this work, wrote wildly to the effect that Beethoven was the greatest man the human race had ever produced. Whether you want to go that far or not, you must admit that last night's playing of it was enough to startle anybody out of a "taken for granted" attitude toward the "Eroica."

The symphony's prodigious flow of idea offers so many opportunities to the orchestra. Time and time again that matchless panel of first violins marches off with a theme as ardently and with as grand and excited a sweep as if the excellence of the "Eroica" had just been discovered. I wonder if the musicians still exult in its fabulous beauty. If not, they are an artful lot.

Last night was the Thursday audience's first sight of Dr. Stock since his return from vacation. There was a warm welcome for him as he came upon the stage at the beginning of the evening and an ovation at the end of the symphony.

The WPA Federal Music project, through its state director, A. Iver Coleman, announces its interest in the unpublished works of young composers. The music project's symphony orchestra, which has already begun a series of concerts, will consider worthy manuscripts for a place in its répertoire. The man to see is Mr. Coleman himself, at the WPA headquarters.

George Raft Quits Film in a Huff; He's Replaced

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Replacement of George Raft, movie "bad man," by Fred MacMurray as a co-star with Carole Lombard in Paramount's "Concertina" was announced today by studio officials. Raft is reported to have walked off the set, charging that Cameraman Teddy Tetzlaff's photography favored Miss Lombard at Raft's expense.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We wish every woman made self-conscious and unhappy by a birth mark would see for herself what one woman of courage and brains has done to minimize just such an affliction. The woman we speak of, who is in Chicago now, has had a scarlet stain down one side of her face since birth. Did she sneak off to a corner and brood? She did not.

In her own home and with her own two hands, after a good deal of research, she evolved a cream that conceals the stain completely, even in those tricky areas around eye, mouth, and nose corners. And what started out as a sensible solution to her own beauty problem is now well on the way to become a big cosmetic business.

The cream is versatile. For the woman who wants to conceal blemishes it serves as the most natural looking sort of a film, smooth and flesh tinted. For the average woman it is used in lesser quantities but blended in the same fashion and turns out to be a whale of a good powder base, waterproof, fatigue-proof, and immensely flattering.

One of the beauties of this cream for the one who has a blemish to conceal from a too curious world as well as the average woman who wants to work out a lasting, flattering makeup is that it doesn't look greasy; powder patted over it gives the skin a beautiful finish.

No matter how livid the birthmark this cream can conceal it; it's all a matter of applying the cream with the deftness that comes with practice. We recommend it to all women with such a disfigurement on two counts: The scar, to all appearances, will no longer be present. And as a psychological boost that self-confidence restores it just can't be beaten.

Print Dresses Setting Record for Smartness

Two Piece Effects Are Best Buys for Daytime.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

An all-time record in style smartness is being set by the new prints that have just arrived. Printed silks that make slim daytime dresses and even more effective new dinner and dance dresses, bright, cheerful floral prints with daringly unusual color combines and contrasts are on display. The small patterns will not "spread" you from here to there. The colors are brilliant and that is what every one needs after all the drab winter wardrobes. These knockout clothes will go out as fast as they can be wrapped.

Two piece effects make the best buys for daytime wear, the kind with trimming of fine plaitings and nosegays of flowers accenting a high neckline. Most of the sleeves are short. They do look more springlike, you must admit. Skirts are simple and the tops are made with clever front necklines and bows of velvet or contrasting colored corded ribbon.

Lots of these models are sold with a jacket. A small section of this jacket usually is of dark silk, but the wide cuffs, a good half of the front sections, and the collar are of the print of the dress. Others are made without a jacket.

These dresses can be worn immediately with a winter coat. They will do more for a discouraged winter wardrobe than anything yet invented.

The dinner and dance dresses are made of exotically printed patterns, cut in long clinging silhouette, with deep slits for the arms and stunning draped necklines that fold softly high in front. Deep backlines that reach the waist and unusual belts complete their charm.

Fashion photograph. An unusual and up to the minute dinner gown is shown in this model of gay flowered silk. The colors are lovely, deep magenta, pale green, a hint of dark purple, and enough creamy white to make an interesting contrast. A narrow belt of the silk wraps around the waist twice and ends in yard-long tassels of red and deep blue silk fringe. It is available in a Chicago shop.

She began to use faithfully the soap with ACTIVE lather.
Before long, people were complimenting her on her lovely skin...
IT is when pores are choked that unattractive Cosmetic Skin begins to develop—dullness, coarseness, tiny blemishes. You can guard against this danger with gentle, white Lux Toilet Soap. Its ACTIVE lather goes deep into the pores—carries away every hidden trace of stale rouge and powder, dust and dirt, protects the skin.
Use Lux Toilet Soap faithfully—before you put on fresh make-up during the day, ALWAYS before you go to bed at night. 9 out of 10 lovely Hollywood stars have used this soap for years.
I USE COSMETICS, BUT I NEVER WORRY ABOUT COSMETIC SKIN—THANKS TO LUX TOILET SOAP

I'll Never Tell

SYNOPSIS.

Julius Saranack was murdered in his home, Hillfoot, near London. Eight uncut diamonds were stolen. Torrance Esdale was there the night he was murdered. She'd entered the house secretly to retrieve a letter she'd written Gerald Saranack, Julius' nephew, her childhood sweetheart. Gerald is expected next day with an English governess he'd married in Spain. Torrance had heard voices and, hiding, watched as a girl secreted jewels behind a brick in the fireplace. Next day Torrance meets the girl—she's Annabelle, Gerald's wife, though the couple arrived that morning from Paris. Gerald still loves Torrance, but has been taken in by Annabelle's apparent naiveness and need of protection. Torrance confides in her American employer, Hartlandt Massiter. Julius Saranack was heir to the wealth of his friend, John Ellister, who had also been murdered on the same day, leaving Gerald next in line. Torrance tries to warn Gerald and shows him where the jewels are hidden—he turns them over to Annabelle. In Vanderlem, Annabelle's former employer, Torrance recognizes the rat-faced man who had shadowed her. Suddenly Gerald realizes Annabelle could have flown from Paris to London and back in the six hours they'd been separated that night. To save him Torrance elopes with Gerald. Annabelle turns over the diamonds to the police, implicating Gerald, who is arrested. Annabelle sees Gerald and again convinces him of her innocence. Torrance drives to the town where she and Gerald had been to pick up their luggage. There she is approached by Vanderlem, who asks for a lift back to London. He offers to produce false witnesses to clear Gerald in return for half a million pounds. To capture Vanderlem Torrance gets arrested for speeding, and in court accuses him of Julius Saranack's murder.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

FALSE EVIDENCE.

For five dreadful seconds Torrance was on tenterhooks. Would the police believe her? Would they let Vanderlem go before she could explain?

Vanderlem emitted a hoarse falsetto laugh.

"Well, if it's only that, I'll take back all I said about blackmail."

The superintendent looked grave.

"A charge of murder is a very serious thing, Miss Esdale. And if it isn't supported by evidence——"

"It is," cut in Torrance, who had just as impressive a manner as the superintendent himself. "Mr. Julius Saranack was murdered about 9 o'clock on the 11th of this month. At about 6 minutes past 9 I saw this man in the house."

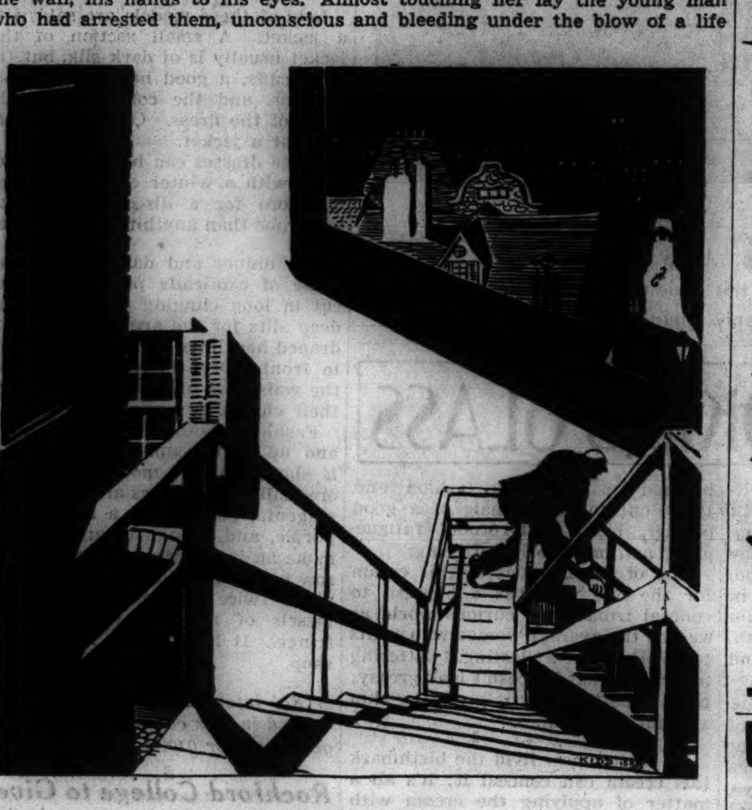
Torrance sensed that the police were believing her, were hanging on her every word.

"I've done wrong in not coming forward before," she continued. "And I expect to go to prison for it. I am ready now to give you a full statement of what I saw before I telephoned the police that a burglary had been committed. I said that because I did not know at the time that there had been a murder I——"

The next instant the wind was knocked out of her and she was sent spinning to the floor as the sergeant hurled himself in front of her. And only in the nick of time—for Vanderlem had sprung head foremost over the table like an animal, his hands reaching for her throat.

She felt herself lifted, and partly carried, partly flung, clear of the fray. There came then the shuffling of feet, shouting, a hoarse cry, and the crash of glass.

She struggled to a sitting position. The sergeant was staggering against the wall, his hands to his eyes. Almost touching her lay the young man who had arrested them, unconscious and bleeding under the blow of a life preserver. Then a babel of sounds—the scream of whistles—men rushing out of the building—the roar of cycle engines.



He got clean away.

The broken window told her how the rat had made his escape.

She was lifted to her feet and laid upon a bench. She was dazed but not unconscious. Almost immediately, it seemed, a doctor was bending over her and she was telling him rather confusedly that she was all right.

Presently two women officials came in and helped her walk to another room, though she could manage without their support.

It was a kind of waiting room, with a horsehair sofa. It became plain that they wished her to lie on the sofa, though she was quite able to sit up.

"I've got a bruise or two, I think, but I'm really none the worse," she assured them. "If the superintendent wants to see me I can easily answer his questions."

In half an hour the superintendent came, accompanied by a man of military appearance who was wearing a dinner jacket.

"The chief constable will hear what you have to say, Miss Esdale," said the superintendent.

False evidence! She had chosen her course and would stick to it. Moreover, it was very probable now that they would believe her.

They were seating themselves when the sergeant came in, panting.

"Well, sergeant?"

"Got clean away, sir. He must have grabbed a car."

"Do you mean to say a man with a long gash on his forehead and his clothes in tatters has got away from the lot of you? Didn't anybody even see him?"

"Yes, sir. Police Constable Norrall must have seen him. He must have tackled him, too. We found Norrall in Ash alley—dead, sir, the doctor said. Throttled, I understood him to say, sir."

Torrance put her hands over her eyes. Dimly she could hear the chief constable offering her more brandy and herself declining.

He was more familiar with Torrance's type than was the superintendent.

"You can speak quite freely. We shall just make a few essential notes and then I shall dictate a statement to my secretary when we've finished and ask you to sign it."

"It's rather difficult to know where to begin," said Torrance.

"I can help you there. What time did you go to Hillfoot that night?"

"It was striking 9 as I climbed through the pantry window," answered Torrance. "I went into the hall—for a—for a purpose of my own. I then heard voices upstairs. I had thought that I was alone in the house, so I was alarmed. I slipped into the dining room and hid in the bow window. I crept behind the curtains before they were drawn. Then I watched through a chink."

She waited just long enough for the chief constable to nod encouragingly, then plunged.

"A man and a woman came in and switched on the light. I could see the man's full face. The man was Vanderlem."

False evidence!

"And the woman?" prompted the chief constable.

There was no proof against Annabelle. And Gerald's principles demanded that she should be protected.

"I never saw the woman's face. I can't give any description of her at all. I only saw her back view across the length of the dining room, which is quite a big room. I saw her go to the chimney piece. . . ."

There was only the one little tremendous lie about Vanderlem. The rest of the evidence was literally true in every particular.

She finished with an account of Vanderlem accosting her that evening and asking for a lift—of his offer to procure false evidence.

The chief constable asked her a number of questions. But none of them threw doubt on her own movements—they were all concerned with elucidating her information about Vanderlem. Then he called for his secretary, who came in with a portable typewriter, and at his dictation took down the essential points of Torrance's statement, which she read and signed.

The chief constable dismissed his secretary. Instantly Torrance was conscious of a change in his manner.

"For the present that is all I need ask you about Vanderlem. But there is another aspect of this matter, Miss Esdale. I refer to your own concern in the matter. A woman of your intelligence and general knowledge must have been aware that it was her duty to come forward at once with this information."

"Yes," said Torrance.

"It is now nearly midnight and you are very tired. Moreover, you need not say anything at all about that if you don't wish to. Because anything you say may be used in evidence against you."

"There is nothing I can say. I—I'd rather settle it tonight, please colonel?"

The chief constable looked troubled.

"It is my duty to take notice of any statement you wish to make.

Ceremony on Tuesday in Cleveland.

miles through drifts and over icy roads to reach a train that would get them to town Monday morning.

Meanwhile Mexico is the destination of more and more travelers who prefer to do their playing in summer warmth. Mrs. Willoughby G. Walling, Mrs. Walter Strong, Mrs. Everett L. Millard, and Mrs. Phillip W. Moore left by train last week to spend three weeks down there, and Mrs. James W. Prindiville and Miss Nancy Wilder, daughter of the Erskine P. Wilders of Hubbard Woods, have been there, and are now in Pasadena for an indefinite stay.

Walter S. Brewsters Going to London.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stark are entertaining next Wednesday evening in their Lake Shore drive apartment for Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster who are leaving the following Saturday for New York to sail on the 26th for London. John Beck, diseur, will entertain the Starks' guests. The Brewsters will be abroad only a short time and have made no plans beyond several visits to the Chinese art exhibit at Burlington house.

The English Speaking union has issued cards to a tea at the Casino on Tuesday, Feb. 25, to meet Alec Miller of Chipping Camden, Gloucestershire, England. Mr. Miller is a sculptor in wood and stone. He will talk, and after the lecture the union hopes to be able to show some pictures of his work.

Mrs. Charles H. Hamill and Mrs. Frederick Stock will pour this afternoon at the weekly Friday tea at the Cliff Dwellers. Gitta Gradova, the pianist, who will be the soloist with the orchestra this afternoon, will be the special guest.

Mrs. Edward Hines is entertaining at tea this afternoon in her apartment at 1420 Lake Shore drive for members of the women's committee of the Cardinal's Cathedral Choristers' concert which is to be given Monday evening, March 9, at Orchestra hall. Mrs. George D. McLaughlin is chairman of the committee.

All of the boxes for the concert have been sold, and those members of the committee who purchased boxes returned theirs to the committee to be resold, and they themselves took main floor seats. Dr. John J. Killeen is general chairman of the concert committee, of which the Irish consul, Daniel J. McGrath, is a member. The Rev. Dr. Edwin Hoover, Catholic diocesan director of music, will conduct the concert.

Mlle. Guitou Knoop Goes East Late in February.

Mlle. Guitou Knoop, the attractive young sculptor from Paris who has been entertained so extensively during the weeks she has been in Chicago, will be saying au revoir to the friends and acquaintances she has here late this month, for she leaves then for New York. She probably will stop in Dayton on her way east to exhibit her work, but she will have another exhibition before that, for she will show the heads of the three Chicagoans she is doing before she leaves this city.

She is working about seven hours a day now, completing heads of Mme. Rene Weiller, wife of the French consul, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed and Mrs. James Ward Thorne. Mlle. Knoop had an exhibition at the Arts club when she first came to Chicago.

Another resident of France who has been in Chicago for some months left Wednesday, but he is coming back, much to the delight of the many friends he has made here. He is the Marquis de Veyrae and he is on his way to Honolulu, where he is going to light the public parks and gardens, probably provide them with artificial moonlight, so they always will be as romantic and beautiful as they are when the moon is shining.

Mrs. Ernst Freund Going to California.

Mrs. Ernst Freund is leaving tomorrow for Del Monte, Cal., to spend three weeks with her father, Lyman A. Walton. She expects to return to Chicago in time to greet her daughters, Miss Nancy and Miss Emmy-Lou, when they return from school for their spring vacations. Nancy is a student at Sarah Lawrence, and Emmy-Lou is studying at Dobbs Ferry.

Lanning MacFarland and Lewis Linn McArthur arrived at home yesterday from the wedding of Frederick Koch and Gwendolyn Heyworth, which took place in New York on Wednesday, to discuss plans for a two months' trip around the world which Mr. McArthur and Mr. and Mrs. MacFarland are undertaking soon.

They are planning to leave March 1 for Vancouver to sail for Australia. They will dodge India because of the hot season at the time they would arrive. The brief time the trio has allotted for encircling the globe will be kept to schedule by a good bit of air travel.

Mrs. Westover Channon is opening her residence at 1434 Astor street next Monday at 8 o'clock for a meeting of Le Cercle Français. Herbert E. Bradley will talk on "The French in Africa" and will show moving pictures taken when he was big game hunting in the Belgian Congo. Supper will be served after the program. Receiving with Mrs. Channon will be the wife of the French consul, Mme. Rene Weiller; Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, and Mrs. Harold Sperling, president of Le Cercle.

The Charles B. Goodspeeds and the Charles H. Swifts already have planned box parties for the first American recital of Alec Templeton, the young British pianist brought to this country by Jack Hylton, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, March 1, at Orchestra hall.

Ethel Dixon Will Sing at Blackstone.

Homer L. Dixon Jr. and his sister, Mrs. Howard E. Buhse [Virginia Dixon] are entertaining at supper at the Blackstone tonight to hear their sister, Miss Ethel Dixon, who is beginning an engagement in the Mayfair room there as singer with the orchestra. Others taking guests to the Blackstone tonight are the Gaylord Donnelleys, Watson Newhall and Leo Hogan.

An exhibition of etchings, prints and drawings by members of the Cordon club will be opened at a Valentine day tea at the club from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Walter J. Jarratt is opening her apartment at 229 Lake Shore drive at 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon for a tea for the Tower Town group of the Chicago Junior school. Members of the group may bring guests to hear Loula Jay Samson in dramatic sketches. Tea will cost $1, and the money will go into a fund for the school.

Military Ball Will Be Held February 22.

Washington's birthday will be the occasion of a military ball to be given by the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion on the 22d in the red lacker room of the Palmer house. Among those interested in the event are Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Frank McCoy, Rear Admiral and Mrs. John Downes, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Roy D. Keehn, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Thomas S. Hammond, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Samuel T. Lawton, and Mrs. Edward Hines.

The national holiday will be observed with especial ceremony at Northwestern Military and Naval academy at Lake Geneva, with winter sports, dramatics, military exercises and dancing planned for the boys and their parents and guests that day.

St. John's Military academy is having its winter festivities this week-end. Beginning this evening with informal dancing, winter sports, teas, smokers, a formal dance and a band concert will follow in close succession on the crowded three day program.

The Elliott Donnelleys are among those who have made reservations for Chicago's first gridiron dinner sponsored by the Chicago Federated Advertising club to be held next Wednesday night in the Terrace room of the Morrison hotel. The dinner is patterned after the famous gridiron dinner held each year in Washington.

The Donnelleys' guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Tullis, the Walter Sackets, the Jules Gerdings, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kittredge. Others who will give dinners Wednesday night are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strotz, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ames, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gooder.

Eddy Concert to Be Benefit

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Frederick A. Poole Jr., pictured above, is among those who will be in the audience at Orchestra hall at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night to hear Nelson Eddy's only Chicago concert this season. The concert is being sponsored by the Travelers' Aid society to raise funds for its charitable work. Among those who have taken boxes to hear Mr. Eddy are Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Albert Cotsworth, Mrs. George B. Dryden, Mrs. Charles Y. Freeman, Mrs. William O. Goodman, Mrs. Abner J. Stilwell, Mrs. Walter A. Strong, Mrs. Jason F. Whitney, Arthur M. Barnhart, and Edward I. Cudahy.

Visitation High Girl Wins Citizenship Essay Contest

Miss Cecile Gilmore, 900 Garfield boulevard, a senior in the Chicago Visitation High school, was awarded first honors in an essay contest on "Benefits of American Citizenship," it was announced yesterday by Avinere Toigo, executive secretary of the state committee on citizenship and naturalization. Miss Gilmore's essay was selected from a total of 87,000 submitted by students in high schools throughout the state. She will be presented with a medal by Gov. Horner at Springfield on Monday.

Changing the Coiffure Is as Good as Tonic

New Hairdress Enhances the Personality.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Here follow a few suggestions in case your hair style isn't doing right by your charms in general. And believe that a number of women do not begin to make their heads and the hair thereon come across with the beauty contribution they should demand of it, chiefly because they follow a standardized style of coiffure for one thing. Again, because they are afraid to change the old style since it has proved so easy to take care of "as is." Or, it may be that they never have experimented with a new part, a new lift to the hair in back, a new way of covering the ears or leaving them exposed.

You don't feel that way about hats, my dears. You try a new style every season that rolls around. You'd dare a hat line no matter how cockeyed its angle. True, we wouldn't expect you to go in for a suggestion of some of the crazy lines of late hat presentation. But why should a woman go on, season after season, year after year, without changing her hair style at all? As things are progressing now, we would predict the same "dating" with coiffures in the near future that last year's hat or that of the year before now elicits.

A woman can lend herself quite a new interest in the eye of her audience [be it sweetheart, family, or friends] by the adoption of a different coiffure. Often she can lend a new beauty to her face, too.

For instance, if the face is long, dare bangs for a change. Have them cut back deeply in the new way, and wide across. Maybe that fluffed up curly bang you see them wearing about town now would be just your meat.

Or, suppose you have a square chin and heavy jaws. Pulling the hair up in a high arrangement of short curls would completely change the facial contour, softening it, refining it. Indeed, you may have been overlooking the beauty of middle Madonna part if your features are good. Or, if your neck is short, disposing of the low knot for a neat swirl cut and no ringlets, may elongate the neck attractively. If you have cute ears, perhaps only one vexatious, careless little curl in front of an ear would do considerable damage to that hesitating suitor. Maybe changing the part to the other side would lend the face a new interest. Lawdy, you can do so many things with hair today.

According to CULBERTSON

Write your bridge troubles and problems to Ely Culbertson, care of The Tribune, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

[Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee and reporter for a "grudge" bridge game. By general agreement he fines the players for their errors according to degree of stupidity: Class A errors cost them $1; class B, $2.50; class C, $5; class D, $10. This is the fourth hand in the series.]

"Well," said West cheerfully, "this isn't a bad idea at all! I've had rotten cards and should be a considerable loser. But actually I've paid only one minimum fine and now have a 25 per cent equity in an $18 kitty."

"Better do your gloating now," growled South. "Your turn will come!"

As it happened, the next hand fulfilled the prophecy.

West, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 diamond	Pass	2 clubs
Pass	2 diam'ds	Pass	2 no tr'p
Pass	3 no tr'p [final bid]

West opened his fourth highest heart, dummy played low, and East's king won. The heart lead was returned, declarer winning with the jack, and the diamond suit was cleared, West taking the ace. West proceeded to clear his heart suit by leading the third round. But he had taken his last trick, the diamond suit was run off, and followed by five tricks in clubs. The contract was fulfilled with two extra tricks.

West must have realized his guilt because I could see him looking apprehensively at me.

"You were a little premature in your gloating," I said to him. "That defense will cost you just $5—and I'm being lenient at that."

"What should I have done?" asked West, considerably chastened.

"You should have estimated the opponents' probable tricks more accurately! You actually could see four diamond and two heart tricks, and certainly there was a poor chance, considering the bidding, that East could stop the club suit. You should have abandoned the hearts as a hopeless proposition and shifted to a low spade. Your one hope was for East to hold the king."

"Why couldn't East have led a spade after he won the king of hearts?" asked West defensively.

"Because he couldn't be sure about the heart situation. You might hold five to the queen-ten, with one entry. In that case it would be vital for him to return the heart lead."

"Come on," growled South. "Pay up—don't try to crawl out of it! And next time maybe you'll do your gloating inwardly!"

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My partner opened the bidding, first hand not vulnerable, with a bid of one spade. Next hand passed. I held:

♠J 7 4, ♥J 2, ♦K 10 9 6 3, ♣Q 5 2. What should I bid?

Answer: Your best response is two spades, although you have slightly less than adequate support. If you should answer with one no trump, a spade rebid by your partner would leave you in the dark as to whether to raise or to pass.

Game Cocks.

BY NANCY CABOT.

There isn't the remotest possibility in the world of guessing what some people had in mind when they christened various quilt blocks of their own creation. "Game Cocks" is one of those old quilts which illustrate quite clearly [if a person has a vivid imagination] four white cocks with their feathers spread, awaiting the signal of battle. The patches are quickly and easily set together. The favored color scheme of days gone by was turkey red, unbleached muslin, and deep tan. This same combination sounds most attractive and suitable even to the present day quilt maker.

Child Often Misses Absent Mother Keenly

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

The new baby—and I'm talking now about the second [or even third or fourth] new baby—has come on the scene again in our mothers' letters. This is our third day on the subject and I'm going to devote it to an aspect which I have never spent enough time on before.

There is much to be said for having your baby at home, provided you can arrange things satisfactorily, and provided—and this should be emphasized—that there is every likelihood of the birth being a normal one. Otherwise a hospital is the place for you.

But most mothers prefer to go to a hospital to have their babies, and in this case the element of separation figures in the new baby matter, and may figure seriously in it. That is, unless the mother prepares her little child for separation that takes place when she goes to the hospital, as well as for the great change that a new baby makes in the family circle.

Too often a little child who has never in her life been separated from her mother wakes up one morning—or comes in from a walk one day—and finds mother, the hub of her universe, gone. This is a serious shock, believe it or not! Perhaps in addition, a strange woman is there to run things while mother is away—a strange person who alters either subtly or radically all the dear familiar ways of life. This is a shock, too.

Or, instead, a little boy or girl, who has never been away from home without mother, is sent off to stay with unfamiliar relatives or friends until mother is strong enough to run things again, or until she is back from the hospital.

What wonder if a little child clings almost frantically to her mother after this—follows her from room to room and weeps in panic at the thought of her going out—and resents either subconsciously or otherwise the small cause of all this disruption of her world? It is not uncommon for fears to arise and night terrors to follow such an experience.

Meet this part of your problem with as much forethought as you meet the rest of it. Suggestions will appear tomorrow.

As to the other important preparations, we have a sex education booklet for your help. It contains a carefully selected list of booklets and books on answering the young child's questions. A stamped, self-addressed envelope is necessary to receive it.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Declare Your Attitude.

"Dear Miss Blake: I love a girl who goes out with other fellows who have cars. I have not. She insists she cares for me. I am perplexed. Please advise. Bob."

She likes good times. All girls do. To eliminate competition, declare yourself.

Ask Him the Reason.

"Dear Miss Blake: My friend stopped speaking to me for no reason that I know of. How can I find out the reason? C. S."

You'll have to ask him and assure him if you've done anything to hurt him it was quite unintentional.

Southern Women.

The Southern Woman's club will meet at 2 o'clock today at the Palmer house. Mrs. James Briggs Fitch and Mrs. William Pledger Smith are in charge of the program and tea.

SLIM FINGERTIPS

Sleek, slender fingers are always fascinating. You, too, can slenderize your fingertips by using Courtenay's "MANI-CARE"—the sensational nail beautifier which softens the cuticle so that you can push it back and get the biggest half-moons you ever had. A minute a day with Manicare on a wet nailbrush keeps the skin around the nails soft and smooth. Manicare supplies oils which help nails from getting dry and brittle. Priced right. Try Manicare to-day.

WEST AND SOUTH SIDE FIGHTERS PROVIDE ACTION

Out of Town Teams Picked.

Golden Gloves Facts

EIGHT out-of-town Golden Gloves tournaments are listed for tonight. The schedule:

Peoria Journal-Transcript finals.
Springfield State Register finals.
Evansville Courier Journal finals.
Indianapolis, Ind., Times finals.
Kokomo, Ind., Tribune semi-finals.
Grand Rapids Press finals.
Eau Claire Leader-Telegram semi-finals.
Omaha, Neb., World-Herald finals.

Chicago boxers will be inactive until Monday, when the west side trials will be resumed. South side bouts will be held again Tuesday and the north side meet will start the same night.

BY FRENCH LANE.

When the clock struck twelve last night Chicago seekers of Golden Gloves were half way down the trail leading to The Tribune's Tournament of Champions which opens at the Chicago Stadium on Feb. 24.

The first week of fighting had ended when the results of 250 battles were written into the west section record books. More than 350 scraps were then a matter of history out on the south side.

Next week Chicago will be in the throes of a Golden Gloves epidemic. The fighting will spread out all over the city. Not only will the job of selecting the south section and west section teams be completed but the lads from along the Gold Coast also will fight it out at Loyola university gymnasium for places on the north section team.

Next Bouts Monday.

The next fighting will take place in the west section meet at the Madison A. C. auditorium on Monday night. There will be fighting there in two rings.

The biggest ripple of excitement during last night's program, during which 100 bouts were run off on the south side and 50 on the west side, came in the west sectional tournament.

The announcer in thunderous tones shouted "and in this corner, ladies and gentlemen, Jack Dempsey."

Aware that the old Manassa Mauler was in Chicago, the spectators peered, with considerable excitement, up into the corner at which the announcer's finger was pointed.

There was a Dempsey all right, but not the old champion of the world. It was Jackson Dempsey, a blond featherweight from La Grange.

Dempsey Gets Licking.

And this newest Dempsey of the ring got soundly whipped by John Morrisore, a west sider whose fistic ability never had been heard of outside his own block.

Two other featherweights, Ernie Wilson, colored, and Ed Reininger, waged one of the greatest thrillers on the west side. Both represented the C. Y. O., but apparently they never had heard of each other. It was a knockdown slam-bang affair. Each was down three times and at the finish Wilson got the decision.

The gamest kid of the tournament up to date also came to the front on the west side last night. Walter Szuba, a welterweight and another of those unknowns, won the honors but lost his fight to Russell Sarenello, an Italian lad fighting in C. Y. O. colors.

Szuba Keeps Bouncing Up.

Szuba was knocked down three times in the first round, three times in the second, and twice in the third. He never stayed down for more than

U. S. Olympic Hocky Team Beats Sweden; Reaches Final

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Feb. 13.—Led by Left Wing Phil Rowe, the United States ice hocky team moved into the final round of the fourth winter Olympic games today with a 2 to 1 victory over Sweden. After a scoreless first period, Wilhelm Peterson, of Sweden, beat Goalie Tom Moone of the Americans for the first goal of the game in the second period, but Rowe came back in the final minutes of the session and tied it at 1 to 1. After nearly eight minutes of the third period, Rowe scored the winning goal.

The other three finalists will be Canada, defending champion; England, and Czechoslovakia. Canada moved into the title series with a 6 to 2 decision over Germany; England defeated Hungary, 5 to 1, and Czechoslovakia took a 2 to 1 battle from Austria.

American Skaters Fail.

Prior to the hocky competition, results in other sports indicated that Norway would regain the all around Olympic winter title it last held in 1928. Although the Norwegians trailed Germany by two points in the unofficial team standings, 105 to 107, they seemed certain to take the general championship on their remaining performances in skating, notably in the figure event, where Sonja Henie is outstanding favorite to win her third consecutive Olympic crown.

Americans again failed to fare well in the skating and skiing events held today, being restricted to 5½ points. Leo Friesinger of Chicago, Chicago Tribune Silver Skates winner in 1933, thus far the hero of the American forces by reason of a third place in the 500 meter speed event, skated a great race in the 1,500 meters today, but could do no better than fourth. The other American points were scored by Maribel Vinson and George Hill of Boston, who took fifth place in the figure skating for pairs.

Canada's Motion Rejected.

Canada, which suffered the first hocky defeat of its Olympic career on Tuesday when it was upset by England, underwent another crushing loss today when its motion for a revision of the Olympic playoff system was defeated by a vote of 6 to 2.

Under the system approved at the start of the hocky series, the leading two teams in each bracket of the second round were to enter the finals. If they had met previously, however, there would be no further match and a victory scored for one and a defeat for the other before the final play even started.

Thus England goes into the final round with one triumph without donning skates, and Canada enters the championship bracket with a defeat. The same now holds true for the Americans and Czechs, who met in the second round, with the United States winning. Canada protested vigorously today, but the officials ruled them down, the Germans making the only supporting vote.

Norway Wins Ski Jump.

Norway made its first bid for the all around title when it captured the first three places in the combined ski running and jumping event, based on yesterday's 18 kilometer trip and today's leaps. Obbjorn Hagen finished first with a total of 430.3 points, followed by two countrymen, Olaf Hoffsbakken, with 419.8, and Sverre Brodahl with 408.1. Hagen, who was second in the 18 kilometer run yesterday, led with jumps of 42 and 46 meters today, but it was his form rather than the distances which won for him. Magnus Satre of Salisbury, Conn., made the best showing of the four American skiers entered, taking 26th place with a total of 355.8 points.

With two out of two first places in the speed skating already won by Ivar Ballangrud, Norway made it three in a row today when Charles Mathisen broke Clas Thunberg's Olympic record by 1.9 seconds to win the 1,500 meter event. His time was 2 minutes 19.2 seconds. Ballangrud, who was second, and Max Steipl of Austria, who took third, also lowered the Olympic mark. Freisinger was fourth to be the best of the Americans.

Hitler Sees Skaters.

The figure skating title for pairs was won by Ernst Baier and Maxie Herber, holders of the European and German crowns. The two Teutons went through their paces to music composed by Baier himself, with Reichsfuehrer Hitler among the large crowd which looked on. Miss Vinson and Hill scored two points for the Americans when the judges rated them fifth.

French Signs; Galan Still Out of Fold

Augie Galan, youthful outfielder who played every game of the Cubs' 1935 schedule, yesterday remained the north siders' only unsigned player as officials of the club announced that Larry French, left handed pitcher, had forwarded his signed contract from his home in Los Angeles.

Despite the absence of Galan from the fold of signers, Cub bosses are confident that the young man will affix his signature any day now.

Manager Charles Grimm is due to arrive here this morning to assist Traveling Secretary Bob Lewis and Trainer Andy Lotshaw in making plans for the getaway of the first squad for Catalina Island, which will take place Tuesday. Grimm will head a party composed of Clay Bryant, Hugh Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henshaw, Johnny Corriden, Gene Ford, Billy Herman, Gabby Hartnett, Woody English, Johnny Hutchings, Ken O'Dea, Clyde Shoun, Wally Stephenson, Ken Weafer, and Trainer Lotshaw. Charles Flowers, pitcher, and Harold Sueme, catcher, will join them at Omaha.

REPRESENTATIVE ASKS ARMY, NAVY, TO PLAY IN WEST

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—The practice of playing practically all Army-Navy football games on the Atlantic seaboard was attacked in the house today by Representative Cochran [Dem., Mo.].

Cochran urged the games be played in other sections of the country, contending that army and navy officials "have no right" to confine the game to New York and Philadelphia.

"My own city of St. Louis and others throughout the middle west and other sections of the country have facilities for the game, and if they will come to St. Louis it won't cost them a cent for a place to play," said Cochran.

HUBERT BECOMES A SUCCESS

Nobody liked Hubert. He couldn't tell a story or mix a drink. He couldn't even tune a radio. In short, he was a social catastrophe.

Then he went to a Golden Gloves show. Overnight he panicked them in a social way. The people who once snubbed him had no tickets because they'd waited too long—and how Hubert made them gape with his first hand stories of the big night!

You see he got to the Tribune Public Service office early and bought some of the best seats. Now Hubert didn't get all the good seats. You can snap up some mighty fine ones if you act right now. Tournament of Champions tickets for the Chicago Stadium Feb. 24, 25 and 26, cost $1.10, 68 cents and 40 cents. Seats for the finals, March 6, are $2.20, $1.65, $1.10 and 55 cents. All the $3.30 seats are sold.

Tickets are on sale at the Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street. Or you may send mail orders to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Square, Chicago.

BURMAN FIGHTS BATH TONIGHT AT CHICAGO STADIUM

Dempsey and Kearns to Be Rival Seconds.

The Card

Clarence [Red] Burman vs. Hank Bath [10].
Buddy Knox vs. Joe Lipps [6].
Cowboy Frankie Edgren vs. Paul Pross [6].
Johnny Erjavec vs. Eddie Harcever [6].
Bob Tow vs. Tom Baxter [6].
Max Zona vs. Wally Elkins [6].

So much has been written of late on the fact that Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns will be rival seconds—the former champion will handle Clarence [Red] Burman and Kearns will be behind Hank Bath—at Chicago Stadium tonight that slight attention has been given to their youthful protégés, principals in the ten round main event of the show, the sixth session of the heavyweight elimination tournament.

No doubt the attention being given the impending affair between Dempsey and his former manager is deserved. It will be recalled that their famous partnership had been terminated before Dempsey lost the crown to Gene Tunney at Philadelphia in 1926. Following the split neither has spoken to the other, although it is common gossip that animosity toward each other has softened up in the last year or so. They are expected to shake hands tonight and let bygones be bygones.

Match May Be Close.

Each is confident his fighter will emerge victorious. On cold dope the match is a tossup. In size and other physical dimensions Burman and Bath are equal. Each is slightly less than 6 feet tall and neither weighs more than 185 pounds. Bath expects to scale 183 for the bout, one and one-half pounds more than he did against Billy Treest Jan. 28. Hank lost the decision after one of the greatest scraps seen at the Stadium. Burman tipped the beam at 178 for his latest appearance, a one round knockout scored over Corn Griffin at Baltimore, Md., Feb. 7. The Fort Morgan battler has just passed his 21st birthday and Burman will be 21 next month.

Bath Shows Power.

Against Treest, Bath displayed abundant courage, perfect physical condition and a terrific punch in his right hand. He is a long range fighter, content to remain at a distance, spear his opponent with a left jab to the face and cross his right to the jaw or body at every opportunity. Burman does not appear to possess the punching power of Hank, but he makes up for this apparent disadvantage by hitting often, especially in close, where he bangs away with both hands to the stomach. The Baltimore redhead displays a straight left superior to that of Bath.

Buddy Knox, the Dayton youngster, and Cowby Frankie Edgren, Cheyenne clown, will appear in two of five contests at six rounds. Knox will clash with Joe Lipps and Edgren will fight Paul Pross.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BACK TO DOCKS.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 13.—Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock, who departed for home early this week, plans to spend a few days with his family, then resume his old employment on the Jersey shore docks for a month before starting serious training for his bout with Joe Louis, former CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Glover, in September.

What does Jersey Jim need the money? Not so you could notice it, judging by the sartorial ensemble of Jim and his dapper manager, Joe Gould, in these parts. So The Wake asked why.

Braddock is a plain spoken fellow to whom the world title has meant only better living and better care of his family. "Well," said Braddock, "that's where I started. It's where I spent my time in the lean years when I was adjudged a pugilistic flop after nearing the top and then meeting reverses. It was where I was before I had that chance with Corn Griffin which sent me on my way again until I defeated Max Baer.

"Do you figure that's good training?" we inquired, somewhat surprised by this method of training.

"It's the kind of exercise I had known for years," replied Champion Jim. "It's hard work. I like it. I have friends there. It afforded me a livelihood when everything else looked pretty black. After the dock experience, I'll go up in the northern New York mountains for several months to harden, and I'll surely be fit for Louis."

"Will you take a regular job at the regular scale?" we interrogated. "Certainly I will," Braddock replied. Then the human side of the fellow came out. "That is, I will if there is a shortage of laborers. If there's a shortage of work I won't take any other fellow's job even if they would give it to me. In that case, I'll do the work, maybe some other fellow's work, and give him the pay or anyone else the pay. I won't horn in. Once I needed it and needed it badly, but I don't now."

Looking at Braddock's full face and general air of well being, we remarked, "You look heavy."

"I am," was the response, "212 now." "Why?" was the natural query. "Because," replied Braddock, "I expect to take off 14 pounds in hard training and fight Joe at about 198 pounds. Formerly I fought around 185, but Louis has put on so much weight, I figure my extra poundage will be an advantage if it's honest weight."

"But won't that slow you up?" we ventured.

"I don't think so," Braddock countered, and then with a sense of humor added, "Most of you newspaper fellows say I'm a plodder and too slow for Louis anyway."

REGENTS DECIDE FATE OF BADGER COACHES TODAY

Athletic Board to Battle to Gain Power.

Stars Ineligible

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 13.—The University of Wisconsin's muddled football situation was further complicated today by the announcement that the following seven football players are scholastically ineligible: Eddie Jankowski, full back, voted most valuable to his team in the Tribune poll; John Wilson and Lynn Hovland, guards; James Wright, tackle; Joe Clauss, center; Emmett Mortell, half back, and Howard Weiss, freshman back.

BY BRUCE DENNIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 13.—Tomorrow may be the most important day in the University of Wisconsin athletic history.

The board of regents, with nine votes out of fourteen mustered in favor of Dr. Clarence Spears and against Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, will meet to settle the many sided dispute that has split the athletic department, the university, the city of Madison, and the state into bitter factions.

The real heart of the struggle lies deeper than the feud between Spears, the football coach, and Meanwell, the athletic director. Tomorrow's primary battle lines will be drawn on the question of faculty control of athletics. It is possible a decision will not be reached until Saturday.

Regents Go Into Situation.

The regents, appointed by the governor to control the affairs of the university and who must, in the end, pass upon every cent that is spent and every professor, instructor, and janitor who is hired, a few weeks ago decided to step into the mess and conduct their own investigation.

They rejected the recommendation of the faculty athletic board, which whitewashed Meanwell, and told the board to bring in another report. Led by Harold M. Wilkie of Madison, chairman, and Dan Grady of Portage, two belligerent barristers, they held their own hearings, and opened some of them to the public after slapping the faculty board's "star chamber" sessions.

Wilkie headed the regent's committee of five which conducted the investigation. This committee will report tomorrow and, as far as could be learned tonight, will make a recommendation that Spears be retained and Meanwell dismissed.

Want Powers Restored.

Tomorrow morning the faculty board will bring in a report that will recommend definitly that Spears be dismissed and that Meanwell be retained. This was voted Monday. The board also will demand that its powers of administrating intercollegiate ahtletics, usurped by the regents in this case, be restored.

Among the things the faculty wants to do is to hire and fire coaches in coöperation with the athletic director, subject, of course, to the regents' final approval but without direct first hand action by the regents.

But the regents have decided to "show 'em who's running the university." The Wilkie-Grady faction is definitly anti-Meanwell and pro-Spears. This same group brought Spears to Madison from Oregon in 1932 after the faculty board, then called the athletic council, had approved George Veenker. Then as a climax the regents disolved the council and created the present board of four faculty members appointed by the president of the university, two alumni and one student.

Karakas	6	9	8	4—27
Worters	6	7	9	1—23

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Chicago Blackhawks, after three consecutive defeats, tonight gained a 2 to 2 tie against the New York Americans before a crowd of 10,000 at Madison Square Garden. The draw enabled the Hawks to take sole possession of second place in the American section of the league, a half game ahead of Boston and the New York Rangers, and three games back of the league leading Detroit Red Wings.

After the game the Hawks entrained for Chicago, where they will meet Boston at the Stadium Sunday night. Since neither the Hawks nor their two rivals play until Sunday, their hold on second place will remain until then, when they meet the Bruins, and the Rangers entertain the Canadiens at New York.

Brydson Saves Hawks.

The Hawks took the lead in the first period, when the Americans were short handed. Johnny Gottselig scored the goal, with Paul Thompson and Earl Seibert earning assists. The Americans went ahead, 2 to 1, in the second period, Eddie Wiseman and Nels Stewart scoring. With less than four minutes of the final period remaining, Glenn Brydson scored the tying goal, Gottselig being credited with an assist.

The overtime ten minutes of spotty contest provided no excitement except in the first few minutes, when the Hawks were short two men. Thirteen penalties were meted out, seven charged against the Hawks.

Levinsky drew a penalty for tripping Klein in the first period as the American wing was going right in on Karakas to receive a well executed forward pass from Voss. The Americans shot four forwards onto the ice, but the Chicagoans, with Seibert playing the leading defensive rôle, kept them out without a great deal of trouble until Levinsky got back.

Brydson, Cotton Argue.

Brydson and Cotton started a little private feud in which the Hawk wingman came out best, for after checking the American player against the boards he watched Cotton take a penalty for cross-checking when the New Yorker attempted to get even.

It was then the Hawks' turn to send four forwards into action and the strategy proved successful when Gottselig scored at 14:05. Seibert drove down and split the American defense only to have Worters come out and make a grand save. The puck rebounded out to Thompson on left wing, and Paul batted it high to the New York cage, where both Seibert and Gottselig swiped at it until the rubber rolled over the prostrate Worters and into the cage.

Trudell earned a holding penalty shortly after, and Karakas made several fine saves as the Americans carried the play into Chicago territory in four and five man rushes.

Wiseman Ties Score.

The Blackhawks started the second period cautiously, and the Americans had a big edge in the play during the early part.

Seibert then led several dangerous thrusts on Worters. Schriner drew a penalty for interference and the

GOLDEN GLOVERS CONCLUDE FIRST WEEK'S FIGHTING

a two count. During the last minute of fighting he had Sarenello in a bad way.

Those were the sort of battles that thrilled the crowds at White City, where the south side fights were held, and at Madison A. C. auditorium during the first week of the fighting for Golden Gloves in Chicago.

A fellow who came to the front on the west side and who looks like a genuine champion was Cornelius Jackson, a colored middleweight. He is the most powerfully built 160 pounder to show up for this year's tournament. With a mighty right to the chin he finished Francis Kalka of Cicero in the first round.

In Wrong Class.

The south side fans now are beginning to pick their favorites for the Tournament of Champions at the Stadium. Last night they thought they had a certain winner for a novice title in the welterweight class. But the young lad, Elzy Green of the Savoy Athletic club, had been permitted to enter the novice division by error. He scored a technical knockout over Don Richman before the mistake was detected.

Green was moved to the open division of the 147 pound class with the consent of Eddie Nichols, his second, and now the south side is picking Elzy to win a qualifying berth in that competition. Richman was permitted to continue in the novice race through a technical default at the expense of Green.

Bob Whitmore, slender young business college student, displayed a powerful punch in winning by a one round technical knockout over Cleaver Pettie of the Armour A. C. in the welterweight novice division. Bob, who represented the C. Y. O., has been taking lessons and working out for about a year but this is his first tournament.

This Gag Fails to Work.

One little colored lad tried a novel scheme to crash the gate at White City, but it didn't work. He put bandages on his hands, rolled up his trousers and covered by his overcoat he appeared at the gate with the statement he was ready to fight. Just as he made his spiel one pant leg slipped down and, when the gate keeper opened the boy's overcoat, he found him fully dressed.

Medical Tests Stop Only One West Side Boxer

Walter Klimcke, 28 year old lightweight, who journeyed to the Madison club to continue his fight for a novice title, warmed up as a spectator and watched his welterweight brother, Babe Klimcke, 19 years old, lose to Joseph Burke, unattached. Officials advanced Walter to the open division when it was learned he had qualified for the semi-finals in last year's novice meet and was ineligible. Thus James Henderson of the Wolverines A. C., whom he was booked to fight, won by default.

Before his scrap with Francis Kalka of Cicero, Cornelius Edric Jackson, colored Crane Tech senior, born in Mississippi 20 years ago, said the weird black robe he wore, decorated with a golden dragon, was his "good luck piece." It proved to be just that, for Jackson stopped his foe in one round.

Benny Ray, professional second hired by THE TRIBUNE, did not have a boxer in the 50 he handled last night lose due to cuts. Ray has seconded such headliners as Johnny Kilbane, featherweight, and George Chip, middleweight, both former world champions, in the last 27 years.

Helen Fulton Wins Second Match in Bermuda Tennis

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Helen Fulton, Chicago, scored her second easy victory in the annual Princess hotel tennis tournament today, defeating Mrs. Robert Lee, Bermuda, 6—1, 6—1. Another Chicago entry, Mary Mitchell, lost to Gladys Hutchings, Bermuda's No. 1 player and winner of the tourney last year, 6—0, 6—1.

N. U., Purdue, Wisconsin Will Meet on Track

Three Western conference track teams, Northwestern, Purdue, and Wisconsin, will clash at Patten gymnasium tomorrow night in the second annual triangular meet between the three schools.

Wisconsin's all around strength will make it the favorite to capture first honors for the second time. The Badger squad is built around a strong nucleus of veterans, led by a pair of Big Ten champions in Karl Kleinschmidt, half miler, and Carleton Crowell, quarter miler.

Wildcats Have Strong Relay Team.

Northwestern and Purdue are lacking in sufficient numbers, but will present several outstanding performers. The Wildcats expect to enter strong teams in the one mile and two mile relays that will replace the quarter and half mile runs.

Jack Kellner, Wisconsin, probably will have things pretty much his own way in the hurdles. He is the present conference champion in the high hurdles. Other Badger stars include Christianson and Rubow, a pair of 46 foot shot putters; Janicke in the sprints, and Fenske, a two miler who turned in a 9:45 performance last year.

Fleming Is Good 880 Man.

Northwestern's one mile relay team will be built around co-captains Jack Fleming and Sunny Heg, members of last year's team that placed second in the conference outdoor meet. Fleming is one of the country's leading half milers, having run second in the conference and third in the national meets last year. Heg was second in the Big Ten quarter mile.

The other two members of the relay team probably will be Fritz Kaumans, a letter man who has returned to school after a year's absence, and Chet Ensley, a promising sophomore.

Football Players to Compete.

Several football players, including Bob Swisher, Vange Burnett and Bob Carter, head Northwestern's entries in the field events. Swisher will compete in the pole vault and high jump, while Burnett and Carter will throw the shot.

Glenn Cunningham Enters National A. A. U. Meet

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The entry of Glenn Cunningham, famous Kansas miler, for the National A. A. U. indoor championship track and field meet at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 22, was received today to bring the list of defending champions for the meet up to 12. Cunningham will defend the 1,500 meter title, which he won last year by beating Bill Bonthron in the record time of 3:50.5.

MIDWEST GOLF TOURNAMENT TO OPEN MARCH 27

Plans for the fifth annual midwest amateur golf tournament, sponsored by the Midwest Golfer and Sports Review, were announced yesterday at a meeting in the Chicago Athletic association. The tournament, largest spring golf event in the country, will be held on March 27, 28, and 29 at the French Lick Springs Golf and Country club, French Lick, Ind.

Officials announced that the championship proper will be decided over the 54 hole medal play route, instead of 36 holes, as previously. Mel Smith, Lawson Little's first coach and the new professional at French Lick, attended the meeting.

Bruno Betzel Is Named Manager at Allentown

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Bruno Betzel, former manager of the Louisville and Indianapolis clubs of the American association, tonight was named manager of the Allentown Brooks of the New York-Pennsylvania league for the 1936 season. The announcement was made by Rudy Hulswitt, new president of the Allentown club.

REGENTS DECIDE FATE OF BADGER COACHES TODAY

Athletic Board to Battle to Gain Power.

man of the faculty board, threatened to resign when the regents first stepped into the mess, but was dissuaded. If the regents table or tear up the faculty report tomorrow, it is likely that Weaver will quit, along with his fellow professors, Asher Hobson, agricultural economics; Gus Bohstedt, animal husbandry, and Robert Aurner, business administration.

The ultimate target of the regents, it is believed, is not Meanwell, but President Glenn Frank, appointed ten years ago by the regents, whose political alignment since has changed. The board now is predominately Progressive. Five were appointed Jan. 7 by Gov. Phil La Follette.

The sentiment of the new regents is reliably reported to lie with the Wilkie-Grady faction.

One Regent Absent.

The others [the first five forming the investigating committee] re Grady, Wilkie, chairman of the board; Clough Gates, Superior; John Callahan, Madison; Judge A. C. Backus, Milwaukee; Gunnar Gundersen, La Crosse; Robert V. Baker Jr., Kenosha; Mrs. Clara T. Runge, Baraboo; Mrs. Jessie Combs, Oshkosh; the Rev. E. M. Christopherson, Pigeon Falls; Edward J. Brown, Milwaukee; Kenneth Hones, Colfax; A. M. Miller, Little Chute, and Raymond Richards, Wisconsin Rapids.

Mead's absence leaves a possibility of a 7-7 tie if some of the regents now considered in the Spears camp should switch their votes. President Frank, who has no vote otherwise, casts the deciding ballot in case of a deadlock.

Dark Outlook for Meanwell.

The 9-5 lineup of the regents today, however makes the outlook black for Meanwell at tomorrow's sessions. Spears, it would seem, will be the 1936 football coach. But in the political bargaining certain to go on at the session, the position of Spears also may be jeopardized.

Spears came out of the regents' investigation in a favorable position. Three charges were made against him:

1. That he had ordered Trainer William Fallon to put liquor in the players' coffee between halves.
2. That he forced injured players to take part in games when they were in no condition to play.
3. That he used abusive language on the field.

Spears flatly denied the liquor charge. It was his word against Trainer Fallon's. Spears produced affidavits from other trainers who have handled his teams at other schools. All of them said Spears had never ordered liquor given to a player.

Players Defend Spears.

Members of the team came to Spears' defense on the second charge. They couldn't recall a single instance of a player being ordered into the game when physically unfit.

On the third count Spears admitted he might have used some strong language, but added that "football isn't a sissy game, anyway."

Spears also declared that he would never have left Oregon, where he was receiving $11,000 a year and was popular with the authorities, had it not been his impression that he was to be made athletic director.

When Spears came to Madison in April, 1932, the duties of athletic director were being handled by J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university, and Irvin C. Uteritz, an assistant coach.

"I was asked by President Frank to draw up a plan of reorganization for the department, which I did," Spears testified at the regents' hearing. He also made a vigorous speaking tour of the state, consulting high schools and alumni.

Then, on July 13, 1934, much to Spears' surprise, the faculty board appointed Dr. Meanwell athletic director, and the regents approved, when President Frank broke an 8-8 tie with the deciding vote. [Since then the board has been reduced to 15 through redistricting the state.]

The alumni are strong supporters of Spears. Both Chicago and Milwaukee clubs have accorded the big doctor votes of confidence.

Hard to Believe.

The visitor to this beautiful four lakes city, upon his arrival here, will merely smile at reports that families have drawn money out of one bank and put it in another because some other employé of the first bank was "on the wrong side," but this has happened. The traveler will scoff at the word that housewives have changed dairies and meat markets for the same reason. But this, too, is what has occurred.

The visitor will wonder why people look uneasily around when they talk to him to be sure no one is within earshot. He will hear of bridge clubs disrupted because players battled over Spears and Meanwell instead of over hearts and spades.

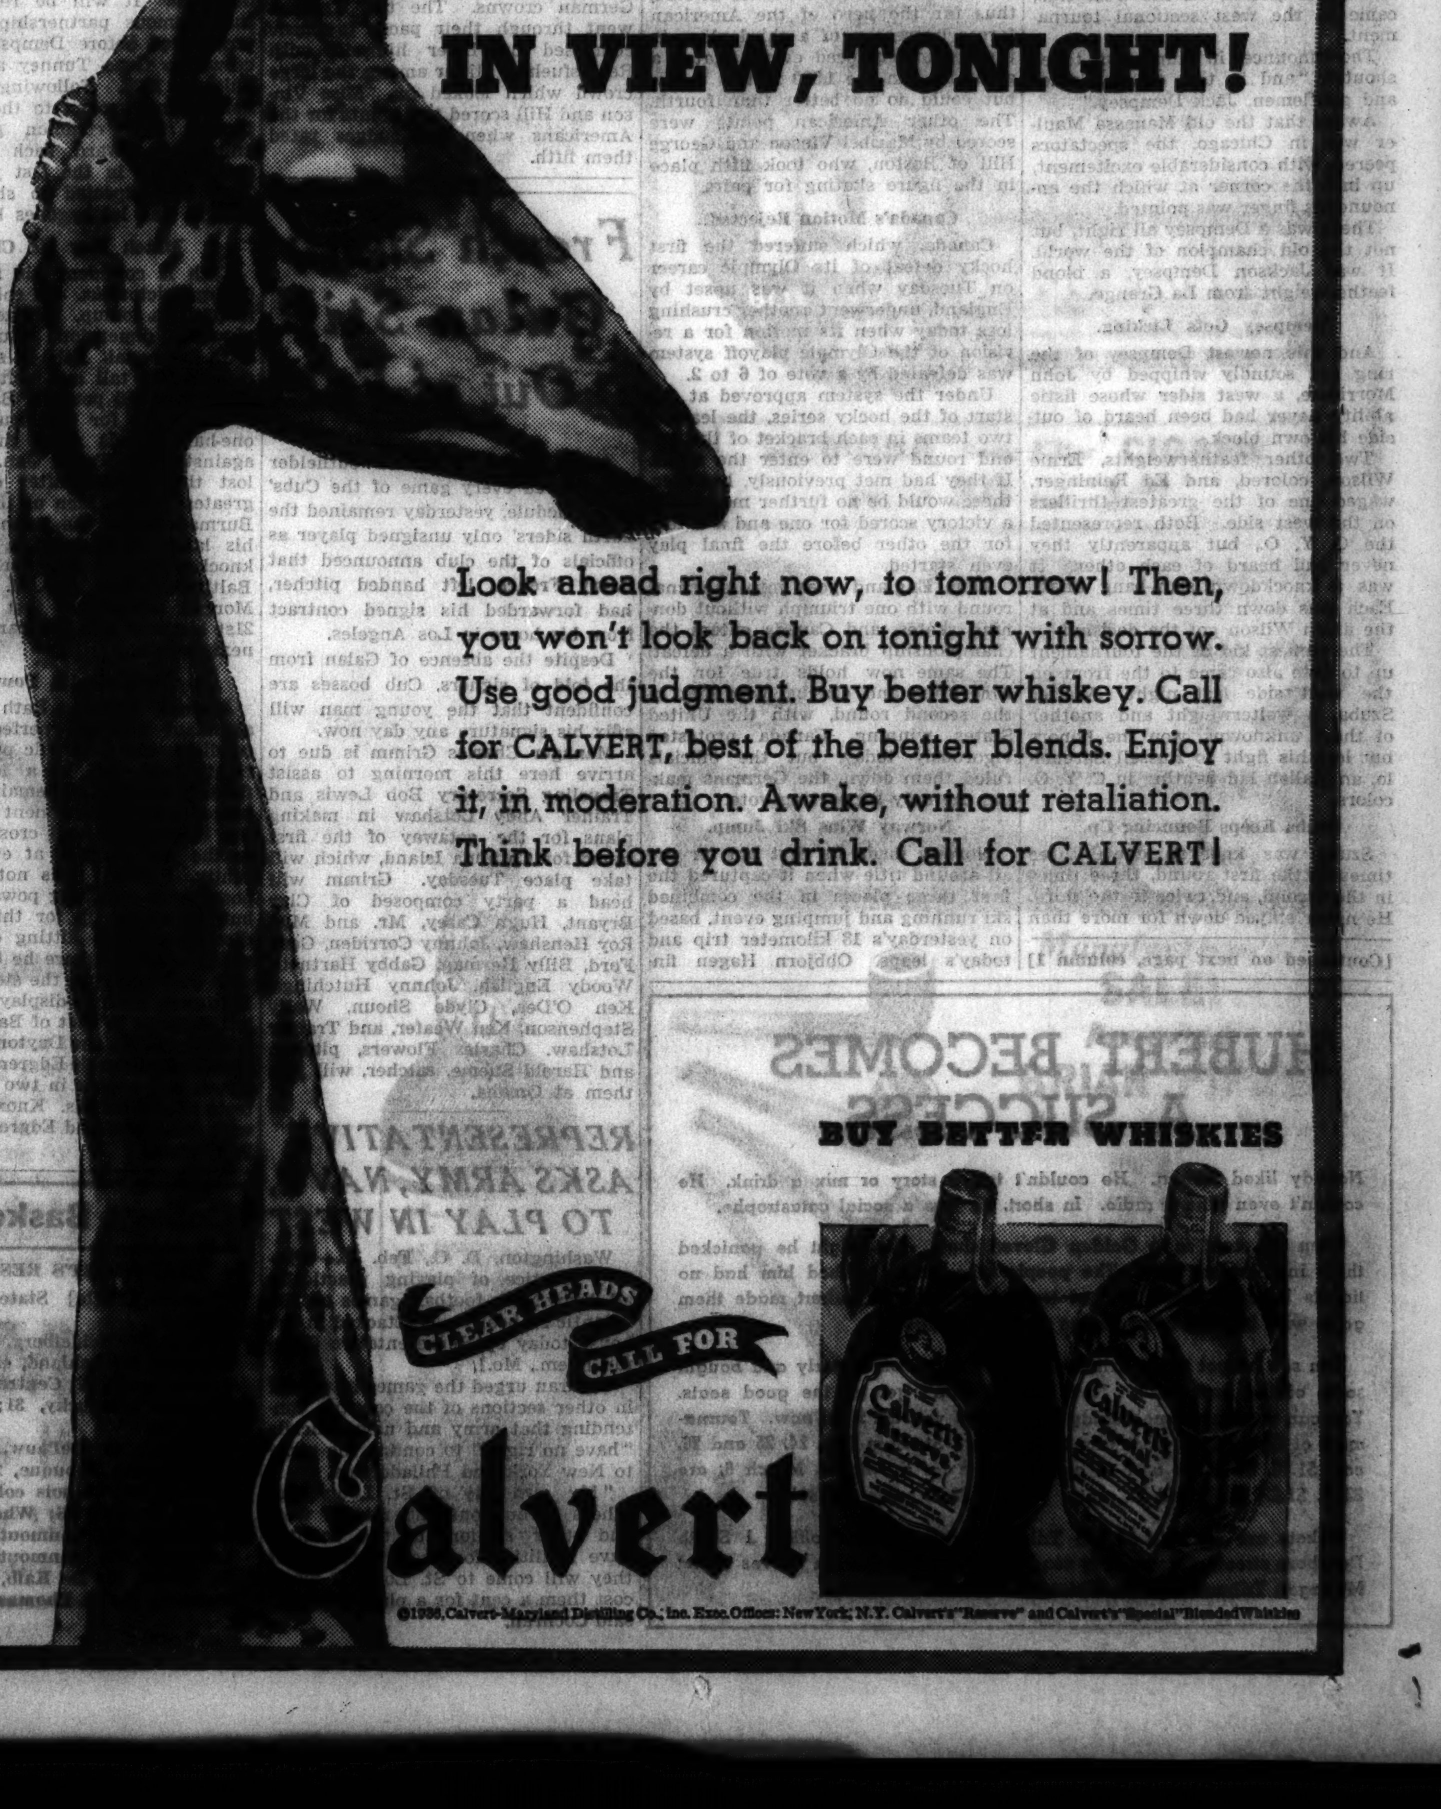
BEG YOUR PARDON

A checkup of Golden Gloves results printed in Wednesday's TRIBUNE reveals that Leroy Taylor of Trafton's gym won his fight from Douglas Coley in the novice featherweight division of the south side trials. Coley had been erroneously named as the winner.

South End Church A. A. Teams to Play Tonight

Four senior division games will be played in the South End Church Athletic Association Basketball league at Fenger High school gymnasium, 113th and Wallace streets, this evening, Feb. 14. Four junior division games are scheduled for tomorrow at the 111th Street Y. M. C. A., 111th and State streets. Tonight's games:

St. Stephen's M. E. vs. Morgan Park M. E.
West Pullman Church of Christ vs. First Christian.
Third Christian vs. St. Stephen's M. E.
Roseland Presbyterian vs. Second Christian.



KEEP TOMORROW IN VIEW, TONIGHT!

DETROIT HOCKY TEAM DEFEATS BOSTON, 1 TO 0

Marty Barry Scores in Second Period.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Marty Barry's second period goal gave the Detroit Red Wings a 1 to 0 shutout over the Boston Bruins in a National Hockey league game here tonight before 8,000 fans.

Barry, acquired from Boston last summer in a straight trade for Ralph [Cooney] Weiland, beat his old mates on an accurate pass from Herbie Lewis before the second period was six minutes old. Lewis, racing straight down the ice, slid the disc to Barry, whose fast shot got between Goalie Thompson's leg and the post.

Both teams back checked so accurately through the three periods that neither Thompson, in the Bruin net, nor Smith, in the Detroit cage, were overworked. Thompson kicked out 18 shots, while Smith had 16.

MAROONS, 2; LEAFS, 1

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons downed the Toronto Maple Leafs, 2 to 1, tonight to go into the lead in the international division of the National Hocky league. The Maroons and the Leafs had been tied for top place before tonight's encounter.

The Maroons got off to an early lead when Northcott scored after taking a pass from Ward in 6:52. Toronto turned on full speed as the second period opened, however, and rang up a goal in the first minute of play when Clancy fed the puck to Finnigan, the latter scoring in :53.

Marker scored the winning goal for Montreal late in the third period. Lionel Conacher and Gracie worked the puck into the danger zone and then passed to Marker, who found the net in 18:22.

Lorne Chabot, former Chicago goalie who went to the Canadiens and then to Montreal, made his debut in a Maroon uniform auspiciously. He handled 24 shots against only 12 for George Hainsworth in the Toronto goal.

Incidentally, the Fort Lauderdale Chamber of Commerce awards a button and certificate for notable catches. This has been such a notable season for sailfish that the normal supply of buttons has been exhausted and a new supply ordered. Forty of the fighting game fish were landed in one day.

Blackhawks, Americans Tie, 2 to 2

Carr rushed nicely and seemed to be going right in on Karakas when Wiese spilled him and earned a penalty. While he was off the Americans tied the count, Wiseman scoring on a power play. Dutton, Schriner, and Chapman received assists.

The teams had just gotten to full strength when Levinsky and Wiseman drew roughing sentences. When they returned the Americans took the lead, Stewart scoring on Jerwa's pass. Emms drew a tripping penalty and Murray followed a few moments later for spilling Seibert with a knee check. The Americans were two men short, but Chicago was unable to capitalize on the extra man power before the bell rang.

Gottselig Scores, but —

Emms and Murray were still in the penalty box as the third period started, but Emms had just got back when Gottselig and Thompson missed fine chances to tie the count during a scramble around the American net. Gottselig did beat Worters, but Chapman batted the rubber out just as it rolled on the line. Murray got back and play was fairly even for the next few minutes.

After the 10 minute mark the persistent attack of the Hawks forced the New Yorkers to open up and play raced from end to end at a terrific clip with both goalies being called upon for several fine saves.

Weibe crashed Klein into the boards and took a two minute rest. As soon as Wiebe got back the Hawks tied the score, Brydson rifling one into the American cage after Murray had tried to block a shot from Gottselig by dropping in front of Worters.

The Americans were a man short as the third period ended when Dutton was penalized for tripping.

Seibert drew a quick penalty in the overtime for charging Emms, almost knocking the American out. Levinsky followed a few seconds later for tripping Voss. Besides a minor, the Hawks defenseman got 10 minutes for talking back to Referee Mike Rodden. Shy two men, the Hawks had a hot time defending their cage but Seibert got back before damage was done. Levinsky's substitute came out a few seconds later and Karakas rested easier.

FAVORITES MOVE UP IN NASSAU WOMEN'S GOLF

NASSAU, Bahamas, Feb. 13.—(AP)—In rain and wind that caused five contestants to default three favorites and one upset victor advanced today to the semi-finals of the British colonial women's amateur golf tournament.

All four matches in the consolation flight were settled by defaults, while Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., runner-up to the medalist in qualifying play, went to the round of four in first flight play as Mrs. Charles McCubbin, Kansas City, Mo., defaulted.

The upset victor was Peggy Wattles, Buffalo, N. Y., who outlasted the steady Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Tenn., to win at the 21st hole of their 18 hole match. Mrs. Solomon's four putts on the final green more than counterbalanced Miss Wattles' bunkered tee shot.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City veteran, who won medal honors, meanwhile was defeating Mrs. E. F. De Vilbiss, also of Kansas City, 7 and 5, and Helen Detweiler, Washington, D. C., another favored contender, was eliminating Mrs. Sally Sterrett, Hutchinson, Kas., 2 and 1.

MORE CINCINNATI PLAYERS SAIL FOR PORTO RICO

In the party were Ernie Lombardi, catcher; Gene Schott, pitcher; Infielders William Myers, Tommy Thevenow, Lew Riggs, George McQuinn, and Lee Handley, and Outfielders Kiki Cuyler, Babe Herman, Ival Goodman, Calvin Chapman, and Harvey Walker.

The advance guard of the Reds sailed for San Juan a week ago.

Notre Dame and N. Y. U. to Meet Tonight

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The magic appeal that Notre Dame has for New York sports followers again will be in evidence tomorrow night when more than 18,000 will jam Madison Square Garden for the eighth of the college basketball double-headers. In the feature attraction of a show that was sold out a week ago, Notre Dame will face New York university, while Fordham will play City college in the opener.

Two great games are in prospect with Notre Dame having the best record. The Irish have won nine straight, scored fifteen victories this year, and have suffered one defeat and a tie.

New York, which had seemed fated to go into this game with a 23 game streak, was beaten twice last week, and now has to its credit thirteen triumphs and two setbacks for the season.

Where N. Y. U. has a good first team and only one replacement on a par with the regulars, Notre Dame has two full teams of almost equal strength. One is a sophomore combination and the other a veteran quintet. The youngsters have more natural talent and have been improving with every game since Purdue whipped Notre Dame, 54-40. New York, catching Purdue two days after the Notre Dame game, managed to hand the Boilermakers a 43-41 defeat.

BAER TELLS OF TRAINING PLANS FOR COMEBACK

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Max Baer, former heavyweight boxing champion, announced today he would start immediate training for a comeback—but his manager asserted Maxie merely planned to reduce in expectation of a movie contract.

"I will fight anybody, but I prefer Phil Brubaker," said Baer.

"There is really only one fighter Max can't lick and that is Joe Louis," said Manager Ancil Hoffman, although discounting the anticipated training presaged a comeback attempt.

Brubaker, young Dinuba, Cal., heavyweight, will battle King Levinsky tomorrow night at San Francisco.

"Biggest Mistake I Ever Made"

[Otto Strohmeier, University of Chicago end coach, says that an athlete's chief memories are of the mistakes he made or the times he just missed doing something spectacular or smart. This is the eighth of a series of articles decribing such experiences of famous athletes.]

BY JACK DEMPSEY.

[Former World's Heavyweight Champion.]

I MISSED my share of punches in my time as a fighter, and the book of my boxing career contains more than a few mistakes, but the one error that stands out biggest and boldest among all of them is one that I shall never forget.

I can even recall the exact time that it happened. It was thirty-four minutes after 10 o'clock on the night of Sept. 22, 1927, and Chicago was the place—Soldiers' field, to be exact. I didn't even allow myself any privacy in committing that boner, but was guilty of it in front of 145,000 people, the largest crowd ever to see a fight. That fight was the biggest battle of my life, a battle to win back the world's heavyweight championship Gene Tunney had taken from me in Philadelphia a day short of a year before.

Goes to Wrong Corner.

The seventh round of the fight was more than half way over when I caught Gene with a left hook that staggered him, and followed that up with a right which dropped the champion to the canvas. Referee Dave Barry motioned me to a corner, but I didn't go to the right one, and by the time I was in a neutral corner, Tunney had recovered and the famous incident of the 14 count was officially complete.

I'm convinced that my failure to go to the right corner immediately cost me the championship, and it would take a whole army of lawyers to prove otherwise to me.

Judge of Bout Agrees.

I was borne out in my argument a few hours after the fight when the late George Lytton, one of the two judges of the fight, said:

"Dempsey beat himself by not going back to his corner. There have been several remarks to the effect that Tunney could have risen sooner. I don't think so. In my opinion Tunney would have been counted out if the ex-champion had moved away to a neutral corner faster."

"...I don't drink often... but J. J. sure hits the spot
after a fast game"

BLUFF, hearty, honest; no pretense; no fol-de-rols; there's your true sportsman. And it fits John Jameson like a glove. This whiskey is made by the same traditional pot-still method we've used 150 years—not by new-fangled methods which would cost us less. It's made of barley, wheat, oats and that's all—except water and time. We age it 7 years in wood and have never "hurried" the ageing by a day. We even add older of our whiskies to round out the flavour. It's as straightforward as a whiskey can be. Ask any bartender about J. J.

Western State Hands Loyola 49-28 Defeat

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Western State Teachers tonight handed the invading Loyola [Chicago] basketball team a 49 to 28 defeat. The winners held a 31 to 16 advantage at the end of the first half, despite Loyola's early spurt which sent the visitors in front, 10 to 3.

Center Arnold paced Western State with five baskets and four free throws for 14 points, while Colen was Loyola's high scorer with eight points.

JACK ROTHROCK PLANS TO RETIRE FROM BASEBALL

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Jack Rothrock, former St. Louis Cardinal star and a baseball veteran at 29 years of age, said today he may quit the game.

One of the heroes when the Cards won the world series in 1934, the outfielder was traded last December to Rochester in the International league.

Rothrock, after nine years in the sport, has been studying civil engineering. Unless he gets a tempting offer he said he will retire.

FREISINGER HITS TOP FORM FOR 4TH IN OLYMPICS

Chicagoan Gives Ballangrud Hardest Race.

BY O'NEIL FARRELL.

[Coach of U. S. Skating Team.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 13.—Leo Freisinger, of Chicago, youngest member of the United States' speed skating team, fulfilled all expectations today, finishing fourth in the 1,500 meter race and giving the veteran Norwegian, Ivar Ballangrud, his toughest race of the year.

Paired with Ballangrud, it was hoped the fast start of the American lad would pull him to a new record in the 1,500 meters event. Consequently he set out to break the 22 year old mark.

Ballangrud Wins in Stretch.

Leo battled Ballangrud stride for stride until the last 200 meters, when the exceptional form of the Norwegian became evident and he pulled away, coming down the home stretch.

Freisinger could have picked no better time to skate his best race and his time of 2 minutes 21.3 seconds betters his personal record for the distance.

Prior to the start we laid out a chart covering the speed each lap must be skated, and Leo held to the chart until it was evident the ice and weather conditions were not good enough for record times.

Mathieson Wins in 2:19.2.

Later in the day, with the sun on the ice making it lightning fast, Charles Mathieson of Norway and Max Steipl of Austria battled to a finish in which Mathieson had the winning time of 2 minutes 19.2 seconds, ahead of both Ballangrud and Freisinger.

The Finn Wasenius, skating last and under ideal conditions, also slipped in under Leo's time, placing the Chicago boy fourth in the field of thirty-seven.

Bob Petersen of Milwaukee and Eddie Schroeder of Chicago turned in fair times, placing them well up in the list, but out of the chosen first six.

CHUCK WOODS, PAT MURPHY TO CLASH MONDAY

Welterweights Will Top Marigold Card.

Chuck Woods, Detroit welterweight challenger, who defeated Laddie Tonelli recently, will head the boxing show at Marigold Gardens Monday. His opponent in the encounter, set for ten rounds, will be Pat Murphy, Danville, Ill., slugger. Inability of Co-Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun to obtain a suitable foe to oppose Otis Thomas on that date forced a substitution in the windup.

Jim Sariz, San Francisco heavyweight wrestler, will meet Gentleman Jack Smith of Chicago in the windup bout of the mat show tonight at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. The bout is booked for one fall or one hour. Preliminary engagements:

Rudy Hoffman vs. Emanuel Cortez.
Ed Schon vs. Rudy Stoll.
Buddy Atlas vs. Enrico Marchi.
Bill Goels vs. Tiger Nelson.
Phil Gruber vs. Hank Ross.

Bruno Dooley, promising south side heavyweight, will clash with Bernie Bowman in the feature attraction at five rounds on the amateur boxing card tonight at Madison Athletic club, 4711 West Madison street. Joe De Pasquale is paired with Eddie O'Connor in the semi-final at 130 pounds. . . . Lou Nova, former University of California athlete, 1935 National A. A. U. heavyweight titleholder, is being exploited as an opponent for Joe Louis. Louis, who now weighs 206 pounds, is staying home during the illness of his wife, but he is making plans to attend tonight's show at the Stadium.

Jim Londos, former heavyweight wrestling champion, has been signed to appear at Peoria, Ill., Feb. 24. Either Hank Bath or Cowboy Frankie Edgren will top a boxing show there March 2. . . . An encounter between Nick Scalba, 1931 Chicago Golden Gloves king, and Everett Rightmire, Sioux City featherweight contender, was closed yesterday at Fargo, N. D., for Feb. 24. . . . Tony Canzoneri, lightweight monarch, will face Billy Hogan at Brooklyn tonight. . . . Efforts are being made to sign Billy Treest for a fight at the Stadium Feb. 21. . . . Larry Amadee, assistant trainer of Joe Louis, is handling Dave Clark, last year's Golden Gloves middleweight winner, and Holman Williams, colored lightweight champion, for pending bouts. . . . Experts contend that Billy Celebron's best chance to defeat Harry Dublinsky in their 12 round welterweight elimination at Cicero stadium next Wednesday is in the early rounds. It is pointed out that Celebron can knock out any opponent he is able to hit and this opportunity is better presented in the first five rounds. Billy has knocked out such boxers as George Engel, Laddie Tonelli, Ernie Kirchner, and Kenny Austin the first round. . . . Gerald Meeker will face Nango Singh in Joe Coffey's wrestling attraction at White City Monday. . . . Mickey O'Shea will box Dick Demarey ten rounds at Billings, Mont., March 2, prior to his forthcoming clash with Harvey Massey at Cicero. . . . Frank Sagilio, Cicero junior welterweight, and Manager Jack Hurley left yesterday for Milwaukee where Sagilio fights Dom Lemanske tonight. . . . Danny Spunt has arranged eight amateur matches for presentation at Victory hall, 3242 West Roosevelt road, tonight. F. M.

GARDEN TO HOLD TOURNEY TO FIND CANZONERI FOE

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Madison Square Garden will conduct an elimination tourney in March to determine an opponent for Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston announced today.

Johnston said he has signed Lou Ambers, Herkimer, N. Y.; Bobby Pacho, Cleveland; Ralph [Indian] Hurtado, Panama, and Leonard Del Genio, New York, for the tournament. Ambers will be matched against Pacho in a ten rounder at the Garden on March 6, and Hurtado will battle Del Genio over the same route on the same night. The winners will meet at 15 rounds two weeks later, the survivor to be matched against Canzoneri.

GOLDSTEIN WILL PAY $15,000, CUT GRAIN SUIT CLAIM

Attorney and Rosenbaum Company Compromise.

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday approved a compromise settlement of claims by the Rosenbaum Grain corporation against Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein.

The settlement provides that Goldstein is to turn over $15,000 in cash to the trustees of the corporation in payment of disputed charges for storage, loading, and commissions accruing on the account of Goldrus, Inc., the attorney's personal investment concern. At the same time Goldstein agreed to reduce from $129,196 to $49,700 counter claims that he had filed against the corporation.

The order entered by Judge Holly ends the inquiry that he has been conducting into charges that Goldstein conspired with P. H. King, office manager of the corporation, to save his account $22,500 in charges by an alteration in the company's records.

Change in Account Admitted.

King had admitted on the witness stand that he made the changes benefiting the Goldrus account, but asserted that they were made to correct earlier clerical errors.

The settlement offer was presented by Murry Nelson, counsel for the creditors. No objections to the terms were made, but James A. Sprowl, counsel for the corporation, and Francis X. Busch, attorney for E. F. Rosenbaum, former president of the firm, told the court they had further evidence to present bearing on the conspiracy charge. Judge Holly ruled against further evidence, saying that the matter had been brought before the court on the motion of the trustees, who had accepted the settlement and did not desire any further hearing.

Reorganization in Doubt.

Plans for the reorganization of the Rosenbaum corporation still remain in a nebulous stage after nearly a year of litigation. Judge Holly warned attorneys yesterday that he will take steps in the near future to end the case whether a plan of reorganization is agreed upon or not.

Judge Holly is expected to authorize the trustees next Saturday to close down the elevator properties that are still in operation. These include the Rosenbaum A and B elevators and the Irondale warehouse in South Chicago. The storage capacity of these elevators is approximately 4,500,000 bushels. Approximately 8,000 bushels of grain are stored in the houses at present.

RISE IN WHEAT IS STEMMED BY PROFIT TAKING

Upturn in Foreign Marts Only Mildly Followed.

American wheat markets yesterday made a mild response to the sharp upturn in Winnipeg and Liverpool on Wednesday, when our markets were closed for Lincoln's birthday. Scattered buying lifted futures about 1 cent early but profit taking and liquidation credited to the east quickly put an end to the bull movement. Final trades in Chicago were unsettled with the May delivery gaining a major fraction while the July option was slightly lower.

Buying of May against sales of July and September wheat, and purchases of May wheat credited to cash interests widened the May-July spread to 9½ cents premium for the May delivery compared with 8⅝ cents at the close on Tuesday.

Canadian Exports Decline.

The big export business in Canadian cash wheat on Wednesday, finally estimated as high as 3,000,000 bushels, was not followed by additional purchases of consequence yesterday. The result was that both Winnipeg and Liverpool reacted from the close of previous day. Winnipeg gained nearly 1 cent compared with Tuesday and Liverpool was up 1½ cent per bushel.

The forecast for snow over the greater part of the winter wheat belt, including the dry sections in the southwest, had a tendency to temper bullish enthusiasm in the new crop futures.

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	.98⅛	97½	99¼
Corn	.61⅛	60⅝	60⅝
Oats	.29	28⅝	28⅝
Rye	.58⅝	58¼	58⅛

Continued cold and stormy weather resulted in an increase in local and outside buying in corn and the close was at the top with a net gain of nearly 1 cent.

Current stocks of cash corn at terminal markets are only slightly in excess of 6,000,000 bushels, the smallest total at this season of year since 1920.

Removal of hedges against shipping sales of 80,000 bushels of rye lifted the May delivery nearly 1 cent to 59 cents per bushel, where it equaled the best price of the season. Profit taking caused a recession with the close a small fraction higher. Oats developed a firmer undertone as the result of buying of futures credited to industries.

SMART MONEY IS ON KING!

GETS REAL AGED FLAVOR IN WHISKY UNDER $1.00 A PINT. READ FACTS!

SMART buyers are learning why King of Kentucky has such amazing flavor at such a low price! Here's the inside story: First—King is aged in costly new charred oak barrels only. No cheap used barrels! No barrels used twice!

Then King is aged at summer temperature the full year-round—a minimum of 12 months in wood.

These things cost dollars extra per barrel—thousands of dollars extra a week—but they're only two of the many extra-costly steps that make King taste better. Try King! See for yourself the extra mellowness they give to this whisky. See why thousands are switching to King of Kentucky every day. King is Kentucky straight whisky—nothing else.

EDISON PROFIT IN 1935 EQUALS $6.39 PER SHARE

Tax Bill 12 Millions; Sales Increase.

After setting aside $12,098,000 to pay its 1935 tax bill to federal, state, and local governments, the Commonwealth Edison closed the year with a profit of $10,274,000 for its stockholders, James Simpson, chairman, reported in the company's annual statement yesterday.

JAMES SIMPSON.
[Blank & Stoller Photo.]

The taxes paid by the company were equal to $7.53 a share on the stock outstanding, an increase of $1.36 over the amount levied by the various governments in 1934. The net income remaining after taxes was equal to $6.39 a share. Adjusted net income for 1934 was $10,271,000, or $6.38 a share.

Sales of electricity to three of the four major classes of customers were larger than in the preceding year with the aggregate gain amounting to 4.2 per cent.

Sales Gains by Classes.

Sales to residential consumers were 5.4 per cent larger than in 1934. Sales to small commercial concerns registered an increase of 4.8 per cent, while sales classified as "large light and power" rose 6.7 per cent over the 1934 total. The fourth major class of customers, electric railways, cut their power purchases by one-half of 1 per cent from the preceding year. The decline in this class of sales was ascribed to the decline in passenger trafic in 1935 as compared with World's Fair period of the preceding year.

The report listed gross earnings of $78,533,000 from electrical sales, against the adjusted 1934 gross of $75,428,000. Operating expenses increased to $61,541,000 from $58,187,000 in 1934, due in a large measure to the increased taxes paid last year.

1934 Report Is Adjusted.

Adjustments in the 1934 profit were made to give effect to savings of $1,879,000 on excess tax accruals and a retroactive change in the company's coal contract made in 1935. The net income previously reported for 1934 was equal to $5.21 a share.

Taxes accounted for the largest single increase in the company's expense charges, Chairman Simpson told stockholders. The 3 per cent state public utility tax that went into effect July 1, 1935, will continue at the same rate until Jan. 1, 1937, after which it will be reduced to 2 per cent. In addition the company pays a 3 per cent federal tax on electrical sales and 3 per cent in municipal compensation.

"It can be seen," Simpson said, "that the company is now subject to three separate and distinct levies, each of 3 per cent, on all or part of its revenues from electricity sales. These taxes are in addition to the ordinary local, state, and federal taxes to which the company is also subject in common with other businesses."

New Business Gains.

The net gain in new business in 1935 totaled 48,900 kilowatts, of which 27,000 kilowatts was for power and 21,900 for light, Simpson said. The increase was less than the new business gain in 1934.

Twelve private power plants were replaced by Edison service during the year, Simpson said.

The company made 317 new air conditioning installations in 1935, an increase of 33 per cent over 1934. Several installations were made in large commercial establishments, the report said, but the most were made in smaller stores, restaurants, and offices.

"While the total is relatively small," Simpson said, "the air conditioning load is growing rapidly and offers substantial possibilities for the future."

The refunding of $29,500,000 of bonds during 1935 will result in a saving of $275,000 in interest charges annually during the life of the issue, Simpson said. Over a 30 year period, during which the bonds will be outstanding, this will mean a total saving of $8,250,000.

Douglas Aircraft Reports Highest Profit in History

Net profit of $1,252,967 for the Douglas Aircraft company in the year ended Nov. 30, 1935, was the highest on record for the company, according to the annual report released yesterday. Earnings were equal to $2.70 a share and compared with a net profit of $38,753, or 8 cents a share, in the preceding year. Unfilled orders on Feb. 8 amounted to $16,800,000, compared with $4,900,000 a year ago.

Middle West Old Stock Sags on Delisting

The price of the old Middle West common stock settled back to "normal" yesterday as it was suspended from trading on the New York Curb exchange and announcement was made by the Chicago Stock exchange that trading here will cease at the close of business today. The delisting also applies to the old preferred stock.

These actions followed the order of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson on Wednesday under which transfer of the old stock and issuance of new certificates will cease next Monday.

Speculation in the old shares in unlisted trading over the counter will not be prevented, however, it was pointed out in La Salle street. It was reported, in fact, that over-the-counter trading began yesterday in New York, immediately after suspension by the Curb.

Shares May Be Exchanged.

This situation arises from the fact that new shares may be obtained in exchange for the old merely by presenting old stock certificates bearing proper indorsements. A transfer certificate of title is not necessary.

It also was learned that brokers dealing in the old Middle West shares will be put to considerable bookkeeping expense under a ruling of the internal revenue department requiring refunds of some $56,000 in transfer taxes erroneously collected on about 1,500,000 shares traded since the old company was reorganized Nov. 27, 1935.

The internal revenue department ruling is that the tax should be only 8 cents per 100 old shares of common instead of the $4 which has been charged under the 4 cents a share rate. The ruling states that the old stock shall be taxed on the basis of its equivalent in new stocks—one share and a warant to purchase a second share.

Old Shares Active and Lower.

In its next to the last day of trading here, the old Middle West shares continued to lead the list with a 41,000 share turnover, but the price sank to ⅛ with a little trading at ¼. At ⅛ of a point 100 shares could be bought for $12.50. This contrasted with the recent high of $37.50 for 100 shares.

The new common stock yesterday touched a high of 10⅛ and closed at 10¼, up ¼ point, in 11,350 share turnover. The purchase rights slipped back from 7⅛ to 6½.

Most active aside from the Middle West issues on the Chicago exchange yesterday was Cities Service, which declined ⅜ in a 9,300 share volume.

Prices continued irregular, though 17 new tops were recorded. Forty-two issues advanced, 54 declined, and 43 were unchanged.

GEN. ELECTRIC LOSES $5,000,000 PATENT SUIT

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe today directed the General Electric company to account for profits estimated in excess of $5,000,000, arising out of a patent infringement action brought by the Electric Machinery Manufacturing company in 1933.

The action alleged the General Electric company infringed on a patented synchronous motor starting and control system, described by the plaintif as one of the most important electrical developments of the last decade.

Judge Coxe held that fifteen of the patent claims advanced by the plaintif were valid and found that two systems to effect a similar control of synchronized motors devised by General Electric were in violation of the plaintif's patents.

FEWEST HORSES AND MULES ON FARMS SINCE 1930

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—(AP)—A substantial reduction in the number of horses and mules on the nation's farms and ranches since 1930 was reported today by the census bureau.

The number of horses on Jan. 1, 1935, was 11,857,850, as compared with $13,383,574 on April 1, 1930, date of the last census, while the number of mules fell from 5,353,950 to 4,818,160.

The current birth rate was calculated at 3.6 per cent, said to be inadequate for replacement purposes, which would require a rate of 7 or 8 per cent.

CONSTRUCTION AWARDS NEARLY DOUBLE YEAR AGO

The value of engineering construction awards during January was almost double that of a year ago, amounting to $288,547,000, the Engineering News-Record reported yesterday.

The total included $43,086,000 of private awards, and $245,461,000 of public, of which $52,186,000 was federal and $193,275,000 state and municipal. The total was 95 per cent above a year ago. Public awards increased 84 per cent, federal 7 per cent, and state and municipal 125 per cent.

MIDDLE WEST FEES TOO BIG, JUDGE SAYS, AS LAWYERS PLEAD

As lawyers began their pleas yesterday in support of claims for $1,600,000 in fees and expenses for reorganization of Middle West Utilities company Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson asserted that the aggregate amount requested is "all out of proportion to the estate."

"I don't think any one will deny that," replied Robert N. Golding, counsel for the note holder group, which is asking $319,473 fees and $44,782 expenses, "but we are entitled to every cent we have requested." Golding then indicated that his group might file objections to some of the other claims.

"Courts must decide the services rendered and the contributions made to the estate and then how to divide the total amount to be allowed," said Judge Wilkerson.

Lewis F. Jacobson, counsel for the petitioning creditors, in support of a request for $225,000 fees and $8,771 expenses, lauded Judge Wilkerson's conduct of the case in the interest of stockholders. "When the angel of the Lord calls the roll, the court's name will head the list," he said.

"I hope to receive my rewards on earth as well as in heaven," interposed Herbert J. Friedlich, counsel for the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the reorganization managers. His request was for $50,000 fees and $5,576 expenses.

The hearing was recessed until Feb. 26, when all objections to the fee requests will be filed.

PROFITS CLIMB FOR HOUDAILLE HERSHEY CORP.

The Houdaille-Hershey corporation and subsidiaries, manufacturers of automobile parts, had a consolidated net profit of $2,456,196 in the year ended Dec. 31, 1935, compared with a net profit of $931,400 in the preceding year. After dividend requirements on the class A stock, earnings amounted to $2.57 a share on the class B stock in 1935, compared with 63 cents a share on the same stock in 1934.

Current assets on Dec. 31, 1935, amounted to $6,418,606, including cash of $2,755,919, against recent liabilities of $1,451,498. At the end of 1934 current assets totaled $4,833,889, including cash of $2,293,050, against current liabilities of $958,805.

U. S. STEEL UNIT TO BUILD PLANT FOR NEW RAILS

Construction of a plant to manufacture a new type of railroad rail, developed during 25 years of research, will be started immediately by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at its Gary, Ind., mills, it became known yesterday. It was indicated in New York that the cost of the plant will be approximately $500,000.

The new rail will manufacture all weights of rail, including the rail weighing 112 pounds to the yard which has become standard on many western railroads. Carnegie-Illinois is a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation.

Crawford Bank to Repay $47,752, or 5 Per Cent

Payment of $47,752, or another 5 per cent, to depositors of the closed Crawford State Savings bank was approved yesterday by Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein. This will bring returns to 25 per cent since the bank closed.

Dollar Spurts Against Gold Bloc Moneys

The dollar made exceptionally large gains yesterday against all leading foreign currencies, particularly the pound sterling and gold bloc moneys, which dropped sharply in New York, London, and Paris.

Two principal reasons were advanced to explain the dollar's strength. One was the assault on Leon Blum, leader of the French Socialist party, by royalists and the other was the continued flow of European capital, largely British, into American markets.

Fearing that the assault on Blum might ignite the French political powder keg, international capitalists began to sell francs against dollars. Part of the demand for dollars, however, was attributed to buying based upon the belief that the dollar has recently been undervalued.

Check Bonus Bond Fears.

This belief was strengthened by recent statements from Washington to the effect that the treasury would follow orthodox financial methods in financing the soldiers' bonus bonds.

Still another factor contributed to the slump in French francs yesterday. This was the publication of the Bank of France statement, showing a loss of $16,683,000 in gold stocks during the last week. Most of this loss was traced to London.

In sharp contrast with the franc's recent climb to a point where gold shipments were profitably made from the United States to France, the franc is now nearing a level that will permit a return flow of gold to this country.

Franc Drops 3¼ Points.

The net loss of the franc in New York yesterday was 3¼ points, reducing the value to 6.64¾ cents from 6.68 cents on Tuesday [the market was closed on Wednesday]. This drop raised the value of the dollar to 99.80 cents, against 99.30 cents on Tuesday.

A drop of 1¾ cents in the pound sterling in New York brought the pound under the $5 for the first time this month and to the lowest point since Jan. 22. It closed at $4.98¼.

Losses for other members of the gold bloc amounted to 16 points in the Swiss franc, which closed at 32.89 cents, and 26 points in the Dutch guilder at 68.40 cents.

German marks fell 19 points, Belgian belgas 8 points, the Canadian dollar 6¼ points, Scandinavian currencies 8 to 10 points, the Italian lira 1 point and the Japanese yen 11 points.

WESTERN UNION NET EARNINGS BEST SINCE 1931

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The Western Union Telegraph company today reported 1935 net income of $5,258,078, the largest for any year since 1931 and more than $3,000,000 above the 1934 total. The profit, after all taxes, depreciation, and charges, was equivalent to $5.03 a share on 1,045,279 shares of capital stock outstanding, and compared with net income of $2,243,084, or $2.14 a share, in 1934.

Gross revenues aggregated $91,389,311, against $88,757,205 in the preceding period. Despite the much higher gross the company paid out less for expenses, taxes, and rents. These three items called for an outlay of $68,699,540 in 1935, against $68,998,370 in 1934.

INDEPENDENT FARMERS WARN CONGRESS ON HASTY LEGISLATION

The Farmers' Independence council, headed by Dan D. Casement of Kansas, yesterday sent letters to all members of congress urging against the enactment of further hasty and ill-considered farm legislation. Copies of the letter were made public at the council's headquarters here.

Congressmen were told that the agitation of professional farm leaders for new legislation does not reflect the general sentiment of the majority of farmers.

"You are urged to break through the curtain of false scenery so deftly arranged and to advise with your free and independent constituents," the letter said. "You will find that both farmers and city men are bitterly opposed to new hasty legislation; you will find that the farmer, despite the 'gentle rain of checks' from the AAA is the eternal enemy of regimentation, price fixing and control of what he may produce. Whether he talks or not, he will go to the polls silently and vote against those fostering or supporting such doctrines."

RAILS ADVANCE, OTHER STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Profit Taking Stops Broader Rise.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 13.—Although railroad stocks moved to new high levels for two years today and were followed by some of the airplane issues, utilities, and motors, final prices on the New York exchange ruled only slightly better due to irregularities in the rest of the list. The close showed nearly as many minus as plus signs.

While the major rails advanced 1 to 2 points, losers included such high grade trading favorites as American Can with a loss of 4 points, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward, Eastman, and American Smelting. Turnover of around 2,920,000 shares was sharply down from Tuesday.

Increased profit taking was seen as the main deterrent to further progress in constructive operations. Traders, however, seemed impressed by the action of the list in resisting realizing sales and the fact that the market as a whole gave no evidence of technical weakness.

Business News Favorable.

Hearty invitations to buying were extended in the early dealings by such confidence inspiring issues as U. S. Steel opening at a new high price above 59, American Telephone also selling at a new high, Western Union, Anaconda, General Electric, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, and others.

An early impasse in the advance brought about by profit taking was broken by a rally in the rails, many of which continued to forge ahead slowly through the remainder of the session. Union Pacific rose more than 2 points, Atchison, New York Central, and Illinois Central advanced a point or so each, and Delaware and Hudson moved up 1⅝ points.

Airplane Issues Spurt.

Airplanes vied with the motors for the limelight in the late dealings, Douglas showing the way up for the flyers with a jump of more than $3 a share. Chrysler, as usual here of late, set the pace for the motors, adding some 2 points to its Tuesday rating.

In the mining division Anaconda and Kennecott set an example for the coppers by moving on to new price peaks. Lethers showed fresh activity on the upside.

Soft spots uncovered showed lower prices for American Snuff, which has rather a thin market at best, and for Wesson Oil. Both sold at new low prices.

In the miscellaneous group, Atlas, Greyhound, Motor Wheel, Paraffine, U. S. Gypsum, and Ruberoid climbed 1 to 3 points. A. O. Smith and Spiegel-May-Stern dropped 2 points or so.

W. CHATFIELD-TAYLOR, CHICAGOAN, IS NAMED TO TREASURY POST

WAYNE CHATFIELD-TAYLOR.
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Wayne Chatfield-Taylor of Chicago today was appointed by President Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of the treasury to succeed L. W. Robert, who will retire from the position Saturday. He is a son of Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, for many years a prominent Chicagoan.

Chatfield-Taylor has been serving as vice president of the Export-Import bank and since the resignation some months ago of George N. Peek as president he has been in charge of this organization.

The Chicagoan first entered the Roosevelt administration in July, 1933, when he was made executive assistant to the administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration. In the spring of 1934 he became assistant to Peek, who then was a special adviser to the President regarding foreign trade.

Chatfield-Taylor was born in Chicago Dec. 19, 1893. He was graduated from Yale in 1916, winning his "Y" on the 1915 football team. When war was declared he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan. He saw service overseas and won renown for the defense of a machine gun company of which he was captain, against the Germans in battle shortly before the end of the war.

On his discharge from the army Chatfield-Taylor became a partner of Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co. and from 1927 to 1931 he was vice president of the reorganized firm of Field, Glore & Co.

Borg-Warner Gear Division Completes Plant Addition

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Faced with an immediate demand for a large production of overdrive transmissions, the Warner gear division of the Borg-Warner corporation today completed a 70,000 square foot addition to its plant here within twenty-eight days after ground for the building had been broken.

SILVER STOCKS RISE TO 21.8% OF GOLD HOLDINGS

Details of Deal with China Disclosed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—Showing a steady increase, treasury silver stocks last Tuesday amounted to 21.8 per cent of holdings of monetary gold, the treasury revealed today. The monetary value of silver stocks on that day was $2,118,600,000, as compared with $10,154,460,467 for gold.

When the silver purchase act was adopted, the silver-gold ratio was 12 per cent. The act calls for a 1 to 3 ratio. Officials estimated that on the basis of current gold stocks about 908,000,000 more ounces of silver will be required to meet the terms of the purchase act, and expressed confidence the treasury will be able to carry out the provisions of the act. Hold are currently 1,842,000,000 ounces.

Details of Trade Disclosed.

Secretary Morgenthau also gave out some details of the recent gold-silver trade between the United States and China. The treasury purchased 50,000,000 ounces of silver from China some months ago. From the United States the Chinese government acquired $10,000,000 in gold as part of the proceeds of the silver sale.

Morgenthau explained that the Chinese deposited the proceeds of the silver sale in New York. Recently China requested the United States to sell it gold as the former wished to maintain a portion of its credit in that metal rather than in dollar exchange. Morgenthau declined to reveal the purchase price of the silver, but it was understood to have been 65 cents an ounce in conformity with an agreement reached last November. That would give the Chinese a credit of $32,500,000 in New York.

Contract Date Not Revealed.

The treasury's contract to purchase silver from China was entered into in November. On Nov. 5 China abandoned the silver standard, creating a situation which led the treasury on Dec. 9 to cease pegging the world price of silver at 65 cents and to allow it to collapse to less than 45 cents.

It was not revealed whether the contract was made prior to or after China's formal suspension of the silver standard. In either case, it is plain that the Chinese Nationalist government is not helpless in the game of high international monetary diplomacy. If the purchase price was 65 cents an ounce, the 20 cent drop in the silver price has given China a "profit" of $10,000,000 which is precisely the sum that she chose to earmark in gold out of the proceeds of her bargain with the treasury.

Secretary Morgenthau was said today to have expressed admiration for the success of the new Chinese managed currency. But the Chinese have always been noted as shrewd traders, with a particular flair for foreign exchange.

RAIL EXECUTIVES OBJECT TO U. S. TERMINAL PLANS

Declare Study Ignores Important Factors.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Leading Chicago railroad officials, asked to comment on the Chicago terminal coördination report recently made by a committee headed by V. V. Boatner, yesterday said that their position has been given in a letter sent Boatner last fall by members of the executive committee of the railroads, who were asked to help prepare the report. The Chicago terminal study was prepared by the Boatner committee under the provisions of the federal transportation act.

In this letter the railroad executives took issue with points which Boatner, who is director of regional coördination for the federal coördinator of transportation, had informed them would be introduced into the study. The report estimated that more than a $10,000,000 annual saving could be made in terminal operating costs by putting its recommendations into effect.

Signed by 4 Leaders.

Members of the railroad committee who signed the letter taking issue with the Boatner report were: W. W. K. Sparrow, vice president of the Milwaukee road; H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania; F. L. Thompson, vice president of the Illinois Central, and T. W. Evans, vice president of the New York Central.

The railroads' letter said the report means the elimination of all rights of labor in the reduction of forces and in working conditions. The rail executives declared that this subject could not be ignored because of the provisions of the Emergency Transportation act of 1933 and existing contracts with railroad labor.

The executives said that the report determines that the roads shall be grouped in major yards and other facilities arranged on the basis of the 1934 volume of business. Answering this they said that the proposed groupings permit no room for expansion, yet the business for October, 1935, was substantially larger than it was in October, 1934, and in their opinion the report should have been based on a volume of business at least 50 per cent larger than in 1934.

View on Property Rights.

Another criticism was that the report eliminated property rights in estimating economies. It made no provision for compensation for properties abandoned or for properties to be used under the terminal coördination plan. The executives contended that the study should have taken into account compensation for the use of property and that consideration should have been given the treatment of bonds secured by the properties.

The report recommended the pooling of less than carload shipments as a means to economy. The executives said that in arriving at a saving of $2,762,581 from this operation, the report made a number of arbitrary assumptions which were not justified.

Other points in the report which the executives criticized were the estimated saving from coördinated industrial yards and industrial shipping, and the statement that there would be no loss of revenue as a result of coördinated operation of terminals.

COURT QUASHES SECTION OF U. S. BANKRUPTCY ACT

Newspaper Reorganization Plan Involved.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld a decision of a lower court which found a subsection of the amended bankruptcy act unconstitutional and rejected an application of the Tennessee Publishing company for reorganization under section 77-B of that act. The decision throws the publishing company back into federal court receivership.

The part of the act which the appeals court found invalid is subsection B-5. The court asserted there was "no occasion for comment" on the general scope and application of the bankruptcy act as a whole and said the invalidity of the subsection left the rest of the act a workable statute.

Court Finds Plan Is Vague.

In its decision, the court admitted that it was not able to understand all phases of the reorganization plan presented. That part of the plan providing for a bond issue as part of the reorganization was termed "wholly incomprehensible."

Subsection B of the act lists three specific means of satisfying creditors who refuse to join in reorganization plans of a bankrupt and provides a fourth means in the following words, "or by such means as the judge may think equitable and fair under the circumstances."

The publishing company seeking to reorganize was controled by Col. Luke Lee until it went into federal receivership in 1933.

The reorganization plan called for a return to the publishing company of all of its property and included provisions for scaling down to 80 per cent of their face value securities held by the bondholders.

RFC Involved in Deal.

Last fall Paul Davis, Nashville banker and brother of President Roosevelt's ambassador at large, Norman H. Davis, acquired control of $250,000 of the company's defaulted bonds from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The RFC had acquired the bonds from the defunct Canal Bank and Trust company in New Orleans. The American National, Davis' bank, also holds an additional block of $750,000 of the bonds of the publishing company.

Because the ownership of the block of bonds held by the RFC represents control of the Nashville Tennessean, the sale to Davis stirred up a storm of criticism. James Hammond, publisher of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, had tried to buy the bonds, but was edged out by Davis.

Publisher Hammond asserted that the means by which the RFC had placed control of the paper in the hands of New Dealers "constituted a threat of Fascism in the control of the American press."

SHIFTING OF U. S. FUNDS CUTS IDLE BANK RESERVES

Recent Exports of Gold Also Are Factor.

The vast store of idle bank funds which has been the increasing concern of federal reserve authorities and bankers throughout the country for months declined 90 million dollars in the week ended last Wednesday, the federal reserve board disclosed last night in its weekly report.

This decline, however, was brought about to a considerable extent by the treasury's arbitrary action in shifting certain deposits from commercial banks to reserve banks, it was shown. Exports of 13 millions of American gold also contributed to the shrinkage. Despite the treasury's manipulation, excess reserves still amounted to three billions, which is estimated to be sufficient for a 30 billion dollar expansion of bank credit when and if these idle funds are put to work.

Reserve Balances Decline.

Total reserve balances of the commercial banks shrank 85 millions to an aggregate of $5,784,000,000. New York member banks accounted for 69 millions and Chicago member banks for 10 millions of the shrinkage.

Treasury cash and deposits carried with the federal reserve banks increased 35 millions. At the same time it was disclosed that government deposits were reduced 17 millions in New York member banks and 6 millions in Chicago member banks.

Other factors listed as tending to reduce reserve balances of member banks were increases of 21 millions in money in circulation and 39 millions in deposits of nonmember banks and other accounts with the reserve banks. The latter item includes the funds of the stabilization account and its rise might reflect activity in support of the dollar, it was thought.

Reserve Bank Credit Rises.

The only changes tending to increase reserves were the 19 million rise in total reserve bank credit to $2,508,000,000 and the 5 million increase in treasury and national bank currency in use.

The export of American gold still left $10,155,000,000 in gold stocks in the United States on Feb. 12. It was the second consecutive week of decrease in the gold supply after an uninterrupted flow of the yellow metal into this country for 16 months.

The member bank reports disclose a 44 million advance in total loans and investments of the New York commercial banks. Half of the expansion resulted from purchase of government securities and the rest from a rise in brokers' loans. Demand deposits rose 22 millions and time deposits declined 5 millions.

Only minor changes were reported by Chicago member banks. Loans and investments rose only 2 millions. Demand deposits were up 3 millions and time deposits were unchanged.

JUDGE ORDERS PROBE OF TAX RECEIVERSHIP

Excessive Fees, Delays Basis of Complaint.

An investigation of charges of excessive fees and delay in the tax receivership of the Park Castles apartments, a sixty-one flat building at 2416-58 Greenleaf avenue, was ordered by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday.

Attorney Maurice G. Shanberg, representing the building corporation, filed a petition charging that when Joseph B. McDonough, former county treasurer, was appointed tax receiver on July 23, 1933, the fees allowed the real estate firm of Wirtz, Haynie & Ehrat, Inc., for managing the property jumped to $3,103 for the first eleven months of the receivership.

Firm Takes Commissions.

Before the receivership, Shanberg told the court, the same firm had managed the property at a flat rate of $135 a month. Afterward, he charged, the firm received no flat rate, but took 7 per cent commission on makin new leases and 5 per cent for collecting rents.

Attorney J. Arthur Friedlund, representing the realty firm, admitted to the court that his clients were receiving $135 a month as agents, prior to the receivership, but said that it also collected the full percentage allowed by the real estate board for leasing. The total fee was only 6.3 per cent of the collections, he declared.

Receivership "Perpetuated."

The most serious charge, however, Shanberg said, was that the county treasurer "perpetuated" the receivership unduly by returning four check collections totaling $7,065 on Sept. 27, 1934, instead of applying them on taxes.

According to the petition, $2,199 is now in the hands of the former agent while the county treasurer has filed a new suit asking that a tax receiver be appointed because $1,600 is owing on taxes.

"There are serious charges involved here and I want a full investigation," said Judge Jarecki. "During 1934 I only appointed 800 receivers out of 20,000 petitions filed because I was reluctant to incur the heavy expenses involved when owners would coöperate.

Must Apply Funds on Tax.

"I will tell you now that if the records show there was sufficient money on hand at any time under the receivership to pay the taxes, I will stop the penalties that have accrued. The county treasurer must apply funds collected immediately."

Attorney for both sides told Assistant State's Attorney Hayden N. Bell that they were willing to submit their evidence to him, and Judge Jarecki continued the case until Feb. 27.

GRAIN DEALERS OPPOSE BILL TO RULE EXCHANGES

The commodity exchange control bill now pending in congress was condemned in a resolution passed at the closing session of the Farmers' Grain Dealers Association of Illinois at the La Salle hotel yesterday. The grain dealers also recommended the transfer of soy bean inspection from the hay and seed division of the department of agriculture to the grain standards division.

Officers elected yesterday were L. E. Riley, Pleasant Plains, president; Charles Holz, Buckley, and E. H. Dannewitz, Somanauk, vice presidents; Charles Fairfield, Fisher, treasurer, and Lawrence Farlow, Bloomington, secretary.

Larger Profits Reported by Iron Fireman Company

The Iron Fireman Manufacturing company reported yesterday net profit for 1935 amounted to $604,646 as compared with $521,707 for 1934. This with a $27,500 profit on the sale of treasury stock, was equivalent to $2.10, a share on 300,000 shares outstanding, compared with $1.76 per share on 296,187 shares outstanding at the end of 1934.

MOULTON WARNS OLD RECOVERY PLANS MAY UPSET PRESENT GAINS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A warning that adoption now of recovery plans made during the darkest days of the depression may upset economic improvement was given today by Harold G. Moulton, director of the Brookings institution.

While he refused to discuss specifically the Townsend plan for old age pensions, Dr. Moulton asserted that all such plans which call for "drastic" changes in the economic system imperil what appears to be a start on the road to recovery.

"During every depression, we have had a number of programs for alleviating the situation," he said. "In other depressions, they generally dealt with currency changes. In this one, however, many of them dealt with increasing consuming power. Many plans now advanced would upset our entire economy at the wrong moment."

He asserted that many plans now advocated might have been helpful during the worst days of the depression but that the time for them apparently has passed.

BANK CLEARINGS FOR WEEK GAIN 2.2% OVER 1935

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Bank clearings for the twenty-two leading cities in the United States for the five days ended Feb. 11 increased 2.2 per cent over the like 1935 week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The total was $4,345,145,000, against $4,253,511,000 in the week a year ago. For the full previous week the gain over last year was 20.5 per cent.

At New York City clearings amounted to $2,859,535,000, or 2.4 per cent under the total in the like 1935 week. The aggregate for centers outside New York was $1,485,610,000, or 11.5 per cent above last year. Chicago clearings showed a gain of 11.7 per cent over the like 1935 week. The total was $213,500,000.

Clearings for the last week were below those of the preceding week by $1,567,183,000. This compared with a decline of $651,497,000 between the two corresponding weeks of 1935.

CONGRESS HOTEL FILES NEW PLAN TO REORGANIZE

A new plan to reorganize the Congress Hotel company under section 77B of the bankruptcy act was filed with Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday by Paul M. Godehn, attorney for the company.

The plan provides for a new first mortgage to secure a $900,000 loan by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the proceeds of which will be used to pay back taxes and other indebtedness, and approximately $500,000 of five year notes for unsecured creditors. The plan provides for the management of the hotel by the National Hotel Management corporation for five years, subject to cancelation by the RFC if the hotel should default on its mortgage.

The plan was referred to Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald for hearings and a report to the court by March 16.

Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Earnings Rise

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company and subsidiaries, including the Brown Instrument company, reported net profit for 1935 of $1,793,339, equal, after preferred dividends, to $8 a share on 207,300 shares of common stock outstanding at the close of the year. This compares with net profit for 1934, exclusive of the Brown Instrument company, of $1,007,785, or $4.69 a share, on 197,474 common shares. Net income of Brown Instrument, acquired by Minneapolis-Honeywell on Dec. 31, 1934, was $110,096 for 1934.

New York, Feb. 13.—Demand for second grade rail issues again featured trading in bonds on the New York Stock exchange today. Many issues in this class were carried through their old highs, accompanied by a few utility and industrial issues.

There was an exceptionally quiet market for government bonds. With the exception of the smallest fractional declines in a few treasury issues, the trend was upward in the government list. Federal Farm Mortgage 2¾s were bid up 6-32 to 100.28, and the 3s advanced 5-32 to 102.11. Other guaranteed obligations did almost as well.

Several Issues Prominent.

Most of the prominent gains were made by issues that have figured as favorites throughout the recovery of the last two years.

They included Alleghany 5s of 1945, Bush Terminal consolidated 5s, Boston and Maine 5s of 1967, American and Foreign Power 5s, Colorado and Southern 4½s, Erie refunding 5s, Lehigh Valley general mortgage bonds of three series, Hoe & Co. bonds, Illinois Central 4½s and 5s of 1963, Nickel Plate 5½s, Northern Pacific 6s, Baltimore and Ohio 6s, Susquehanna general 5s, New England railroad 4s, "Katy" adjustments, and several Southern railway obligations.

Other Liens Join Movement.

Other issues heretofore not so prominent to join in the movement today were New York Trap Rock 6s, By-Product Coke 5½s, Port Arthur 6s, Lorillard 7s, Universal Pipe and Radiator 6s, Laclede Gas 5½s, and North American Edison 5½s.

Bangor and Aroostook Railroad.

Investors' Guide: I wonder if you could give me some information on Bangor and Aroostook common?—S. B. J.

Answer: Bangor and Aroostook Railroad company [the "potato road"] operates about 600 miles of road in the north and east sections of Maine. About 40 per cent of traffic is transportation of potatoes. Price and volume of potatoes produced are major factors in any single year's earnings, not only because they govern outward freight revenues but also because they affect the district's purchasing power and govern volume of inward freight. Soft coal, pulpwood, fertilizer and newsprint are other important products carried.

Right of way and equipment have been maintained in excellent condition. This has enabled the company to hold operating costs to a minimum. Capitalization is well balanced with only about 61 per cent in bonds.

The company was operated at a profit in every one of the last twelve years. In 1935 net income equaled $4.44 per common share.

Operating revenues in 1934 were $6,168,000, against $5,806,000 in 1933. Wage boosts and higher operating expenses, however, cut net income in 1934 to $4.96 per common share, against $5.29 in 1933. In 1932 the road earned $3.23 per common share, against $2.68 in 1931, $9.26 in 1930 and $3.46 in 1929.

Current position on Nov. 30, 1935, was satisfactory. Current assets were $1,972,000, and current liabilities were $670,000.

The common stock has paid dividends every year since 1904. The current rate is 62 cents a quarter. The preferred is rather high grade. The common deserves a fairly good rating.

C., I. & W. R. R.

Investors' Guide: Please give me some information on Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western 5s, due 1965.—Mrs. S. D.

Answer: Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western Railroad company's lines extend from Hamilton, O., through Indianapolis to Springfield, Ill., a distance of 281 miles. The bulk of its stock is owned by Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company. The B. & O. has leased the company's properties under an agreement whereby it pays operating expenses, taxes and interest on obligations. This contract is terminable on sixty days' notice by either the lessee or lessor.

The bonds are outstanding at a comparatively low rate per mile. They are secured by a first mortgage on a section of road that has proved profitable to the B. & O. in normal times, but they are not specifically guaranteed by Baltimore and Ohio.

BANK GROUP BIDS PREMIUM FOR UTILITY ISSUE

New York, Feb. 13.—[Special.]—A banking group headed by Lehman Brothers submitted the highest bid today for a new issue of $20,300,000 of Connecticut River Power company first mortgage 3¾ per cent sinking fund bonds, series A, due Feb. 15, 1961, offering 103.279. The issue is subject to the approval of the public service commission of New Hampshire, and formal award of the bonds is expected to be made by the company today. Public offering is expected soon.

Stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad will be asked at the annual meeting on April 14 to ratify an increase of $75,000,000 in the company's funded debt, which now stands at $685,052,000. The company announced that "this does not mean that the debt is to be issued immediately or that the net debt of the company is to be increased by the amount specified."

The Gotham Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., announced plans for refunding of $2,141,500 of outstanding 6 per cent sinking fund gold debentures due Dec. 1, 1936. The company will ask stockholders to approve the issuance of a like amount of ten year 5 per cent sinking fund debentures with stock purchase warants.

Continental, First National Bank Stocks Rise Sharply

Sharp gains occurred in Continental Illinois and First National bank stocks yesterday. Continental rose 7 points to 146½ bid, 148½ asked, and First National 6 points to 268 bid, 272 asked. City National improved 1 point to 99 bid, 102 asked. Terminal National increased ½ point in the bid price to 24½, but sellers continued to ask 26.

A. E. Staley Manufacturing to Sell 4 Millions of Bonds

New York, Feb. 13.—(AP)—A. E. Staley Manufacturing company, makers of corn products at Decatur, Ill., will offer tomorrow a new issue of $4,000,000 first mortgage 4 per cent bonds due in 1946. The bonds will be priced at 101.

COTTON RISES IN CHICAGO; OTHER MARKETS SPOTTY

Trade in cotton continues restricted, owing to uncertainty created by developments at Washington, but the undertone yesterday was firmer. There was buying by spot houses, but the March delivery acted heavy while the new crop months were strong. Closing trades in Chicago were 1 to 12 points higher and other markets were 4 points lower to 10 points higher as compared with Tuesday. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.]

Spot cotton closed 10 points lower to 15 points higher with New Orleans at 11.50 cents, Houston 11.25 cents, Galveston 11.30 cents, and New York 11.70 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

COMMISSION HOUSE BUYING LIFTS LARD 2½ TO 5 CENTS

Lard futures made a poor response to the strength in the hog and grain market yesterday and prices held within narrow limits. An early upturn, on scattered commission house buying, was followed by a recession with hedging sales a factor. Short covering checked the decline and the finish was 2½ to 5 cents higher. Demand for cash lard was again reported as slow. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged.

Cash lard closed at $10.97, loose, $10.45; leaf, $10.50, and clear bellies, $14.62 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

PRODUCE MARKETS

Supplies of fresh eggs are becoming increasingly scarce due to continued snow over the central west, and a scramble on the part of buyers yesterday sent prices up 1½@3¾c per doz. Receipts for two days were 10,937 cases. Butter was also in good demand and prices advanced ½@¾c per lb to a new high for the season. Receipts were 11,974 tubs. Live hens were unchanged to 1c higher and ducks unchanged to ½c per lb higher. Receipts were 3 cars and 7 trucks. Potatoes were in light supply and good demand. The market showed a stronger undertone. Receipts were 53 cars with 115 cars on team track.

SHORT COVERING BOOSTS BUTTER AND EGG PRICES

A stampede by shorts yesterday to cover previous sales of butter and egg futures boosted prices to a new high for the season on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Despite heavy profit taking, the close on butter was ⅝ to ⅞ cent higher, with February at 33⅞ cents per pound. Egg futures were advanced ¼ to 1¾ cents, the latter on February which closed at 25 cents per dozen.

Belated recognition of the drop in production caused by the continued cold weather and heavy snow was responsible for the wave of buying. Sales of butter were 208 cars and eggs 89 cars. Prices:

Said bonds should be presented, on or after April 1, 1936, for payment and redemption at any of the places at which the same are expressed to be payable (namely at the office of The First National Bank of Chicago, in Chicago, Illinois, or at the principal office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York), accompanied by all coupons maturing after April 1, 1936. Said bonds will be redeemed at 102½% of their principal amount plus accrued interest to April 1, 1936, which accrued interest will be paid as hereinafter set forth. If coupons maturing on April 1, 1936 accompany said bonds, such coupons will be paid at the time of payment and redemption of said bonds, and if such coupons shall not accompany said bonds, such coupons will be paid to the bearer thereof upon presentation for payment on or after April 1, 1936.

Dated at Chicago, Illinois, January 31, 1936.

INLAND STEEL COMPANY
By P. D. BLOCK,
President.

SUPPLY OF PORK SETS LOW MARK FOR FEBRUARY

Stocks of Beef and Lamb Also Decrease.

Stocks of pork held in cold storage houses on Feb. 1 were lowest on record for that date, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. Packers had 435,560,000 pounds in store, much of which has moved out in the last ten days of curtailed live stock receipts, as compared with 667,984,000 pounds on Feb. 1 last year and a five-year average of 674,777,000 pounds.

Packers have been unable to build up reserve pork stocks to a normal total because of the almost record low hog slaughter during the last year or more, due to the drouth and AAA curtailment programs.

Decrease Is Smaller.

Beef and lamb in store showed a small decrease in the last month. Meat stocks in pounds on Feb. 1 for several years were [last 3 ciphers omitted]:

	Beef.	Pork.	Lamb.	Lard.
1936	104,331	435,560	2,821	75,771
1935	127,097	667,984	3,812	112,487
1934	72,948	730,404	4,183	163,756
1933	80,550	875,084	2,029	52,844
1932	51,285	674,131	1,947	78,430
1931	72,398	726,264	4,081	62,624
1930	99,020	687,106	4,667	92,271
1929	93,990	838,280	4,669	140,526

The supply of frozen poultry was 104,024,000 pounds, compared with 107,369,000 pounds on Jan. 1, 112,283,000 pounds a year ago, and a five year average of 112,032,000.

MORE HOGS BUT PRICES RISE

The largest hog receipts in two weeks, 18,000 head, reached the Chicago stock yards yesterday, but instead of breaking the market the larger volume of receipts stimulated demand to such extent that prices rose 10 to 40 cents, with lightest weights that slumped most on Wednesday showing the sharpest comeback. The top soared to $11 and the average reached $10.75.

Packing houses that have been practically idle since the storm curtailed the movement of live stock, sent buyers into the trade yesterday for as many hogs as they could get. With receipts at most of the outside points reduced again by new snow storms and icy roads, local buyers ran into competition from buying orders from eastern packing plants that poured into Chicago all day.

Pork Prices Retain Advance.

Wholesale markets were again acutely short of fresh cuts of pork and prices at all leading cities retained the sharp advances scored in the last few days.

Because pork is at a level which may invite consumer resentment with the first substantial increase in the supply, packers are getting a quick turnover on everything they buy on the current "storm markets." Hogs bought yesterday were slaughtered immediately for a 24 hour chill and will be converted into fresh cuts that will be ready for sale this afternoon.

Gains in slaughter lambs ranged upwards to 25 cents in top classes, the top to packers being $10.85. The bulk of good grades sold at $10.25 to $10.60, with shippers buying at $10.65.

Cows and heifers showed most action in the cattle trade, in places indicating gains of 15 to 25 cents. Heavy steers, as well as common classes, were firm, while medium grades of light steers sold barely steady. A limited number of calves sold steady early, but the close was $1 to $1.50 lower. Top steers reached $11, with the bulk of the runs at $7.65 to $9.75.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Morning Male

I WAITED OUT HERE FOR YOU, FANNY! I HATE TO WALK THRU THE CORRIDORS ALONE, WITH NOTHING BUT MEN ALL AROUND STARING AT ME!!
OH, PISH-TUSH, WINNIE—I JES' LOVE TO HAVE 'EM LOOK AT ME! C'MON IN!!
FEB. 14
WELL, YOU KNOW WHAT MR. CUTTING SAID—HOW HARD IT WAS TO GET PERMISSION FOR US TO WORK HERE!!
YEAH! TH' BIG CHEESE HERE ONLY HIRES MEN AN' WE MUST TRY NOT TO BE FEMININE!! WHAT A LAUGH!
DON'T FORGET, FANNY—WE'VE GOT TO WORK LIKE MEN—
AH-GOOD MORNING, GIRLS!
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1936, by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.
GOOD MORNING, MR. CUTTING! DO WE LOOK MANNISH ENOUGH?
SAY, I DON'T MIND ACTIN' AN' WORKIN' LIKE A MAN, BUT I DRAW TH' LINE ON WEARIN' PANTS!

When Did You Graduate?

Possibly a year ago—maybe two years. Perhaps you have found the field in which you are at present best adapted does not offer opportunities for a larger income or steady employment. The Beauty profession offers untold possibilities. Well trained beauticians are in great demand everywhere. Marinello graduates rapidly step into these better positions, replacing less capable and mistrained operators. Thousands of better beauty shops throughout the country demand their personnel to be 100% Marinello graduates.

NOW! Marinello Offers

Easy pay-as-you-learn plan. Complete instruments, textbooks, uniforms, and all cosmetics furnished without charge if you enroll for day or evening classes now forming!

THREE DEAD, MANY HURT AS EXPLOSION WRECKS PLANT IN STOCKYARDS; WIDE AREA SHAKEN—Two views of the ruins at the Swift & Co. hydrogen extraction plant at 4145 South Ashland avenue after explosion yesterday afternoon which practically demolished the four story structure and broke windows over a wide area. Officials were seeking to determine the cause of the explosion and some blamed the blast on a spark which ignited the explosive hydrogen. Many of the injured were taken to hospitals, where the condition of some was said to be critical. (Story on page 1.)
